TEUTONS CLEAR WAY TO RUSH ON BUCHAREST

Mackensen's Forces Capture Port of Constanza by 12-Mile Advance; Cut Main Railway Line Into the Interior of Roumania.

Crushing Blow Inflicted on Entire Dobrudja Front; Falkenhayn Advances in Transylvanian Alps; Petrograd Admits Loss to Russ.

War Summary

BALKAN FRONT—Mackensen's invaders capture Roumanian seaport and base of Constanza; cut main railway to interior of Roumania, opening way to drive on Bucharest. Falkenhayn wins in north. Serb drive on Monastir checked.

WESTERN FRONT—French capture hill and British take 1,000 yards of trenches in drive on Bapaume.

EASTERN FRONT—Berlin claims Russ are cleared from west bank of Narayuka River.

ITALIAN FRONT—Artillery duels are chief action for the day.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The City of Constanza, on the Black Sea, Roumania's greatest port and principal point of entry for military supplies and Russian reinforcements, to-night is in the hands of the armies of the central powers.

The city fell after a three-day drive by the Teuton-Bulgarian armies of Field Marshal von Mackensen. Despite torrential rains which converted the ground into a vast morass, the Austro-Germans, Bulgarians and Turks in the army of invasion in Dobrudja, advanced twelve miles in forty-eight hours, driving the Russo-Roumanian defenders before them in disorganized retreat.

DRIVE ON BUCHAREST.

The advance was made on a front of forty miles from the Black Sea to the Danube. Besides capturing Constanza, Mackensen's troops have cut the trunk line railway from that city to Cernavoda, on the Danube. They are firmly established astride the railway at Murfatlar, thirteen miles west of Constanza, while their left wing is rapidly approaching Cernavoda itself, preparatory, apparently, to an attempt to cross the river on a wide front and strike at Bucharest from the south.

In their advance on Constanza Mackensen's artillery battered into ruins the three stone and earthwork ramparts which comprise the historic Trajan's wall, and which have stood as a dam to the tide of invasion for more than 1,500 years. The famous wall stood in a shallow arc from a point below Constanza to Cernavoda, and was constructed by legionaries under Trajan, the general of the Roman Emperor Valens, in A. D. 377, to check incursions by the Visigoths.

WAR STORES SEIZED.

At points it was as much as nineteen feet high, solidly built of earth and rock, and as late as 1854 had served to hold in check an invasion of Roumania by the Russians.

Mackensen's stroke not only cuts off the main source of Roumanian military supplies, but has resulted, according to to-night's advices, in the seizure of tremendous stores which had been piled up in Constanza and which the Roumanians, in their hurried retreat, were unable to carry off or destroy.

It also opens the road for an invasion of old Roumania from the Dan-

Allies Unready to Talk of Peace, Declares Grey

British Foreign Minister Approves American Plan for Peace League.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Viscount Grey, British foreign minister, at a luncheon of the Foreign Press Association to-day declared the allies are not ready even to discuss terms of peace. The statement was made in the presence of diplomatic representatives of all the entente nations.

One of the most striking points of the foreign minister's address was an invitation to neutrals to assist in establishing a court of arbitration after the war for the purpose of preventing a re-enactment of the present European tragedy. The only way the mandates of such a court could be made effective, he declared, was by force, and it would be necessary for the nations entering such an agreement to be prepeared to fight any country which would seek to break its pledges.

The speaker declared that Germany was putting forth every effort to force certain entente nations into a separate peace, but that England was determined "to go through with our allies," and that "for the future we shall stand or fall together."

He praised the proposal, "in which I understand not only President Wilson, but Mr. Hughes, is interested," of forming a league to prevent a recurrence of the European war. One of the first duties of such an organization, he declared, would be to establish rules of warfare to prevent the use of such instruments as poison gas.

Chicagoan's $1,000,000 Film Scheme Fails

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 23.—Franc R. E. Woodward of Chicago was arrested here to-day, and instantly a million-dollar corporation, the "Dominion Films, Ltd.," fell to pieces. Woodward has been connected with several amusement enterprises in Chicago.

Woodward engaged a room at a leading hotel and advertised for "clever amateurs" to star in his great films, to add to the fame of Kipling and others. When pretty girls began to crowd his rooms detectives set a watch and found he was signing contracts with all, and taking "deposits."

The police forced him to refund all the "deposits," and permitted him to leave town.

300 MEN OF 1ST CAVALRY QUIT CAMP

Secretary Baker's Order Opening Barracks to Occupancy Fails to Satisfy the Guardsmen.

Courtmartial Called for To-Day to Try 66 Artillerymen Who Took 'French Leave' From Fort.

Even the visit of a Secretary of War failed to stem the epidemic of Chicagoitis at Fort Sheridan yesterday. No sooner had the notes of retreat floated over the chilly bosom of Lake Michigan last night, than the newly arrived First Cavalry succumbed.

First singly, then in pairs, then in squads and finally in whole platoons they vanished from the steam-heated government barracks, into which they had marched so triumphantly in the morning.

It was a regular homeseekers' excursion business that the Chicago-bound electric and steam trains handled.

When taps sounded, 300 members of the regiment had taken French leave, it was estimated. Earlier in the day Colonel Milton J. Foreman had issued orders that no furloughs or even over-night leaves of absence be granted.

BAKER AIDS GUARDSMEN.

Asked what he would do if the absentees were not in camp by reveille this morning the colonel said:

"That is a question you are asking of a soldier and I know nothing but the regulations."

Secretary of War Baker followed out to the letter yesterday his statement made to the Examiner Sunday night when, on being informed by it of the camp conditions and militia situation at Fort Sheridan, he announced he would do all in his power for the artillerymen and the cavalrymen.

Accompanied by Major General Thomas Barry, he made a flying auto trip to the reservation yesterday afternoon and issued orders for the unoccupied government barracks to be opened for the militia troopers. Just before Mr. Baker's arrival the sixty-six artillerymen of Battery D who had given concrete expression to the discontent felt by the men over the "barracks" situation by walking out of camp, were arrested and taken to the guardhouse.

ALL TO STAND TRIAL.

A summary court-martial has been ordered for to-day. At first all but three of the men said they would take "captain's punishment," which consists merely of performing the menial tasks of the camp. Later, however, they determined to make an issue of the situation, and all declared their intention of standing trial by court-martial.

The artillerymen were still occupying their tents last night. Although technically they are in the barracks, actually they have not been able to find the quarters they are to occupy under Mr. Baker's order. The usual number of artillerymen "commuted" to Chicago.

Rush of Wilson Money Shrinks Odds to 10 to 9

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The betting odds against Wilson shortened to-day to 10 to 9, and one bet of $1,000 was made at even money. It was the most active day in election wagers the curb has witnessed in this campaign. At its close the prediction was made that before election day the odds would be in Wilson's favor.

Business opened in the morning with 10 to 8 still being offered on Hughes. A great rush of Wilson money soon forced the short end of the betting up to 9. Something like $75,000 was wagered at the new figure. Edward McQuade placed one Wilson bet of $9,000 against $10,000. Most of the President's backers were from the West.

That Wilson would carry New York state by 30,000 was made the basis of a bet of $1,000 against $3,000, while $1,000 was laid against $2,500 that Hughes would carry the state by 75,000.

GANGSTER, 15, SHOOTS 2 IN BOYS' FEUD

Martin Corso, 9, May Die, and Another Member of "Dukie" Cohorts Wounded in Leg.

Martin Corso was born nine years ago. As soon as he was big enough to go out in the alley and talk with the other boys he learned that he was a "dukie" and that there was a blood feud between the "dukies" and the "Shields avenue gang." And yesterday the nine-year-old "dukie" was shot by a fifteen-year-old "Shieldsy," Frank Young. The "dukie" is reported to be dying. Another "dukie," David Downs, was shot through the leg.

A "Main 13" alarm came to the police.

"There's a shooting," the voice said, "at Twenty-fifth street and the Pennsylvania tracks."

POLICEMEN ARE CAUTIOUS.

Five policemen, with guns drawn, approached the district carefully, for there have been many shootings there, and some of the "best guns" of the South Side have participated in such functions.

Detectives Coffey and Desmond, from Twenty-second street, led the way, followed by Patrolmen McAilay, Collins and Finnegan. They ran along the railroad embankment to Twenty-fifth street.

West of the tracks there is a vacant block. There the police saw a crowd of fathers and mothers trying to approach something that lay on the ground.

FIND BOY WOUNDED.

"Whose is it?" every one asked. And "it" meant a wounded boy. It was Martin Corso. They took him to the People's Hospital. David Downs already had been taken home.

"The Young boy did it," said somebody in the crowd. And the police sought Frank Young. They found him at his father's home, 302 West Twenty-sixth street.

"It wasn't my fault—the Dukies started something," the young gangster said. "When I went to a bakery in their street they tried to beat me up and take my nickel away. There was a big bunch of 'em. So I went home and got pa's .22 rifle and three bullets.

"I didn't mean to hurt anybody bad. I thought I'd just shoot at the railroad bank and scare those Dukies. I guess the gun didn't shoot right."

The Young boy was locked up to await the result of the Corso boy's wound.

15 MORE TRUE BILLS PROMISED BY HOYNE

Mayor Announces He Will Retain Police Head and Secretary; Sportsmen's Club's Official Will Give $10,000 Bond Today

State's Attorney Insists on Having Case Before Olson Dismissed; Judge Is Inclined to Refuse, but Will Decide To-Day.

CHIEF OF POLICE CHARLES C. HEALEY was indicted yesterday for malfeasance in office and conspiracy. He was named in two true bills returned by the October grand jury before Judge Joseph H. Fitch in the Criminal Court.

William Luthardt, the chief's secretary, and Charles T. Essig, secretary of the Sportsmen's Club of America, also were indicted for conspiracy in the same true bills which named Chief Healey on that charge.

With the return of the indictments came the State's Attorney's announcement that the true bills were only forerunners of more sweeping action in the grand jury. He mentioned fifteen more indictments for graft, to hit at least two police captains.

Mayor Thompson denounced the indictments as political documents and promptly announced his plans to disregard them by retaining both the chief and his secretary in office pending their trials. He protested his faith in both of the accused officials.

Chief Gives $20,000 Bond; Secretary One for $10,000.

Both laid immediate plans to surrender and furnish bonds under the indictments. The chief, named in two indictments and charged with malfeasance and conspiracy, furnished $20,000 bonds. His secretary, named in the conspiracy bill, gave $10,000 bonds.

By special arrangement Judge Brothers of the Criminal Court waited in his courtroom to approve their bonds. At 8:40 last night the accused police officials appeared before him with attorneys and bondsmen. The formal surrender and all took only a minute or two.

Chief Healey's bonds were signed by Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements; Albert Mohr, 7307 South Shore avenue, boiler manufacturer, and Albert C. Clark, 7137 Euclid avenue, former state senator. Luthardt's bonds were signed by Faherty, Mohr and W. W. DeWeese, 4430 Drexel boulevard.

Henry M. Seligman, attorney for the accused secretary of the Sportsmen's Club, telephoned State's Attorney Hoyne that he would surrender his client and furnish the $10,000 bonds set for him early this morning. Hoyne already had halted hasty actions on the capiases issued on the indictments.

Hoyne Tries to End Hearing Before Olson.

Armed with the indictments, Mr. Hoyne went before Municipal Judge Olson late in the afternoon and announced his determination to withdraw the application for warrants for the arrest of Chief Healey. His action precipitated a near riot.

Thirty minutes of warm words between the prosecutor, the judge and

ORGIES IN JOLIET PRISON CHARGED BY F. E. STERLING

Sensational charges were made against the management of the Illinois state penitentiary last night by Fred E. Sterling, chairman of the Republican state central committee, at a great mass meeting in Joliet, at which the Republican state candidates were present.

"Every Saturday night," he said, "fifteen gallons of whisky are taken from a Joliet saloon and buried in the stone quarry, where money for the whisky also has been buried."

He charged that Warden Zimmer and his assistants were cognizant of conditions, and that guards collected money from the prisoners and then distributed the whisky to them.

"It is a regular every-Saturday-night occurrence," he said.

Members of the "bankers' colony" in Joliet—prisoners who have money and the inclination to spend it—are taken to Lockport in an automobile by guards every Saturday night, he continued. "They visit disorderly houses and dives there; stay there Saturday night, all day Sunday and return Sunday night."

Mr. Sterling did not mention any particular instances, but asserted that if Warden Zimmer or any of the authorities deny the charges he will confront them with witnesses and affidavits to-morrow to corroborate every word of accusation.

He also charged that furniture manufactured by prison labor was sold to a Chicago company about a year ago for less than the same pieces of furniture would have sold in the open market. Later the company was declared bankrupt, while they still owed the state a large sum.

He further charged that receipts from the furniture shops in the penitentiary, received from the sale of furniture, have been utilized in paying up that deficit.

2 WOMEN SAVED IN TRAGEDY AT BRIDGE

Hugh J. Warner, Blinded by Rain, Drives Car Through Open Draw at Twelfth Street, Unguarded by Police or Chain Barrier.

Girl Cousins Are Victims; Party Returning From Settlement House Work; Girl Survivor Tells Horror of Experience.

TWO men and two women were drowned last night when a big touring car, bearing a party of settlement workers homeward from a mission of charity, plunged through the open draw of the Twelfth street bridge into the Chicago River. Two women were rescued from the river.

The drowned:

KLAUSNER, MISS LILLIAN, 4458 Prairie avenue, social worker at Hull House and at the Maxwell Settlement. Daughter of Samuel Klausner.

KLAUSNER, MISS JENNIE, 5433 Greenwood avenue, cousin of Miss Klausner and fiancee of Sylvan Kusel, student at University of Chicago, and teacher in the Jewish normal training school adjoining the Maxwell Settlement. She was the daughter of Sol Klausner, wealthy realty dealer.

KUSEL, SYLVAN, 5740 Greenwood avenue, only son of I. J. Kusel, president of the Stronghart Tool Company, junior in University of Chicago and teacher of English to the foreign class at the Maxwell Settlement.

WARNER, HUGO J., 4440 Drexel avenue, advertising manager and member of the board of directors of Lord & Thomas and master of the Boy Scouts of Maxwell Settlement.

The rescued:

BERNSTEIN, MISS SARAH, 5649 Indiana avenue, substitute teacher Herzl public school and worker at the Maxwell Settlement.

WARNER, MRS. HUGO J., an earnest worker in the West Side settlements.

Warning Signal Out of Order, Charge.

The claim was made last night that a fuse controlling the warning red lights at the west end of the bridge had blown out and that the danger signal was not burning and the bells not ringing when the auto approached.

On the other hand, Bridge Tender Matthew McKinley stated that both lights and bells were in working order, but that when the auto took its plunge over the abutment it struck the steel plank which connects the stop signal and burned out the fuse.

have been the immediate occasion of the tragedy, preventing Warner from seeing the open bridge.

Mrs. Warner sat on the front seat beside her husband. Young Kusel and Miss Jennie Klausner, who were engaged to be married, sat together, and Miss Bernstein and Miss Lillian Klausner. The police remarked on the strange freak of fate by which two women, one of whom was in the back seat, should be saved, while both the men, one of whom was on the front seat, were lost.

Bridge Unguarded by Police or Chain.

Warner was running at a moderate speed eastward in Twelfth street when he came to the bridge. It is the old-fashioned, swinging type and was opened to permit the tug Richard Fitzgerald, pulling a derrick, to pass north.

Because traffic is light in Twelfth street the city does not keep a policeman stationed at the west end of the bridge after 6 o'clock, and there was no chain across the roadway. Warner drove straight off the abutment, and the heavy car, with its living freight, leaped into eighteen feet of water and sank.

Two Women Struggle Free From the Auto.

The only eye-witness to the plunge so far found by the police is William Clark of 5412 Calumet avenue. He happened to be crossing the bridge when it swung open, and he was standing near the center of it when he saw the auto coming. He watched it, expecting that it would stop at the brink, but to his horror it never slackened speed, but leaped straight over into the water.

In some unexplained manner Mrs. Warner and Miss Bernstein struggled or were thrown out as the car struck the water. They began to scream for help, and the crew of the tug Walter Cahill, which was lying beside the bridge waiting for a tow, dragged them aboard the tug. They were taken at once to the County Hospital.

Matthew McKinley, the bridgetender, was at his station in the center of the bridge, but he was watching the passing tug with her tow and preparing to close the bridge the moment she was clear, and did not see the accident.

Policeman John A. Gavin of the South Clark street station, whose post is at the east end of the bridge, had his back to the river and was holding back traffic from the east, and did not see it.

Both heard the splash and heard the screams of the women and the shouts of the deck hands of the tug, and ran to the rescue as soon as the bridge could be closed.

POLICE DRAG RIVER.

As soon as it was learned from the two rescued women that there were others in the auto, Captain James M. Dempsey with the police harbor patrol No. 2 took his boat to the scene and began trying to recover the bodies.

Watchers for some distance south patrolled the river, but none of the bodies was seen, and it is the opinion of Captain Dempsey that all four are imprisoned in the curtained car at the bottom of the river.

At one time Captain Dempsey had his grappling hooks on the auto, but it was a big, heavy car and his boat could not bring it to the surface. A city diver probably will be sent down this morning to place chains around the car, when it will be lifted from the river bed.

"I had opened the bridge for the tug to take the derrick through," said Bridge Tender McKinley. "The red lights were turned on at both ends of the bridge and the electric warning bells were going at both places.

HEARS SCREAM FROM AUTO.

"I was watching the tug and waiting for a chance to close the bridge and was not looking toward the west bank at all. But I heard the machine hit the water and I heard somebody screaming. When I looked the end of the machine was just going under the water."

When the magnitude of the tragedy was realized, and the police were convinced that four bodies were still imprisoned in the sunken car, Andrew Marston, assistant harbor master, went to the scene and took personal charge of the effort to recover the dead.

Everybody was so busy caring for the two who had been rescued and trying to recover the bodies of those drowned, that the relatives of the victims were not notified by the officials. The first intimation the bereaved families had of the accident was when the Examiner informed them.

In a short time the relatives and friends began to gather on the river bank to watch for the recovery of the bodies. Word quickly spread over the West Side, where all were greatly beloved, and a great crowd made its way to the scene.

PROMINENT IN SOCIETY.

All six in the party were unusually prominent in social and business lines. Mr. Warner was advertising manager, and a member of the board of directors of the advertising firm of Lord & Thomas in the Mallers Building.

Miss Lillian Klausner is one of the best known settlement workers among the West Side poor, and did much work at Hull House.

Miss Jennie Klausner, in addition to her charitable work, was a teacher in the Jewish Normal Training School adjoining the settlement.

Miss Bernstein is a substitute teacher in the Hertz Public School and is also prominent in social settlement work.

Sylvan Kusel was only twenty years old, the only son of his parents. He was a junior in the University of Chicago law school and teacher of English in the foreign class at the Maxwell Settlement House.

WOMAN TELLS OF TRAGEDY.

Neither Mrs. Warner nor Miss Bernstein, the only survivors, who were taken to the County Hospital, received serious injuries. Mrs. Warner was hysterical, but Miss Bernstein described her sensations in detail.

"We were all at the Maxwell settlement," she said, "where I have a dancing class. Mr. Warner kindly offered to take me home in his car, and I certainly appreciated it, in view of the rain, never dreaming, of course, I was going to get wetter than if I had walked all the way home.

"I was in the back seat, and the car is a closed automobile, so that I could not see the bridge as we approached, driving east in Twelfth street.

"Suddenly I felt the car pitch forward, and I was just leaning forward myself to ask what was the trouble, when I heard Mr. Warner shout something which must have been a warning. Then the car pitched into the air with a force that sent my companions and myself face forward against the front seat.

AROUSED BY SHOCK.

"As we struck the water, the car sank rapidly, the water rushing in. I must have been dazed for a moment from the force of the fall forward, for I remember a sense of tang and awakening consciousness as the cold, chilling water crept up over me. I lost realization of the presence of the others; it was a case of self-preservation all around.

"Instinct or common sense, or something made me hold my breath as the water closed over me, although even then I was only half conscious of what was happening. I remember clutching out, and must have grabbed the front of my waist, for two of the buttons were torn off during the scramble.

"How I ever got out of that car will always be a mystery to me. Perhaps unknowingly I groped my way to a curtain and pulled it loose. Perhaps the fall of the car forced a curtain open, and turned the car on its side, so that I, naturally gravitating toward the top of the river, floated through the open doorway to freedom. I do not even know how the car fell when it reached the river bottom; all I know is I finally found myself on the water, floating.

SWIM TOWARD SAFETY.

"I can swim, and seeing lights ahead of me, struck out. The chill, dark, ugly water stared up at me like a specter, and its coldness, I suppose, numbed me, because suddenly I felt weak, and my stroke began to fail. I doubt if I would have reached safety at all if a man standing on the shore had not reached out a pole or something for me to grasp it.

"Holding on to this as he pulled me shoreward, I finally was able to feel dry land, and to drag myself, with his assistance, out of the water. And then it was rush to the hospital.

"Mrs. Warner was on the front seat [illegible] and when she found herself in the water, she floated until aid came [illegible] although she cannot swim. It is terrible about the others, and it makes me feel almost wicked when I realize how fortunate I am to have escaped with practically no wounds.

"It is funny the things that will rush headlong through your mind in a situation like that. Minute nothings connected with the class I had just left, such as one of the girl's tripping on her untied pump bow, and the color of dresses worn by some of the girls, flashed through my head. And I remembered I had forgotten to take my Winter's coat to the tailor for pressing.

WAS NOT FRIGHTENED.

"I do not remember feeling frightened during the whole time I was in the water. Under the water, when I was aware of my acts at all—most of the time I was striking out blindly for freedom—it was in a sort of hazy-dream-fashion, and my thoughts were concerned with things far remote from the happenings of the moment. After I had risen to the water's surface, my one thought was to get out of that ugly, slimy, numbing river, the shock of whose water had awakened me to a realization of my discomfiture and a desire to escape.

"Right now I feel well enough to get back into my clothes and go home, so that you see how much I have suffered by the experience. My pains now are all mental ones—the horror of the fate of the others, which I escaped by how small a margin I shall never know, strikes more terror into my [illegible] than did the actual experience

And did make false and untrue statements and reports concerning the facts and circumstances pertaining to the restoration of certain saloon licenses theretofore revoked by the Mayor of the City of Chicago with the intent to improperly cause and induce the Mayor to restore the licenses.

Conspiracy Charges Against Luthardt and Essig

In effect, the charges in the second indictment, which involve Chief Healey, his secretary, William Luthardt, and Charles T. Essig, secretary of the Sportsmen's Club, are similar to those above. In part, they follow:

And the grand jurors aforesaid further present that the said Charles C. Healey and one William Luthardt and one Charles T. Essig, well knowing the premises, contriving and intending then and there the powers and duties of the office of the said general superintendent of police to discharge and perform contrary to law and contriving and intending the powers and duties of the said office of the general superintendent of police and the trust and confidence thereby reposed in him, the said Charles C. Healey, to violate and betray, did in the County of Cook and State of Illinois, on the 1st day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nineteen hundred and sixteen, unlawfully combine, confederate and agree together and with divers persons whose names are to the grand jurors unknown, to permit as police officers of the city of Chicago divers persons to conduct, maintain and keep divers houses of prostitution and assignation * * * and to fail, refrain from and neglect to arrest certain persons keeping houses of ill fame and places for the practice of prostitution.

And to permit and abet divers persons to keep and maintain divers places for the purpose of gaming and gambling for money, and to aid divers persons to keep and maintain divers slot machines and other devices designed and used for the purpose of gaming and gambling for money.

OLSON HINTS AT SPECIAL PROSECUTOR

Hoyne Insists Court Case Is Ended; Judge Not Inclined to Permit Dismissal; Decides To-Day.

John J. Healy, attorney for the accused chief, followed the State's Attorney's demand. Judge Olson will decide this morning whether he will permit such an end of the hearing.

Court Used for Politics, Says Healy.

Attorney Healy charged the State's Attorney with using the court for political by-play. Judge Olson announced that the Municipal Court was not subject to the orders of any prosecutor and hinted at the appointment of a special state's attorney. Mr. Hoyne simply replied that the proceedings were ended.

Throughout the stormy session Chief Healey stood nervously chewing upon an unlighted cigar. He declined to comment upon Hoyne's action resulting in the issuance of the capias.

That sensational climax of the hearing before Judge Olson was preceded by a lively day in court, featuring Francis D. Hanna, former morals inspector, as a witness, and a still livelier day outside the court. The outside activities started at 6 o'clock in the morning.

Cihef Strips Star From Hoyne's Policeman.

At that hour Policeman Martin Grady, assigned to the State's Attorney's office and acting under the latter's orders, appeared at the home of John Felzman, 1528 South Harding avenue, with a subpoena. Felzman was wanted as the man to whom Peter J. Gaynor paid $250 for restoration of a saloon license.

The policeman and Felzman in turn fell into the hands of detectives from Chief Healey's office. They were rushed before the chief, where Grady, loyal to State's Attorney Hoyne, insisted upon retaining the custody of Felzman. He was stripped of his star for his loyalty.

Felzman was delivered at the Criminal Court Building at 10 o'clock by Chief Healey's policemen. Standing in a crowd of twelve men in the grand jury ante-room Felzman was identified by Gaynor as the man to whom he paid the $250.

Then the men were taken before the grand jury for a repetition of the identification process, and the State's Attorney's men are now preparing for the issuance of a warrant against Felzman. Grady, the suspended policeman, was also a grand jury witness.

Hoyne Speeds Up Grand Jury Action.

With that development State's Attorney Hoyne and his men speeded up the grand jury action. Speed was necessary to make possible the spectacular halt that was called upon the Olson hearing just as the judge was preparing to adjourn until this morning.

It was close to 4:30 when the State's Attorney himself strode into Judge Olson's courtroom and seated himself at the counsel table for a conference with his assistants, Frank Johnston Jr. and Henry A. Berger. News of the indictments had preceded him.

"We will adjourn until 10 in the morning," Judge Olson was announcing when the State's Attorney walked up to the bench.

"If your honor please, we wish at this time to withdraw the application for warrants, the grand jury having already returned indictments against the chief of police and those involved in this hearing," stated Mr. Hoyne.

With those words every one in the courtroom rushed forward from their seats. Attorneys, spectators and witnesses formeda solid mass about the judge's bench, some crowding up behind him.

"Further hearing therefore would be useless," added Mr. Hoyne.

Olson Questions Hoyne's Right to Drop Case.

"But the question then arises—have you that right as State's Attorney?" countered Judge Olson.

"There is no question about our right to dismiss these proceedings," insisted Mr. Hoyne.

"I question it just as I question the State's Attorney's right to nolle cases, another right which I understand you claim," replied the court.

"With all due respect to the court, I insist that we have the right," repeated Mr. Hoyne. "It is not a question of a nolle. This is an ex parte proceeding. There are no defendants. Who is there to object?"

"I object," shouted Attorney Healy.

"You have no standing here in court."

"We've been here for eight days," replied Healy. "The principle involved here is identical with that in the case of a nolle. And assume it was the case of a nolle and your honor felt justified in declining to permit the State's Attorney to end the prosecution. You would appoint a special State's Attorney."

"I have heard that talk before," laughed the State's Attorney.

"We have been here eight days now trying to determine whether or not the chief of police and his secretary are guilty of any crime," continued Mr. Healy. "After the introduction of all this proof and the State's Attorney has served his purpose he asks dismissal of the case.

"Assuming that it showed the guilt of these men, would the court permit withdrawal of the application for a warrant? Certainly not. And here we have a case where all political proof and no legal evidence has been presented. Your honor should decide. We are entitled to judgment.

"The State's Attorney himself said at the outset that we came before your honor because the people had confidence in your judgment. In justice to Chicago, in justice to the chief of police, we are entitled to a decision at the hands of this court. You should not permit the State's Attorney or anyone else to use this court for political purposes.

"They are playing fast and loose with the court and with my client. When he started out in this case the newspapers had glaring accounts of his appearance before the grand jury to explain that the action was being started in the Municipal Court to quiet all cries of politics.

"He came here and we came here and have acted in good faith. Why doesn't he stay here? Your honor has listened to all this evidence because of the fact that the county's chief prosecuting officer was making the charge and it develops that he is using this court to aid his own political fortunes.

"It should not be permitted. Throughout this hearing your honor has seen the dirty hand of politics in every step. They have laid much stress on the names of Republicans found on the files referring to saloon licenses and, though they are numbered by the hundreds, never a word has been said about the Democrats, some assistant State's Attorneys, appearing in the same light.

Asserts Evidence Against Democrats Is Suppressed.

"Have they suppressed evidence? What are the ethics of the legal profession with reference to such suppression of evidence? I say that in the records in Hoyne's hands he has evidence where a Democratic judge of record appeared in behalf of a saloon license restoration."

"I challenge that statement," interrupted Mr. Hoyne. "There is nothing of record showing that. Show the evidence."

"There is," protested Healy. "We have the files to show it."

"Well, if you have it why charge us with having it?" retorted the State's Attorney.

"With just one minute of the court's time, I will answer everything Mr. Healy has said," renewed Mr. Hoyne. "As State's Attorney I am charged with the same amount of responsibility that falls to the lot of your honor.

Hoyne, Denying Deception, Insists on Right to Withdraw.

"There has been no deception here. The court has known at all times just what the procedure was, but here we have a case where the grand jury has acted, returning indictments for three. And there is a possibility of indictments against several more. Your honor should make no comment upon a case that is pending," he added.

"But suppose the State's Attorney had caused the arrest of defendants and then sought to dismiss the charges, what should the court do, Mr. Hoyne?" inquired Judge Olson.

"I am answering no suppositions that have no bearing on this case," replied the prosecutor. "I'll answer that question when I appear before the Municipal Court asking a nolle. I am not doing that now, and I insist that I have the right to withdraw the application for these warrants."

"I do not want to set precedent by which the Municipal Court may feel bound to do the bidding of all future State's Attorneys," said the court.

"We want to be heard on this matter," said Mr. Healy. "And we will ask for a decision in this matter."

"In view of the grand jury action I ask that the court refrain from commenting upon the case at issue," said Mr. Hoyne.

"I do not want to make any comment that might prejudice a grand jury, but the court does not want to establish any precedent by which the Municipal Court may be helpless before a State's Attorney because we cannot tell who is liable to be elected State's Attorney in Cook County," said the judge.

"No, Mr. Hoyne cannot tell that," laughed Mr. Healy.

"And I guess you had some trouble in that respect," replied Mr. Hoyne, referring to Healy's unsuccessful attempt at re-election as State's Attorney years ago.

"Well, I want to consider this matter carefully," announced the court. "A lot of evidence has been heard here and one man has already been held to the grand jury for perjury as a result of his testimony here. The hearing was no joke to him."

"Has this hearing appeared in the light of a joke to some?" inquired Mr. Hoyne.

Hoyne Ultimatum Meets Hint of Special Prosecutor.

"The court has two questions to consider," was announced. "First, there is the question of whether I will allow you to withdraw your application for the warrants. Then, supposing I denied that there is the question of what I would do with the incomplete evidence which has been presented. I will take these questions under consideration until 10 o'clock in the morning."

"Well, we want it understood that I have withdrawn the application here and now," said Mr. Hoyne.

"The State's Attorney cannot enter court orders as yet," interrupted Mr. Healy.

"In that event it would be within possibilities that a special State's Attorney continue the hearing," was Olson's reply to Hoyne.

"I do not think that any special State's Attorney could interfere with the action pending in the Criminal Court," said Mr. Hoyne.

"No, that's it," said Judge Olson. "Any special State's Attorney would eventually come to just where you are now—before the Criminal Court in this matter."

"The idea of the court is——" started Mr. Healy as he broke forth into protest against Henry A. Berger, Assistant State's Attorney, who had been jammed up close to Mr. Healy by the crowd.

"I don't think Mr. Berger is going to like this," he said.

"I never said a word," retorted Berger. "I was merely backing away to give you room."

"You started to mumble under your breath," said Mr. Healy.

"You're too sensitive," said Assistant State's Attorney Johnston.

"I take it that the court wants to see justice done," continued Mr. Healy. "In this ex parte hearing he has admitted evidence that never would be considered in another sort of hearing. This has never been a law suit. It was a political controversy."

"You're complimentary to the court," said Judge Olson.

Olson Refuses Comment on Political Aspect.

"You're not to blame, but when you discover that this whole hearing has been arranged for political purposes you should surely make some comment upon it," protested Mr. Healy.

"I wouldn't comment on such a thing if I thought it," replied the court.

Court Not Disposed to Permit Withdrawal.

"Still, as I said before, I do not want to set any precedents regarding the relations of the Municipal Court and the State's Attorney, meaning nothing offensive to Mr. Hoyne," repeated the court. "And I am not now disposed to permit the State's Attorney to withdraw his application for warrants. I will give my decision at 10 o'clock in the morning."

"Your honor understands that the State's Attorney's office considers this proceeding ended from now on, though we might come in here at 10 in the morning as members of the bar to show you that we are right in our stand," said Mr. Hoyne.

"I doubt that right you refer," replied Judge Olson. "Here we have a case of a high public official, and I do not hesitate to say what I would do had the case come to an end regularly. I will hear you to-morrow at 10."

Replace Hoyne at His Trial, O'Donnell Plea.

A special State's Attorney to supplant State's Attorney Hoyne and all his assistants in the prosecution of Attorneys Charles E. Erbstein and Patrick H. O'Donnell, charged with subornation of perjury, is to be asked of Judge Fitch by the defendants. Attorney O'Donnell drew up his petition yesterday and announced that he would file it with the court on Saturday.

Erbstein and O'Donnell are charged with obtaining false testimony in their defense of Captain Storen and others convicted in police graft trials.

The petition charges that State's Attorney Hoyne and Henry A. Berger, one of his assistants, have conspired with criminals to obtain O'Donnell's conviction, and have offered immunity and protection to the criminals in return for their testimony.

The petition sets forth that O'Donnell has the statement of three criminals in the penitentiary at Joliet that attempts have been made to bribe them to give perjured testimony against him. He says that Nathan Steinberg, a burglar serving a term at Joliet, revealed to him a "perjury school," conducted on the prison rock pile, and that attaches of the State's Attorney's office were active in preparing this testimony.

In view of all this, O'Donnell charges that State's Attorney Hoyne and his assistants have a "prejudicial interest" in the prosecution, and that the defendants cannot have a fair trial unless a special State's Attorney, "without bias or prejudice," be appointed.

POLITICIANS PREVENTED VICE RAIDS, SAYS HANNA

Testifies That Captain O'Toole Informed Him Comptroller Pike Wanted Friends Left Alone.

Requests to City Prosecutor to Close Fox Trot Club Ignored, Former Morals Inspector Avers.

Francis D. Hanna, former morals inspector, the only witness of the day before Judge Olson, started off with the statement that he was dismissed from the police department as a result of a conspiracy started by Chief Healey.

"We object to such examination," said Attorney Healy.

"We are simply trying to show that the chief ousted this morals inspector so that he could control that branch as he saw fit," announced Assistant State's Attorney Johnston.

"Proceed," said the judge.

"While yet morals inspector I learned of a big bruiser of a man dragging a girl into a hotel at Fifth avenue and Monroe street," he related. "I couldn't find the chief and took it upon myself to go to the hotel.

"By the time I got there I found policemen on the job. We found this couple in question and three other couples, and while we were there a dozen different detective sergeants, summoned in some way, appeared on the scene. These men assumed a sneering attitude toward us," he added.

"What happened then?"

Dismissal Follows His Raid on Hotel.

"Chief Healey called me in the next morning and wanted to know who was chief of police. I told him I thought he had received the appointment. He was not pleased with my action."

"What did the judge say about that case?"

"He ordered a warrant issued for the arrest of the owner of the hotel."

"Was his order carried out by the police?"

"Not that I was ever able to learn."

"Then what happened?"

"Charges were preferred against me and I was discharged."

Q—Did you make reports regarding that hotel later? A—Yes, hundreds of them.

Q—Was any action taken by the police? A—The place continued to [illegible].

Q—Did you make any reports against the Belleview Hotel, in the Twenty-first Ward? A—Yes, many of them.

Felt Influence of Pike, He Testifies.

Q—Did you have a conversation with Captain O'Toole with reference to the Belleviewfl A—Yes. The captain and I were going out to the hotel and he told me how he was called into Comptroller Pike's ofice and how Pike told him to lay off of his friends.

Mr. Johnston—Proceed, Mr. Hanna.

A—Later I was in O'Toole's office and the captain told me that the chief called him into his office after the Pike visit and asked what he meant by taking orders from Pike. The captain told the chief that Luthardt called him down to Pike's office.

Q—Was any action taken against the hotel after that? A—It was in court a number of times before Judge Robinson.

Q—Did you ever investigate the Fox Trot Club? A—Yes, sir.

Q—What was the Fox Trot Club? A—A hangout for prostitutes and their men partners. The facts were brought out in a case of a runaway girl before Judge Uhlir. City Prosecutor Miller was asked to act against the club, but no action was ever taken.

Q—Did any of the Fox Trot Club employes see you? A—Yes, a discharged head waiter came to me with what he called the truth of the Fox Trot Club operations.

Mr. Healy then demanded that the Fox Trot files be produced. It developed that the files were not in the State's Attorney's possession, and after the noon adjournment Mr. Healy produced the two Fox Trot Club affidavits. Mr. Johnston read them.

Waiter Tells of Fight Over Woman Club Member.

In one affidavit Dimitri Joaniwici, the discharged head waiter, swore that women who lived in the Morrison Hotel, in which the Fox Trot Club was located, were prominent members of the club. He swore that these women took men to their rooms from the club.

Gabrielle Grey, an actress, over whom the fight was waged, was the author of the second affidavit. She told how she had been insulted by a man in the club and how her manager, Jack Patton, beat the man in the hotel for his insult.

Q—Mr. Hanna, did you ever speak to Prosecutor Miller about these things? A—Yes, many times.

The court ruled against his telling of those conversations.

Q—Did you have any conversation with Captain Morgan Collins in that connection? A—Yes, sir.

Mr. Healy entered another objection to this line of testimony.

"If it appears that Captain Collins was actually engaged in allowing this place to run under conditions described he might be found guilty," stated Mr. Johnston.

"Well, when you are ready to show that reports of these conditions reached the chief of police I will listen to your testimony," announced the court.

"We will do that later with Captain Crippen and temporarily we tender the witness for cross-examination," said Mr. Johnston. Mr. Healy started the cross-examination.

Q—You spoke of Pike telling O'Toole to lay off of Richardson, the owner of the Belleview Hotel—don't you know there were five prosecutions of Richardson? A—I do not, though the judge told me that Richardson had beaten all fines and that he was going to make him pay the fine that time.

Mr. Healy—You needn't shoot at me like that, Mr. Hanna. I know your feelings in this matter. I'll ask the court to instruct you to answer the questions as they are put to you. There is no necessity for you arguing the state's case.

The Witness—Your questions are put in an involved form that makes them difficult to answer intelligently.

The Court—Are you the newspaper reporter who called me up on the phone last Saturday night? A—Yes, sir.

The Court—Well, answer the questions put to you.

Q—Didn't you participate in this raid made on the City Hall by the State's Attorney? A—I was there in the capacity of a newspaper reporter.

Q—What business did you have ordering regular policemen about that day you raided the hotel? A—I gave no orders. I merely suggested that they would be excused.

Q—Under what orders did you go there? A—Major Funkhouser told me to try and straighten matters up without getting burned up.

Q—What did you call the judge up about last week? A—If the judge wants to relate the conversation I will do so. It was about a bondsman story my paper was carrying.

Then Mr. Healy asked the privilege of postponing further cross-examination until he could look up additional records. During discussion of that proposition Mr. Hoyne entered with his dismissal plans.

Pike and Capt. O'Toole Deny Hanna's Story.

Referring to former Morals Inspector Hanna's testimony, City Comptroller Pike styled Captain of Police O'Toole "a liar" if he ever told Hanna that orders from Pike were to the effect that the police must lay off certain dives in the Twenty-first Ward.

Captain O'Toole himself came forward with a denial of Hanna's story. He said that, on the contrary, Pike wanted the ward kept clean and advised him to raid such places as the Belleview Hotel—the hotel mentioned by Hanna.

Grady Defies Chief and Loses His Star.

Policeman Michael Grady's summary suspension was a little drama of its own, staged effectively in the office of the chief of police an hour or so before the big shows got under way in Judge Olson's court and in the grand jury room.

Grady had determined to serve a subpoena for State's Attorney Hoyne upon John Felzman, 1523 South Harding avenue, a tailor employed by the Otis Company at 515 South Franklin street and wanted as a witness in connection with Peter J. Gaynor's story that he paid $250 for the restoration of his saloon license, the money going to a man he knew as "John Feldman or something like that."

Policeman Grady found Felzman, described as a political lieutenant of Charles Vavrick, Republican ward committeeman whose name appeared in the Gaynor restoration records, in bed at his home at 6 a. m.

Stopped by Police From Chief's Office.

He gave Felzman no chance to telephone anyone, but agreed to accompany him while he arranged to be absent from work. At the tailor shop Grady and Felzman were met by two policemen from the chief's office.

Grady, when ordered to turn over the prisoner, refused and there was a struggle. Grady and Felzman were taken into custody and rushed to the City Hall, where the party was met by Corporation Counsel Ettelson, who led them to Chief of Police Healey's office.

"You have no legal right to take him into custody and pull him out of his home," said the chief. "You'll either release this man right here or I'll strip you of your star and suspend you."

Grady Defies Order of Chief Healey.

"I'll not release him," replied the policeman. "I acted on Mr. Hoyne's orders and did my duty."

"Then you are summarily suspended and I'll prefer charges against you," announced the chief.

Grady then walked from the chief's office with the prisoner to the Criminal Court Building, where Gaynor identified Felzman.

"Mrs. Felzman must have telephoned some one I had her husband," said the policeman. "I thought it was my duty to carry out the State's Attorney's orders."

Felzman Denies He Received Any of $250.

Felzman denied he received any of the $250. He cursed when asked regarding the charge and referred interviewers to Attorney John J. Healy, who is representing Chief of Police Healey.

Felzman was taken before the grand jury only to give Gaynor a chance to identify him as the collector of the $250.

HEALEY NOT TO BE TAKEN FROM POSITION, SAYS MAYOR

Mayor Thompson, through Charles C. Fitzmorris, his secretary, last night sent word that Chief of Police Healey would be retained. This was his only statement, except that he asked the people to remember that an indictment means only one side of a case has been presented.

Chief Healey, raising his hands in a deprecating manner as if to indicate disgust, referred inquirers to his attorney, John J. Healy.

William Luthardt, the chief's secretary, smiled and said he was "not worrying any."

Administration officials held a short conference after the Council meeting. The Mayor, the chief, Corporation Counsel Ettelson, Chester E. Cleveland, first assistant corporation counsel; City Comptroller Pike, Mr. Luthardt and Attorney Healy were present.

Healy Terms Indictment "Character Assassination."

"Simply character assassination," was Attorney Healy's comment on the indictments at the close of the conference. "It is the most perfidious and infamous action I have ever known No language is adequate to describe it. If the State's Attorney were on the square he would go on with his proceedings before Judge Olson instead of running back to the grand jury. His indictment of the chief is a political indictment."

Hoyne Replies to Mayor's Statement.

State's Attorney Hoyne issued a lengthy statement in reply to the charges of Mayor Thompson that he was using the office of State's Attorney to "play politics." Here is the meat of his statement:

The present proceedings against Chief Healy and Secretary Luthardt were precipitated by the investigation made by the Citizens' Association in reference to slot machines and the disclosures before Judge Landis, who occupies a life position, is a Republican, and cannot be charged with playing politics. I had to take notice of those charges and the so-called "raid" on the Sportsmen's Club followed.

O'Brien and Smith "Jobbed," He Charges.

The recent proceedings before Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal court and the so-called "raid" on the City Hall did not result from evidence which I had stored up and held back for campaign purposes.

The Mayor and Chief of Police Healey, to clear themselves of the odium of the disclosures before Judge Landis, suspended Captain W. P. O'Brien and Captain Smith—jobbed them.

Had I declined to act on the information of Captain O'Brien until after election because of any fear of the effect it might have on my candidacy I would have been playing politics, and cowardly politics, although it was the easiest way to take for my own interests.

The testimony before Judge Landis shows that William Hale Thompson and his Chief of Police are the ones that have been playing politics to build up their City Hall machine.

"Mayor Rewards 'Black Belt' for Advancement."

The Mayor has always relied on the vicious colored element in the "black belt" as the source of political advancement. He was elected Alderman and County Commissioner by this element. He was nominated for Mayor over Judge Olson by the 6,000 plurality he received in the Second Ward through this support. He rewarded these friends by placing them in control as dictators over the Second Ward and other South Side wards.

Serious crimes and vicious criminals require stern methods, especially when the latter are intrenched in public office or supported by public officers.

In no case where I, as State's Attorney, have made what the newspapers delight to call "raids" have I failed to prove the commission of the crime charged and shown a justification for my action in the results obtained

Rich Youth Held on Aged Woman's Charge of Attack

Lynching in Amboy Case Narrowly Averted; Charles Allen Identified.

In the dingy office of a justice of the peace in Amboy a sensation was created yesterday which already has aroused three cities, moved one of them to threats of a lynching, and dragged in the names of two of the most prominent families in Lee, La Salle and Peoria Counties.

The justice of the peace had little to do with it. He bound over to the grand jury one Charles Allen on a charge made by Mrs. George Hewett, sixty-three years old, wife of a prominent Amboy merchant. But before the hearing ended it developed that Allen, masquerading as a laborer, was in reality the son of John C. Allen, wealthy Peoria contractor, and the nephew of an equally wealthy uncle, James Allen, also a prominent downstate contractor.

It developed just as unexpectedly that Allen, when he arrived in Amboy yesterday morning with two criminal lawyers from Peoria, escaped lynching only because a crowd of angry citizens had been assured that he would not be liberated even if Mrs. Hewett had not sufficiently recovered from the shock of the attack to appear in court.

In the arms of her husband and son to-day, Mrs. Hewett pointed to Allen amid a crowd in the little court room.

"That's the man," she said.

But most unexpected among all the unusual developments of the hearing yesterday came the announcement from Allen's attorneys that their client will attempt to clear himself by one of the most extraordinary defenses in the records of any Illinois court.

The attack on Mrs. Hewett occurred on the night of October 12 while Mrs. Hewett was returning to her home from a prayer meeting in the Amboy Baptist Church.

$60,000,000 Steal in Poor Wheat a Year, Is Charge

Millers Rob Public of That Amount, Expert Asserts Will Tell Investigators.

Juggling of the country's wheat by millers, by which inferior grades are substituted for standard quality in the making of flour, is robbing the people of $60,000,000 annually and is directly responsible for the sky-prices of bread, according to Miss Florence King of the Women's Association of Commerce.

At the hearing on the new federal grain inspection bill, which will start to-day, Miss King will demand that flour be branded to show plainly the quality of wheat from which it is made. The millers, she alleges in a complaint filed with District Attorney Clyne, are making extortionate profits by using the low grade wheat and charging consumers a price for flour based on the best grade.

Wheat continued to soar yesterday on the board of trade, December and May both opening at $1.74, an advance of 3¼c to 3¼c above the closing mark Saturday. A Chicago miller paid $2 a bushel for 3,000 bushels of Duluth No. 1 northern wheat Saturday. Already experts are predicting a shortage this year.

SCHOOL BOARD GIVES $1500 TO HEALTH WORK

Dr. Clemensen Fights Loeb Motion to Aid Robertson in Diphtheria Research.

In a stormy session yesterday afternoon the finance committee of the Board of Education voted to appropriate $1,500 out of a fund of $15,000 to buy materials to carry on the examination of school children for diphtheria. Dr. Peter C. Clemensen and other members protested on the grounds that they had no legal right whatever to do so.

The action was taken upon the request of Health Commissioner Robertson, who said his department has no funds for the work. President Jacob M. Loeb presented Dr. Robertson's request to the committee and Dr. Clemensen immediately asked:

"Mr. Loeb, is this an agreement you have entered into with the commissioner of health before coming to the board with it?"

"No, sir, it is not," Mr. Loeb replied.

"The Board of Eduaction has no right to give its funds to any of the city's departments," continued Mr. Clemensen. "The reason Dr. Robertson hasn't enough money to do his work is because he has spent it for other things. We gave the small parks commission $36,000 and now the city wants another $15,000 for its health department. It's bad business.

"This appropriation was first sought at the beginning of school, when the infantile paralysis epidemic was on. Our attorney gave an opinion that we could use money to check an actually existing epidemic, but not for the prevention of something that doesn't exist. We are not in danger of diphtheria."

"I know we are not within the law," said Trustee Edward J. Piggott, "but here I think we have a higher duty to perform The children's health and safety come first. I ask for a roll call."

"That's right, start the steam roller!" exclaimed Dr. Clemensen. "It is no use taking a vote. The ground is too well prepared. These gentlemen (pointing to President Loeb, Mr. Piggot and Max Loeb) have been instructed how to act. You'll have to account to the public some day."

Widow Own Lawyer; Files Suit for $25,000

Mrs. Teresa E. Wurtsbaugh, a widow, acting as her own attorney, filed a suit in the Circuit Court yesterday for $25,000 against Mrs. Carrie Jefferson, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Stevens and Wilfred Hugh Chilvers, all of 2210 Prairie avenue. She charges the defendants forcibly entered her room at that address and removed federal and state records and other documents worth $25,000.

"Mrs. Wurtsbaugh is demented," said Mrs. Jefferson last night. "She rented a room from me, and while she lived here I was obliged to support her, even giving her carfare. I have her effects under lock and key, held for her rent. The idea of their great value is a hallucination."

As an alternative to the $25,000 damages, Mrs. Wurtsbaugh demands her belongings on a penalty of $300, if they are intact.

ALLIES WIN DUAL DRIVE AT BAPAUME

French Storm Hill as British Capture 1,000 Yards of Trench Beyond Town of Guendecourt.

Guns Brought Up to Commanding Heights Clear Way for Charge; Berlin Admits a New Retreat.

PARIS, Oct. 23.—Sharp progress has been made by both the British and the French on the Somme front during the past twenty-four hours.

The right wing of General Haig's army, striking east from their recently acquired advanced positions at Gueudecourt and Les Boufs, to-day cut a great hole in the German line on this sector, smashing through and capturing 1,000 yards of trench. South of Grandecourt efforts of the Germans to attack the British line with massed strength were frustrated by the liberal use of shells, which completely broke up the assault.

FRENCH STORM LINES.

Meanwhile the French, on the adjoining front, continued the rush attacks by which they are making slow but sure progress on the road to Bapaume.

With Sailly-Saillisel as their base, the French stormed and captured Hill 128, between Sailly and Transloy, during the night. Bringing up their guns to this vantage point they made it possible this morning to carry out further "minor operations" and notable progress was made to the northeast of Morval. The French official communique to-night states that further captures of prisoners have been reported.

FRENCH MIDNIGHT REPORT.

The midnight official report says:

North of the Somme, minor operations enabled us to make notable progress northeast of Morval. The number of prisoners captured by us yesterday northeast of Sailly-Saillisel has increased by about eighty.

South of the Somme the artillery fire was particularly lively in the region of Chaulnes wood.

This morning German aviators dropped bombs on Nancy. No casualties resulted and the material damage was unimportant.

GERMANS REPULSE ATTACKS.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—Violent French and British attacks against the German positions between Le Sars and Rancourt, north of the Somme, were repulsed with sanguinary losses to the attackers, the war office announced this afternoon. The statement added that the Germans withdrew their positions north of Chaulnes to a previously prepared defense line.

The text of the statement follows:

The powerful artillery duel on the north bank of the Somme continued yesterday.

From afternoon until far into the night the English between Le Sars and Les Boeufs and the French as far as Rancourt attacked with the strongest forces.

Our infantry, assisted by artillery and flyers, shot to pieces all attacks.

Only northwest of Sailly-Saillisel did the attackers enter a small element of one of our first line trenches. Our advance in the northern part of Amboswood to the north of Chaulnes was successful.

Last night our defense was ordered, independent from any influence from the enemy, to take up a position east of the wooded section.

HAVE ROSY CHEEKS AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY—TRY THIS!

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

Danish Paper Sees British War on U. S.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 23.—The Finnans Tidende, in its weekly financial review, says:

"Rumors of forthcoming peace are current this week. But there is no occasion to attach undue importance to them.

"Augury is pitted against augury, and consideration of the result of the elections in the United States outweighs that of the bleeding of the people of the whole of Europe. It may suit President Wilson's purpose to play a tune on the harp of peace, but this is the day of Prussian militarism.

"The annihilation of Germany would merely mean England's preparation to take up the struggle against the next strongest naval power, namely, America, which is now feverishly equipping herself.

"It is high time, at all events, that the United States and Australia take up military measures. The 'yellow peril' is creeping uncomfortably nearer to both. Japan is carefully scrutinizing the American railway enterprises in China. Does the change in the Japanese ministry possibly indicate a new attitude toward the United States?"

Teutons Raid Britain Twice in Two Days

Twenty-two allied aeroplanes were shot down by the Germans during the last twenty-four hours, the German war office announced this afternoon.

80,000 in British Army at War's Start

BIRMINGHAM, England, Oct. 23.—In an address here Lord Haldane asserted that at the beginning of the war England had six divisions of the line and fourteen territorial divisions. English officers assert these estimates exist only on paper. At the outbreak of the war, it is declared, there were but four line divisions available. Barring a few battalions, the territorials were wholly unfit for service. Instead of 460,000 men, as claimed, England, it is asserted, entered the war with but 80,000 men.

RUSS PERIL TO BULGARS IS CRUSHED

Teuton Capture of Constanza Closes Port to Slav Transports; Sofia Declares Country Is Safe.

ube and for a dual advance on Bucharest from the north and south.

Mackensen's campaign has been in progress little more than two months. Berlin to-night hails this latest achievement as transcending in importance the utmost gains of the Franco-British allies in the west during the entire progress of their Somme offensive.

TO DUPLICATE SERBIA'S FATE.

German military experts express the utmost confidence that the next few months will see a re-enactment in Roumania of the strokes by which Serbia last Winter ceased to exist as a separate nation. The Serbian campaign, it is pointed out, was conducted by the same commander—Von Mackensen—and the initial moves were much the same.

The rapid crumpling up of the Roumanian defense on all fronts is now predicted. Menaced from the south, the Roumanians and their Russian allies will, it is believed, be unable much longer to withstand Von Falkenhayn's blows on their northern frontier.

An official statement by the German war office announcing the capture of the port had been preceded some hours by a Bulgarian statement telling of the seizure of a village less than six miles from Constanza. So there was little surprise when word was given out that Von Mackensen had broken through the last line of defense, swept aside the Roumanian rear guards and entered the city itself.

ARMY IN PANIC.

The extreme rapidity of Mackensen's sweep is taken as an indication of panic on the part of the defeated army. Unofficial dispatches report the Roumanians in a disorganized rout, retreating toward the vast swamps which hem in Constanza from the land side to the north.

Meanwhile the attempted counter-offensive of the Roumanians on the Transylvanian front has broken down. The Austro-Germans in Predeal Pass have inflicted a fresh defeat on the defenders, taking more than 500 prisoners.

The new moves to be expected of Mackensen are well laid out. Near Cernavoda, a great railway bridge spans the wide Danube, and it is at this he is striking.

The railway line from Constanza to Cernavoda was thirty-five miles in length. Over it, coming from Odessa and other Russian Black Sea ports, Russia was able to transport great quantities of munitions and large numbers of soldiers to the aid of her Balkan ally. The only practicable route now left open is a slow and circuitous line through Bessarabia.

GERMAN OFFICIAL REPORTS.

The first German war office statement announcing the victory, said:

German and Bulgarian troops have taken Constanza and have crossed the railway of Czernewoda-Constanza, east of Murfatler.

The war office in a supplementary report said:

In spite of pouring rain and wet soil, the allied (German, Bulgarian and Turkish) troops advanced in the Dobrudja, broke the isolated resistance of the enemy, and crossed the railroad line east of Murfatler, advancing far beyond it.

Exactly eight weeks after the Roumanian war declaration, Constanza was captured by German and Bulgarian troops.

One of our seaplanes landed far in the rear of the fleeing enemy, and destroyed two aeroplanes on the ground and returned unharmed.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 23.—Violent rear guard actions are in progress in Dobrudja, where the Russo-Roumanian forces are retiring before the advance of Field Marshal von Mackensen's army.

The war office admitted to-day that the retreat is still on. Along the northern boundary of Roumania the Roumanians gained some ground in the Trotus, Oituz and Slenic valleys, the report says.

Serb Drive Upon Monastir Halted by Fierce Attack

Paris Admits Counter Offensive by Bulgars, but Says Serb Line Holds.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The Serbian offensive on the Cerna River in Macedonia has been brought to a standstill, the war office stated to-day, and the Serbians are now on the defensive.

PARIS, Oct. 23.—All day Sunday the Bulgarian army defending the Macedonian city of Monastir drove furiously upon the Serbian lines in an effort to break them, says an official report on Balkan operations issued by the war office to-day.

Although the assaults were driven home with furious energy the Bulgarians were unable to gain ground.

These attacks were concentrated along the Cerna River, where the Serbians have recently gained important advantages.

The text of the announcement follows:

In the bend of the Cerna the Bulgarians on October 19 launched several very violent attacks against the Serbian positions. The battle raged fiercely throughout the day and resulted in a success for our allies, who completely repulsed their opponents, inflicting very heavy losses.

Our artillery energetically supported the Serbian infantry, which decimated the enemy columns by a flanking fire.

Crack French Zouaves Annihilated by Fire.

MOSCOW, Oct. 23.—The correspondent of the Russkoye Slovo, telegraphing from the French front, says that French Zouave regiments have suffered terrible losses in the recent fighting on the Somme. The crack Third Zouave regiment was caught in the German machine gun fire and literally annihilated. Three other Zouave regiments sacrificed half to two-thirds of their complement.

Italian Artillery Batters Coast Lines.

VIENNA, via Berlin, and Wireless to Sayville, Oct. 23.—Except for heavy Italian artillery action in the coastal sectors little activity is reported from the Italian front, according to an official statement issued to-day. The statement says:

"In the Italian theater on the coastal front the vigor of the Italian fire again increased yesterday.

"In the Tyrol and in the Carinthian Alps the fighting was not important."

Germans Break Up Russ Resistance.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The entire west bank of the Narajuwka River, in Galicia, has been cleared of Russians, the war office announced this afternoon.

The ejection of the Czar's forces from this bank was the culmination of fierce fighting lasting uninterruptedly for several weeks.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 23.—Austro-German forces opened a new offensive movement on the northeastern frontier of Galicia on Sunday. The war office announced to-day that attacks were delivered north of Brody, but that all failed.

Bulgarian Crops Give Food Surplus

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

SOFIA, Oct. 23.—According to official statistics made public here the Bulgarian crop this year has been excellent. To the native products must be added the stocks found in Dobrudja, although the Roumanians carried off or destroyed part of these. Altogether a great food surplus is left for exportation.

$1,000,000 U. S. LOAN SOUGHT BY CARRANZA

Negotiations Will Be Opened After Atlantic City Conferences, It Is Reported.

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 23.—Luis Cabrera, head of the Mexican peace delegation, has been delegated by First Chief Carranza to negotiate a $100,000,000 Mexican loan in this country, it was learned to-night.

The First Chief is said to believe the commission will form some plan for the settlement of the border wrangle soon after November 7, and that shortly afterward an agreement will be reached regarding Mexico's taxation of American properties south of the Rio Grande.

Following this step, according to information received here by the American members of the peace conference to-night, Carranza expects to float his loan.

The report from Mexico City that Cabrera is to become Mexican Ambassador to the United States was stamped as false by Cabrera's closest friends. These stories, they said, have been prompted by the fact that Cabrera has been picked for Mexico's financial agent in this country after the conference adjustment.

Cabrera has gone to New York during each week's recesses, it was learned, to confer with New York bankers and financiers interested in Mexico. While in New York he has also consulted with Alfredo Caturegiia, Mexico's fiscal agent.

Among the bankers whom Cabrera's agents have consulted are Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

Because of complaint of American owners of property in Mexico that the present proposed taxes will prove confiscatory, the American delegates are trying to form a system of revenue which will be fair both to Mexico and the other countries of the world. The success of the loan rests, it is said, in large part on this consideration.

Carranza Prepares to Defend Queretaro.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

EL PASO, Oct. 23.—First Chief Carranza and his minister of war, Alvaro Obregon, have arrived at Queretaro with a train load of munitions from Mexico City, according to report. No reason is assigned. Pablo Gonzales, one of Carranza's leading generals, is to take command of Mexico City, the report adds. He has been leading an army in the state of Morelos.

Francisco Villa ambushed a Carranza force under General Carlos Ozuna between San Andres and Santa Ysabel Friday and inflicted sanguinary losses, killing Ozuna, according to another report.

The bandit chief had laid a trap for the Carranzistas and they walked into it. The ambush was on the Mexico Northwestern Railway, and the outlaws, behind rocks, poured a terrific fire at the Carranzistas. The latter are reported to have been driven to Santa Ysabel and, reaching there, fell back further to Fresno, the next station to Chihuahua City.

'Mr. Carranza' Guest at Congress Hotel

Guests at the Congress Hotel were not a little surprised yesterday when a dark-skinned stranger strode across the lobby, glancing furtively from side to side, and registered "Mr. Carranza." He had no facial florescence, but otherwise he greatly resembled the Mexican general, and he might have "cut 'em off" as a disguise. Even the clerks were perturbed. But investigation revealed Mr. Carranza as a Cuban tobacco plantation owner.

EPISCOPALIAN BOARD CHIEF IS ASSAILED

Convention, While Retaining President Lloyd at Head of Missions, Voice Their Disapproval.

BY THE REV. F. S. PENFOLD.
Special Telegram to the Chicago Examiner.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—The dispute over the board of missions which has agitated the whole Episcopal Church was settled for the time being to-day by a vote of the house of deputies of the general convention.

The house of bishops having elected the Rev. A. S. Lloyd president of the board by a narrow margin, the proposal came before the lower house for concurrence this morning. The bishops' vote was indorsed by the following majorities: Clerical vote, 44½ yea, 21¾ nays, 6 divided; lay vote, 46¼ yea, 13¼ nay, 4 divided.

Many delegations asked leave to explain their votes and said that, though they voted to concur, they wished it understood that they unanimously disapproved of the policy of the board during the past year.

Dr. Martin Aigner of Erie moved to amend the title page of the prayer book to read as follows: "The Book of Common Prayer and the Administration of the Sacraments of the Holy Catholic Church, According to the Use of the Protestant Episcopal Church."

The motion was referred to a committee and was not debated. It is clearly understood that warm debate will develop over the matter when it is taken up later.

Debate on proportionate representation was resumed by the lower house at 11 a. m.

Dr. J. B. Stanley of Indianapolis opposed the measure on the ground that the present system has given harmony because it has protected minorities.

At 12:30 both houses went into joint session to deliver an address of congratulation and compliment Bishop Tuttle commemorative of the fiftieth anniversary of his consecration to the episcopate. The address was read by the bishop of Louisiana.

After the noon recess the debate upon proportionate representation was resumed.

After eager and exciting argument it was moved to take a vote, and Dr. McKim, who had opened the debate, was given ten minutes to close it. The vote was taken by orders, and the motion was overwhelmingly defeated, the figures being 114½ to 22½. Dr. McKim's own delegation, that of Washington, voted against the measure.

RELATES THE STORY ABOUT HER HUSBAND

Well Known Chicago Lady Says Plant Juice Helped Him Almost at Once.

Nature, like an army when attacked, has warnings and signals which should never go unheeded. When the stomach, liver or kidneys suffer slight derangements, they send out their hurry call to be careful. Each has its warning note which frequently takes the form of indigestion, dyspepsia, gas on the stomach, nervousness, constipation, pains in the back or sides, dizziness, sleeplessness, etc. Nine out of ten people ignore these first symptoms and wait until serious illness has laid them low before they seek relief.

Plant Juice, the new herbal stomach remedy, assists Nature and will bring relief in practically all cases of a deranged stomach, liver or kidneys. Thousands of well known local people are testifying to the great benefit they have received after they had practically given up all hope of permanent relief.

One of the latest signed testimonials is that of Mrs. George Provancher, of No. 3832 Fillmore Street, who tells in the following how her husband, who is a well known resident of this city, where he has resided for the past 32 years, was relieved of a bad case of stomach trouble by Plant Juice. She stated:

"About a year ago my husband had a bad attack of indigestion, causing great quantities of gas to form in his stomach, which gave him constant agony and made his life miserable. He could not sleep at night on account of the pain, and had to be very careful what he ate; in fact, could scarcely take anything solid at all, and he had to exist mostly on milk and toast. He had tried everything in the shape of medicine, but got no relief, until finally, through the advice of a friend, he began to take Plant Juice. It relieved the pain, and the gas has left his system entirely; he can eat anything now and digest it, he sleeps well and never felt better in his life. I am going to take Plant Juice myself, as I feel badly run down, and would never be without Plant Juice in my house."

The Plant Juice Man is at The Public Drug Co.'s store, No. 26 South State Street, between Madison and Monroe, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of his remedy.

HUGHES' 'PAY' FOR O'LEARY AID SHOWN

Springfield, Ill., and Philadelphia Speeches Cited as Proving Compliance With Agreement.

Secret Meeting in Chicago Followed by Campaign for Republicans, Democrats Charge.

Further evidence that Jeremiah A. O'Leary and his associates are behind the candidacy of Charles Evans Hughes because of his alleged pro-German utterances was given out last night by the Democratic national committee.

In the second installmnt of the committee's charges it is asserted that the official records of the O'Leary organization show:

A working agreement between the O'Leary organization and the Republican national committee, perfected in secret.

Fulfillment by Mr. Hughes of alleged promises.

Concealment by Mr. Hughes and his campaign managers of their dealings with the O'Leary organization.

TELL OF CHICAGO MEETING.

The statement of the committee follows in part:

The official minutes of the secret Chicago meeting on September 30 show that immediately after O'Leary had submitted his report of the Hughes personal interview Daniel F. Cohalan, Supreme Court justice of New York, addressed the gathering, urging the wisdom of a further understanding with the Republican national committee.

Committeeman Mooney, following the address of Justice Cohalan, made a speech in which he urged that definite action be taken at this meeting. After some discussion it was agreed to withhold definite action until the delegation that was to wait on Republican leaders could make a report.

RIDDER OUT FOR HUGHES.

The official minutes state that Justice Cohalan reported to the evening session the result of his interview with the leaders at Republican western headquarters.

"Evidence that a satisfactory understanding between the O'Leary adherents with the Republican leaders was effected is furnished by the following significant entries:

"On motion of Mr. Fitzer a vote of thanks was extended to Justice Cohalan."

"Committeeman Mooney then made a motion that the delegates return to their homes at once and begin the work of organizing their districts."

In this connection it is to be noted that a few days after Victor Ridder returned to New York from this Chicago conference he gave out at Republican headquarters in New York a long statement in support of Hughes' candidacy.

HUGHES COMPLIANCE SHOWN.

As evidence of at least partial compliance by Candidate Hughes with the demands of the organization, O'Leary's special committee reported to the full committee that Mr. Hughes at Springfield, Ill., on September 19 had vigorously denounced President Wilson as presenting the humiliating spectacle of surrendering to force in connection with the adoption by Congress of the Adamson eight-hour bill and had made what O'Leary and his associates regarded as a fairly strong declaration for maintaining "the rights of American people on the land and sea," involving a veiled threat against the British blacklist and embargo.

In his Philadelphia speech on October 9 Mr. Hughes, without mentioning Great Britain, directly attacked the British blacklist and embargo. His declaration on that occastion received the enthusiastic approval of O'Leary and his associates.

The reward achieved by Candidate Hughes and his campaign managers is the unqualified support of his organization pledged to the destruction of Anglo-Saxon influence in America, and the open vilification of President Wilson as typified by the notorious O'Leary telegram to the President.

Wilson Seeks German Aid, Says Willcox.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Developments came fast to-day in the Hughes-Wilson "hyphen war."

Republican National Chairman Willcox made a counter-accusation that "while the Wilson campaign managers were charging that Mr. Hughes was compounding with the German-American Alliance and the American Independent Conference they themselves were covertly soliciting the support of members of the German-American Alliance."

REPUBLICANS HIT BACK.

Chairman Willcox produced facsimiles of an invitation issued to German-Americans by F. W. Janssen, deputy for Fred B. Lynch, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, written on the letterheads of the national committeemen asking President Henry Weismann, president of the New York state branch of the German-American Alliance, to confer with William J. Stone, President Wilson's United States Senate spokesman, about corralling the German vote for the President.

Chairman Willcox, stung by the publication of the first intallment of proceedings of the O'Leary organization, spent nearly all day trying to counteract the effect.

To-night he declared:

The absurd and disingenuous phase of the whole matter is that, while Mr. Wilson's managers have charged specifically on two separate occasions that Mr. Hughes was compounding with a certain branch of the electorate, they themselves were covertly soliciting in an almost abject way support of members of the German-American Alliance.

In substantiation of this let me read this letter:

Democratic National Committee
Headquarters, 30 East Forty-second St., New York.
September 11, 1916.

My Dear Mr. Weismann:

Senator Stone, chairman foreign relations committee, will be at the Waldorf Thursday; don't you and a few of your friends want to have an informal talk with him on Thursday or Friday evening? Phone me on receipt of this, Murray Hill 9190, and oblige

Yours very truly,
F. W. JANSSEN.

PRECEDES STONE "PARTY."

The date, September 11, is significant, because five days later, September 16, occurred the famous party at Terrace Garden, when Senator Stone sat up all night making abject pleas to leading citizens of German birth or extraction to support the Wilson cause.

In all the attempts made by Democratic managers, including Norman Hapgood, unsupported statements have been made that Mr. Hughes made explicit promises of support. Not one shred of documentary evidence has been produced on that point. On the contrary, the charges have fallen down in every particular.

When Mr. O'Leary himself was asked for his version of the conference with Governor Hughes, he replied:

Governor Hughes has stated correctly what happened at our interview with him. He carefully reduced to writing what we wished to say to Mr. Hughes. The man who attempts to find fault with any portion of our statement, particularly the question we asked, whether or not Mr. Hughes would administer the Presidency of the United States in accordance with the spirit of the fathers and the whole American people, is not a true American.

Glynn to Lead Democrats Into Wards of G.O.P.

Straw Votes, Showing Miller Leading Hoyne, Are Called Farces by Opponents.

Invasion of Republican strongholds by Democratic speakers will begin to-night.

Former Governor Martin H. Glynn of New York, whose address at the Democratic National Convention has been called an oratorical masterpiece, will lead the invading forces by a talk at Arcadia Hall in the Twenty-fifth Ward.

Roger C. Sullivan will make his first public talk of the campaign at The Forum, Forty-third street and Calumet avenue.

United States Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Wilson's Western manager, will invade the Seventh Ward, speaking at the Woodlawn Masonic Temple, University avenue and Sixty-fourth street.

Democrats said these meetings were arraigned for Republicans, Progressives and Independents. They also asserted Republican local lealers were afraid to hold their meetings in these places because they feared they would not be able to fill them.

At the Cook County managing committee's headquarters it was announced that "straw" ballots taken on the State's Attorneyship fight, and showing Harry B. Miller, Republican, to be leading, were "fakes." State's Attorney Hoyne's re-election by the largest plurality of any candidate on the Democratic slate was predicted.

A committee of railroad employes yesterday notified Municipal Judge Harry P. Dolan, candidate for re-election, it would work for his victory from now until election day.

Deneen Attack on Dunne Stirs Lewis

LA SALLE, Ill., Oct. 24.—Senator Lewis, in starting his tour of Illinois for Wilson and Dunne here to-night, assailed and denied the campaign charges of former Governor Deneen that the regime of Governor Dunne has been one of waste and extravagance. He accused Mr. Deneen of concealing facts regarding the expenditure of public funds during his own eight years in the Governor's chair.

"Mr. Deneen assails the appropriations of the last four years as excessive, but does not mention the fact that they were passed by Republican Legislatures, and are in no wise the product of a Democratic Governor, except in so far as he did not veto all items in the appropriation bills," said Senator Lewis.

"I wonder if he's going to be ill"

THE suggestion to take Sanatogen would at once come from friends who have had experience with this natural food-tonic. For it is a fact that thousands upon thousands of men and women, weakened through the stress and strain of work and worry have thus regained vitality and working power.

When Sir Gilbert Parker writes: "Sanatogen is a true food-tonic, feeding the nerves and giving fresh vigor to the over-worked body and mind," he but expresses the thoughts of multitudes of others.

That over 21,000 physicians have endorsed Sanatogen in writing; that many physicians, including famous nerve specialists, use Sanatogen in their own families—these facts speak for themselves.

And thus you may be sure you can find no more trustworthy safeguard for your health at such times than Sanatogen.

A Personal Statement

From the President of the Encyclopaedia Britannica

I wish the public to know fully of the approaching exhaustion of the India paper issue of The Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Before I hit upon the idea of using India paper in printing the Britannica, all encyclopaedia volumes were heavy, bulky and very awkward to consult--volumes for the public library rather than for the home. But The Encyclopaedia Britannica on the thin, light, opaque India paper worked a revolution in publishing, and found a wider public than had ever used an encyclopaedia before.

150,000 sets of the Britannica, or 4,350,000 volumes, have already been sold, of which 97.3 per cent. were printed on India paper.

To keep pace with this unprecedented sale every paper mill in the world that could make India paper worked day and night. WE HAVE USED 4,200 TONS, or 8,400,000 lbs. of it, whereas formerly only a few hundred tons were made in a year.

I was encouraged by the wonderful success of the Britannica to print The Century Dictionary, the only really adequate dictionary of the English language, on the same beautiful paper. I arranged for this--and then our binder invented a new kind and style of binding which made it possible to issue The Century Dictionary with over 8,000 pages, formerly published in 10 volumes, in a single volume. A revolving rack which can be placed on any desk or table goes with each copy.

The principal raw material of India paper is a certain kind of flax grown in Germany, Belgium and Great Britain. THE WAR HAS RUINED THE FLAX INDUSTRY in those countries, not only for the present but for years to come. It has therefore eliminated India paper from the market and made impossible the reprinting of the Britannica and the Century except on old-fashioned book paper.

This means that anyone who desires to buy either of these works in their present ideal and perfect form must do so soon.

The exact stocks on hand are as follows:

(1) Of the Cambridge Issue, with large pages and large type, more than 75,000 sets have been sold, and there are only 1,700 sets remaining. Of course these will all be gone within a very short time.
(2) Of the Handy Volume Britannica, which is sold at 60% less than the Cambridge Issue, 70,000 sets were sold by Sears, Roebuck and Co. of Chicago, who have exclusive sale of this issue, in the six months from January 1st to July 1st, and there are less than half that number still unsold.
(3) There are less than 9,000 copies remaining of The Century Dictionary in its new, one-volume form, but it is very doubtful if any of these will remain unsold by Christmas.

The question now arises, at what price shall these remaining sets of the Britannica and the Century, printed on India paper--THE LAST THAT CAN EVER BE OFFERED--be sold.

I would be justified in asking a much higher price, not only because the India paper sets are so nearly exhausted, but because it is impossible to replace them. But I have decided that as The Encyclopaedia Britannica is a great educational institution, every remaining set shall be sold at the same low price that I placed on it when I supposed that I could buy all the India paper I wanted and could print as many sets of The Encyclopaedia Britannica and The Century Dictionary as the public would buy.

I am an enthusiast on the subject of India paper for large books of reference. The Encyclopaedia Britannica is at least five times as handy as the same books printed on heavy paper, and this means that they will be used five times as frequently and therefore do five times as much good.

Having taken so much interest in perfecting this idea, I am of course very much disappointed that I cannot print, as I had expected to do, an unlimited number of copies of the Britannica and the Century on it, and in order that the public may not also be disappointed by applying TOO LATE for the sets that are left, I now give them FAIR WARNING to send in their orders without delay.

September 15, 1916 President

All of these sets are printed on the famous India paper

The Encyclopaedia Britannica, Cambridge issue, in 29 volumes, 1 inch thick, large pages, large type, 30,000 pages, 41,000 authoritative articles, 44,000,000 words, 1,500 noted contributors, 15,000 illustrations, full-page plates and maps—sent for a first payment of $5.00 and a limited number of monthly payments of the same small amount.

The popular edition known as The "Handy Volume" Issue is precisely the same as the Cambridge issue in every detail except size, and sells at 60% less. Each volume measures 6¼ inches wide by 8⅝ inches high by 1 inch thick. It will be sent for a first payment of $1.00 and $3.00 a month for a limited period.

The Century Dictionary (revised), the only complete dictionary of the English language. 325,000 words fully defined by 600,000 concise explanations, 10,000 illustrations, more than 8,000 pages—which, by a new invention, have been bound into a single flexible volume of instant and easy reference. Sent for a first payment of $1.00, to be followed by a few monthly payments of $3.00.

WHIRLWIND VISIT HERE FOR T. R. IS PLANNED

Republican Campaign Managers Map Out Desperate Efforts to Stem Wilson Tide in West.

Cowboy Escort to Conduct Colonel to Auditorium; Public Will Get in Free to Hear Him.

Colonel Roosevelt's coming to Chicago Thursday will be one of the most spectacular events of the national campaign, if plans of the Republican organizations, both national and county, are carried out.

Red fire, brass bands and noise will rule the day. Two meetings will be held at which the Oyster Bay man will speak, one in the Auditorium Theater at 4 o'clock, attended by women, and the other at the International Amphitheater at the Stock Yards in the evening.

ADMISSION TO BE FREE.

The latter meeting will be open to the public. After attempting to sell tiskets yesterday for the meetings the committee on arrangements—members of the Hamilton Club—announced admission would be free and that the first persons to come will get the seats.

An escort of cowboys will conduct the Colonel from his hotel to the Stock Yards pavilion

Claiming Hughes will sweep Ohio, Indiana and Illinois by from 100,000 to 200,000 in each state, the Republican campaign managers started on the last lap of the contest yesterday in a desperate effort to roll back the big Wilson wave sweeping through the Middle West and save these states by any margin they can

NO SOFT PEDAL, REPORT.

Denials were forthcoming that the prospective speech of the colonel in Chicago is being subjected to a blue pencil or that the stipulation has been made that he shall not refer to Germans in the manner he did in his "skin 'em alive" speech at Battle Creek.

Every available campaign orator and political subtlety is being brought into action for the last days of the fight, with elaborate arrangements for a "whirlwind finish" to the contest in each of the middle western states.

Baker Unfit as War Head, Says Roosevelt.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 23.—"An amiable pacifist who is exquisitely unfit for his present position," was one of the things which Theodore Roosevelt to-day called Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, at a luncheon in the colonel's honor.

During the principal speech of his five-hour stay here the colonel was so frequently interrupted by hurrahs for Wilson that he finally turned on his hecklers and shouted:

"Hurrah for the babies murdered on the Lusitania. Hurrah for Wilson and Villa and Carranza. Hurrah for the Americans murdered on the border.

"We are told Mr. Wilson kept us out of war," he said. "And we've just been told by the judge advocate general of the army that we are at war with Mexico. I believe the judge advocate general."

"WILSON LIKE BUCHANAN."

His address was in part as follows:

President Wilson's positions and actions have been entirely justifiable from the standpoint of those who justify the positions and actions of President Buchanan. But it is utterly impossible to defend the conduct of President Wilson save by inferentially condemning the conduct of such Presidents as Washington, Jackson and Lincoln.

IGNORANCE WINS POSITION.

Mr. Baker would never have been appointed if Mr. Wilson had been willing to look at the army from the standpoint of military efficiency.

Among his recent exploits was an elaborate comparison of Washington and his followers and soldiers in the revolutionary war with Carranza and the other bandits who are responsible for the present witches' sabbath in Mexico.

I have no doubt whatever that in his astounding statement Mr. Baker gives Mr. Wilson's views.

The statement of Mr. Baker's, acquiesced in by the silence of Mr. Wilson, shows that Mr. Wilson in his heart believes that the men of the revolution stood on a level with the miscreant crew who during the last three and a half years in Mexico have murdered Americans by the hundreds and Mexicans by the tens of thousands.

News of the Campaign Portrayed Daily by the National Chairmen

BY VANCE C. M'CORMICK,

Chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

THE administration's service to the farmer is of such importance and consequence as illuminating the farmer's reason for supporting the President that I feel sure my readers will indulge me if I pursue the subject.

VANCE M'CORMICK.

The threatened railroad strike brought the farmer face to face with calamity. He understands that there was no law to compel arbitration between the contending forces, and he realizes that the action of the President and Congress protected him against financial ruin.

The farmer is not deceived by the appeals of Mr. Hughes concerning the adjudication of the differences between the railroads and their operatives. He knows that by the admissions of the Republican candidate as to what he would have done in the circumstances, he (the farmer) would have been among the greatest sufferers from the strike that certainly would have followed.

If the general railway had occurred——

The peach crop with a value of $55,000,000, would have been a total loss, and would have been left to rot in the orchards. By averting the strike this crop moved in the regular channels of commerce and the farmer experienced no loss whatever.

The apple crop valued at approximately $200,000,000 would have shrunken through the inability of the apple growers to transport their product to the market, or to get facilities for its partial preservation. At the lowest estimate, the apple growers would have lost $100,000,000.

The cabbage farmers of northern Ohio, the producers of tomatoes for the canneries and the celery growers of Michigan and Florida would have been ruined financially had the strike occurred.

The melon growers of Colorado, California, Arizona and Delaware would have experienced an irreparable money loss from the railroad tie-up.

The grapes in the vineyards of western New York and on the sunny slopes of Yakima and Wenatchee would have dried on their vines.

The production of poultry and eggs and the products of the dairy alike would have been left valueless on the hands of the farmer if there had been a general railroad strike.

The farmer was threatened by more than the direct and immediate loss that would have been burdened upon him by the impending strike. Millions of workingmen would have been thrown out of work. Poverty and destitution would have followed in the wake of this enforced idleness. The power of the workingman to buy woujld have been destroyed and the farmer's prosperity is dependent upon the ability of the consuming public to buy.

The farmer is aware of all this. He has brought the matter home to himself. He knows what a great service President Wilson and Congress did for him in averting the threatened strike.

It is estimated that the eight-hour day, the adoption of which averted the strike, will cost the railroads between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000. The farmers of America would have lost many times $100,000,000 in less than thirty days had the strike occurred.

BY WILLIAM R. WILLCOX,

Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

THE people of the United States have made up their minds in favor of Mr. Hughes and against Mr. Wilson, and that is all there is to it. They have given positive proof of it on numerous occasions this Fall—proof that cannot be denied, misunderstood or misinterpreted.

WM. R. WILLCOX.

In a dozen states, from Maine to California, from Michigan to Maryland, where the voters have had a chance to stand up and be counted they have unfailingly taken the advantage of the opportunity to show their determined preference for Mr. Hughes instead of Mr. Wilson.

There is no exception. In none of the states outside of the solid South where a primary election has been held this year has the Democratic vote come within signal distance of the Republican vote.

This is the thing that counts in showing what the result of an election is to be. It doesn't make any difference what flamboyant claims campaign managers may put forth—it is the way the people vote that does the real talking. Here is how they have been voting. Maine counts first, because it was an election where the voting was done on a holiday with the polls open all day and the full vote brought out.

There were 79,902 Republican votes and only 66,547 Democratic votes. The Republicans made a clean sweep despite the desperate efforts of the Democrats and despite the fact that President Wilson was made the cardinal issue and his followers were rallied in every way to prove by their victory in Maine that his policies were supported in the nation.

Just as Maine spoke in her election, so every state that has held a primary has spoken. California and Washington represent the Pacific coast. In California 307,793 Republicans voted in the primaries and only 77,830 Democrats. More Republicans came out than the Democrats mustered at the election two years ago. In Washington 186,701 Republicans voted in the primaries and only 29,360 Democrats. Yet Mr. McCormick has been talking about the possibility of carrying Washington.

Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Kansas and Ohio in the middle West, have all given the same kind of an indication of their preference. In Kansas, for instance, 138,916 voters cast their ballots in the Republican primaries and only 47,445 in the Democratic primaries. In Michigan the vote was 284,640 Republican and 29,935 Democratic; in Illinois 420,959 Republican and 238,509 Democratic; in Ohio, 282,478 Republican and 188,343 Democratic, and in Wisconsin 83,072 Republican and 39,601 Democrats. Yet the Democratic managers have been talking about carrying each of these states. Such talk is simply preposterous.

New York is in line with 298,897 Republican and only 158,718 Democratic primary votes.

There is only one answer, and it is as plain as a pikestaff. The people have made up their minds to beat Woodrow Wilson, and they are anxious to get the chance to vote. They are waiting watchfully and most impatiently for that November day which will give them the privilege of signing his discharge papers. That is what these primary votes mean and nothing else on earth.

D. A. R. Is Aroused by Mrs. Story's Defense of Baker

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—War is brewing in the ranks of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Some of the officers last night signed the resolutions demanding Secretary Baker's resignation because he compared the conduct of revolutionary soldiers to that of Mexican bandits.

To-day, like a bombshell, came the announcement through Mrs. Frank A. Greenawalt that Mrs. William Cumming Story, president general of the organization, did not sanction the action taken. And Mrs. Story has some zealous supporters of her position.

The two factions are sharply divided. The protestants still insist that they were in the right. Some extremely prominent women signed the resolution. Among them was Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, the only surviving founder; Mrs. Gaius Brumbaugh, state regent of the district; Miss Grace M. Pierce, the registrar general, and Miss Catherine Barlow, curator general.

"We waited five days after Secretary Baker's remarks for Mrs. Story to repudiate and resent the Secretary's remarks on behalf of our ancestors," said Miss Pierce. Wilson on Labor

"I am a fierce partisan of the open shop."
Woodrow Wilson. (1909.)

"The class formed by the labor organizations and leaders is a formidable enemy to equality and betterment of opportunity." Woodrow Wilson. (1907.)

"Labor unions drag the highest man to the level of the lowest." Woodrow Wilson. (1905.)

"The usual standard of the laborer in our day is to give as little as he may for his wages."
Woodrow Wilson. (1909.)

These are the convictions of a Presidential candidate when he was not in public life—when he was not running for office—when he was not looking for votes.

They are the expressions of a scholar, the teacher of political economy, the writer of text-books and histories.

Not the hasty, ill-considered opinions of an under-graduate, but the deliberate reasoning of a seasoned mind—of a university head.

These are the views that Woodrow Wilson held when he was preparing thousands of young men for their administrative responsibilities, forming their judgment upon the relations between employer and employee, fulfilling his function of interpreter and advisor toward countless students who have since engaged in business for themselves, become executive heads in vast organizations or teachers in turn for another generation of future employers of labor.

These are the opinions which he held when he did not expect to hold office, when it did not advantage him to express any other opinions.

Woodrow Wilson did not claim to become a friend in need to labor until he had need of labor's friendship for his re-election.

Because this course is typical of the man—because it is impossible to know what he really believes or how long he will continue to believe anything he claims to believe—because he is inconsistent and indecisive—we oppose his re-election.

Hughes on Labor

"There are some who regard organized labor as a source of strife and menace of difficulty; I regard it as a fine opportunity for the improving of the conditions of the workingman." Charles E. Hughes. (1908.)

"The mission of labor organizations is one of the finest that any organization of men could guard."
Charles E. Hughes. (1908.)

"He was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the governor's chair. He signed fifty-six labor laws (one-third of all passed in the state since 1777), among them many of the best ever enacted in this or any other state. He urged the enactment of labor laws in his messages to the legislature, even going so far as to demand a labor law at an extra session. Human rights has a steadfast and sympathetic upholder in the new justice."
N. Y. Legislative Labor News. (1910.)

These are not new opinions from the Republican candidate nor a recent estimate concerning him.

Hughes recorded his stand on labor not when a candidate for office, but as a governor of New York soon to retire from political life to become a Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, where he expected to remain for the rest of his life.

They were the convictions of Charles E. Hughes on the eve of joining the highest tribunal in America, a court of last resort—at a time and in a situation when no possible advantage could accrue to him from any public expression.

No estimate of his fitness to fill the office of President with firmness, fairness and justice can be stronger than the above comment from a review of his career as governor by the organ of the New York State Federation of Labor.

He has no need to talk—he has done.

He said what he believed then—he believes what he said, now.

Therefore we support the candidacy and the convictions of Charles E. Hughes.

WILSON NOW LEADS POLL BY 17,640

President Holds 7 to 5 Margin as Nation-Wide Postal Ballot Reaches Total Near 130,000.

Ohio Is Surprise of Vote, Showing Hughes Far Behind; Chicago Is Strong for Wilson.

With postal card ballots in the nation-wide presidential poll being conducted by the Chicago Examiner and 100 associated newspapers pouring in at the rate of 10,000 a day, indications are that President Wilson is holding tightly to the lead given him almost from the start of the count.

Up to late last night almost 130,000 ballots had been returned by voters in all sections of the country. Mr. Wilson's share of these was 71,999, Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican candidate, receiving 54,359.

Last Saturday night Mr. Wilson had a plurality of 14,964 over his opponent. Last night his plurality was increased to 17,640.

OHIO PROVES SURPRISE.

Ohio, which alone gave the President a plurality of almost 11,000 last Saturday, yesterday increased this to almost 13,000.

Illinois continues to remain on the Hughes side by a margin of 18 votes. Chicago, however, also continues in favor of Wilson, the President's lead over Mr. Hughes in this city being 14 votes.

Minnesota, another Republican state, is another of the surprises of the poll, showing a two to one preference for Mr. Wilson.

New York, with 15,000 total ballots returned, gives Mr. Wilson a plurality of approximately 2,150 votes.

New Jersey, the President's home state, thus far has lined up with Mr. Hughes on a 3 to 2 basis.

Close contests are indicated in the New England States, Pennsylvania, Colorado and several other Western states, although the straw voting in these thus far has been rather light.

The Examiner's Presidential poll has reached proportions far in excess of the expectations of the many readers who have written to express their appreciation of so comprehensive a straw vote.

Each mail brings hundreds of postal cards that have been mailed to registered voters throughout the United States, and the results of the ballots collected by associated newspapers from coast to coast are being wired to the Examiner hourly.

500,000 BALLOTS EXPECTED.

As it is the intention of the Chicago Examiner to publish these figures daily between now and election day, it is expected the grand total will exceed 500,000 ballots.

The tabulated tables as presented in the Sunday Examiner, enable the reader to tell at a glance just the drift of the vote this year from the three candidates in 1912. The shift from Taft to Hughes is about as might have been expected, but many more Roosevelt votes are finding their way into the Wilson column than the most sanguine Democrat might have expected.

In next Sunday's Chicago Examiner additional and more complete figures will be printed, after the form used in last Sunday's Examiner. Today only a condensed tabulation is presented.

The postal poll by states to date is as follows:

States—	Hughes.	Wilson.
Illinois	599	581
Ohio	34,337	47,093
Kentucky	1,456	2,150
Indiana	2,374	1,866

New Jersey	994	675

What the Doctor Knows

KIDNEYS MUST BE RIGHT TO INSURE HEALTH

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's Disease, which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in one year, in the State of New York alone. Therefore, it is particularly necessary to pay more attention to the health of these important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation, in most cases, is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy.

When your kidneys require attention, get Swamp-Root at once from any pharmacy. It is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1.00.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure to mention the Chicago Daily Examiner.

Hoyne, Miller and Cunnea Speak at Church Meeting

Each Candidate Tells Why He Is Entitled to Vote of the Religious Element.

Speaking from the same platform yesterday the three candidates for State's Attorney, Maclay Hoyne, Harry B. Miller and William A. Cunnea, told why their candidacies should receive the support of the churches. They spoke at a meeting of the Church Federation.

"I ought to have the support of the good people," said Mr. Miller, "because I won't receive the support of the bad element. It has been charged 'against me' that I was a member of the Salvation Army and that my mother also belonged to the army. If that is against me and causes my defeat I shall accept defeat with a smile. My whole life has been devoted to religion and the uplift of mankind.

"There is not an element of graft in my candidacy," said Mr. Cunnea, "and you will not see my picture hanging in any saloon in Chicago. In 1912 of the 388 votes cast in the Twenty-sscond street 'red light' district I got just one vote. No man is paying for my campaign."

"I have cleaned up the arson and clairvoyant gangs," said Mr. Hoyne, "the labor sluggers and the detective bureau. I am now cleaning up the City Hall."

LOWDEN IS ON TRAIL OF CONTRACTS

Points to Award of $4,900 for $1,820 State Job to Back Contention of Dunne Extravagance

BY W. C. I. HALLOWELL.

Determined to kick up a maximum of campaign dust on the downstate political highway before pulling out to give the Bryan-Dunne mount the right of way, the Republican state candidates stepped on the accelerator in Joliet yesterday.

The Democrats of Joliet staged an opposition demonstration last night two blocks from the Lowden meeting with Secretary of War Baker and Attorney General Lucey as the attractions. Each side put on a parade.

The Republican proceedings during the day involved eighteen meetings, were full of pepper, with a fitting last act in a rousing reception at Joliet, when Colonel Lowden uncorked another specific charge against the Dunne administration.

Mr. Lowden said:

It is admitted that Governor Dunne's administration will cost the state $34,000,000 more than any Republican administration in the history of the state.

In 1913 the live stock commission decided to build a bridge or fill-in over a sewer near the state biological laboratory. The contract was awarded without advertising, in defiance of the statutes of the state, to R. E. Egan for the sum of $4,900. It was stated by a Chicago newspaper, and, so far as I know, there has never been any denial of the statement, that Egan sublet the contract to Charles E. Van Wormer, and that he, in turn, sublet it to one Smith, who received $1,300 for the job, and that Egan did a small amount of work amounting to $520. The work was worth, therefore, presumably $1,820, though the state paid $4,900 for the job.

Do not these things help to explain the $17,000,000 which has escaped, in some way, Governor Dunne's attention?

At eighteen stops Colonel Lowden intensified his attacks upon the Dunne administration, Medill McCormick roared maledictions upon Woodrow Wilson and Speaker Shanahan served solemn warnings that the people's blood would be upon their own heads if they elected a Democratic Legislature or Congress.

Kills N. Y. Sheriff; Barricades Home; Fights 30 Police

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Frank Taff, a demented inventor, shot and killed Paul Stier, sheriff of Queens County, to-day and then, turning his home into a fortress, held at bay a besieging party of thirty armed police, wounding four before he was killed in a two-hour battle.

Taff lived as a squatter at Whitestone Landing with his wife and six children. Recently the Long Island Railroad sold the property to a moving-picture company headed by Mary Pickford. Taff was told he would have to move. He threatened the deputies with death.

To-day Sheriff Stier approached, accompanied by a policeman and an under sheriff. Taff rushed indoors. The sheriff and his men dashed after him and at the top of the stairs Taff fired. The charge from a shotgun tore into the sheriff's heart and he fell dead. Taff then took up a position on the roof of his home.

Among the police reinforcements was Sergeant James Fitzgerald of Flushing, formerly a sharpshooter in the United States cavalry. After three policemen had been wounded Fitzgerald got aboard the United States torpedo-boat destroyer Henly.

"Hey, pop," he called, "you'd better give up. I'm a sure shot and I don't want to kill you."

The roar of Taff's shotgun followed. The cavalryman was shot in the leg, but returned the fire. The old man straightened to his knees and his body went rolling down the roof.

Taff was fifty-eight years old. In all his life he has never recognized the law.

Rural Credits Ended Panics, Says Houston

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Oct. 23.—"The greatest domestic accomplishment of the Democratic administration," said Secretary Houston in speaking here to-night, "is in having given the country a new and modernized banking system in the passage of the federal reserve and rural credits laws.

"The Republican party revealed its incompetency to deal with this question. The Democratic party promptly accepted the opportunity and executed it in such fashion that the currency question has been eliminated from the realm of political discussion. It has done more—it has so safeguarded the credit structure of the nation as to render panics improbable.

"The Democratic party has recovered for the people of the nation the control of their finances. It is a most interesting outcome that financial conferences about great matters are no longer held in the bankers' offices in Wall street, but in the office of the Secretary of the Treasury in Washington."

McKinley Gives a Home for Girls to Booth Volunteers

Plans for Year Are Discussed at Conference of Organizations' Officers.

Progress of the Volunteers of America in 1916 and plans for future work were outlined last night at a meeting of General Ballington Booth's cabinet in the Planters Hotel.

General Booth announced the gift by Congressman William B. McKinley of an institution at Ashland boulevard and Congress street to be operated as a working girls' home.

"It is not a rescue home," he explained, "but a place in which working girls may live. Our work deals more with preventive methods than with the rescue of those who have fallen.

"Other new properties of which the convention shall be informed to-morrow are in Boston and New Orleans."

Colonel and Mrs. Fred Lindsey of Boston, commanders of the New England Regiment of Volunteers, were received into the cabinet, which comprises all Volunteer officers ranking as colonel or above. Mrs. Lindsey is famed in the organization as the "Welsh Nightingale."

The cabinet re-elected General Booth president and General Edward Fielding of Chicago vice president of the board of directors. The meeting was not public and was given over principally to discussion of internal policy and problems of the Volunteers.

Meetings of the grand field council, comprising officers ranking as majors or above, were held throughout the day yesterday.

PATROLMAN'S NOTE TO WIFE EXPLAINS SHOT

Gelouse Doucet Found Wounded in Brain; Missive Says Farewell to Mate.

Patrolman Gelouse Doucet of the Kensington Police Station, found shot in the brain at Ninety-fifth street and Calumet avenue early yesterday, is believed to have attempted suicide. At first it was supposed he had been waylaid.

A note in Doucet's handwriting, addressed to his wife, was found in his pocket. It indicates he had planned to kill himself.

The note reads:

My Dear Sweetheart—I cannot stand it any longer. I thought it best to end it all. You did not know how it broke my heart to hear you say that you were sick, and I knew it was all my fault. The Lord take care of you and our darling boy. Good-by, sweetheart; don't worry. Lovingly, JOE.

At her home, 5172 South Robey street, Mrs. Doucet told Captain Cronin that she had been in ill health for months, and that her husband was worried because they thought she was to become a mother.

When Doucet was found yesterday morning the police at first announced that his automatic pistol, with a full magazine, had been found in his hip pocket, indicating another person had shot him.

Surgeons say his recovery is doubtful.

BOY MUSICIANS ARE STARVING IN STREETS

Contract for $2,000 Broken, Manager of Russian Juveniles Makes Public Appeal.

An appeal was made last night by Joseph J. Topper, manager of the Russian Juvenile Concert Band, composed of forty-two Russian and Polish immigrant boys who are trying to support their mothers and relatives by their music, for some responsible citizen or organization of Chicago to come to their immediate aid.

"We came here under contract for two weeks at $1,000 a week," Mr. Topper said. We haven't received a nickel. The boys are almost starving. We were ejected from the Grand Pacific Hotel to-day and have no place to go. The hotel, through Joseph Leiter, took $340 off our hotel bill of $601. It will take $340 for us to get back to Canada, and we haven't a cent.

"A Chicago newspaper man and Eugene Quigley, manager of the Strand Theater, brought us here under contract. We played at the Strand from October 8 to October 11, and then they told us to lay off for awhile. We got nothing. We played a concert Sunday and got nothing.

"We keep asking the newspaperman and Quigley for money, and they keep putting us off. The newspaper man says he didn't sign the contract, but I have a witness who says he can show that he directed Quigley to sign his name to the contract.

FATIMA

A Sensible Cigarette

More men are now smoking SENSIBLY—

MEN ARE willing to think a little more carefully today even about the cigarette they choose.

That is good sense. For if an otherwise good cigarette is unfortunate in its blend—if it disturbs after continued smoking—it is not worth while.

The one reason why Fatimas appeal strongly to so many thinking men is that they do not disturb. Fatimas are truly comfortable—comfortable to throat as well as tongue. And they always leave a man feeling fine and "fit" even after a long-smoking day.

Movie Actresses and Their Hair

Did it ever occur to you that every movie actress you have seen has lovely hair, while the most popular count their curls as their chief beauty? In fact (this is a secret), many are leading ladies just because of their attractive locks. Inquiry among them discloses the fact that they bring out all the natural beauty of their hair by careful shampooing, not with any soap or makeshift, but with a simple mixture which they make up for themselves by putting a teaspoonful of canthrox (which they get from the druggist), in a cup of hot water and applying this instead of soap. After its use their hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. The hair is so fluffy that it looks much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness is delightful, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

One Day's Shopping Filled My First Book of FEDERAL COUPONS

IT is astonishing the way FEDERAL DIVIDEND COUPONS pile up. In a few hours the book was filled. And all that I had done was to purchase needed things at stores right here near home.

When you consider how many different stores you deal with right in your own neighborhood—and that you get one FEDERAL DIVIDEND COUPON with each 5c spent at a FEDERAL DIVIDEND COUPON store—it is easy to realize how it could be possible for one short morning's shopping to fill a FEDERAL COUPON book. Exceptional as such an instance might be, it is well to bear in mind that, even under normal conditions, a FEDERAL DIVIDEND COUPON book is quickly filled.

Remember, it costs you nothing extra to get FEDERAL DIVIDEND COUPONS—and, by saving them systematically, you get valuable electrical appliances free. Leading neighborhood merchants can supply you with FEDERAL DIVIDEND COUPONS. Trade with the merchants who give them.

MAROONS START ON NEW ROAD

Stagg Gives Squad Lecture on Showing Against Purple and Then Puts Team to Work.

By Irving Vaughan.

BUSINESS around A. A. Stagg's football shop is in an unsettled condition. Many figured that after the trimming handed the Maroons by the Purple, Stagg would go into bankruptcy, but after looking over his assets the "Old Man" has decided otherwise. With the Wisconsin game only five days away, the Midway mentor is more determined than ever and he made a start along new lines yesterday by telling his men of the things they lacked when making their vain fight against Northwestern.

Things are going to happen on the Midway field between now and next Friday, but just what they are going to be only Stagg himself knows. That he has big changes under consideration is a certainty, but he refuses to let the public in on his secret. After saying a few things about Saturday's defeat, Stagg had his squad back in uniform yesterday and put them through the regular Monday drill, but by the workout gave no hint as to what his plans may be.

TEAM PLAY THE AIM.

One thing is a cinch and that is that if Stagg decides to stick by his original selections he will have to devote time to perfection in play. The raggedness of the Maroons was apparent even to the layman's eye in the Purple clash. This might be the result of lack of practice, but Stagg cannot be charged with letting his men off too easily. He had them going through hour after hour of strenuous sessions last week, but their play didn't show it.

The explanation is that Stagg, not fearing Northwestern, drilled his men on plays for use against Wisconsin and they were so thoroughly taken up with these that when they reverted back to the ordinary stuff they found themselves up a tree. They forgot some of the things taught them previously and that is just the way their playing appeared.

Assistant Coaches Page and Rademacher, who acted as Maroon scouts at the Wisconsin-Haskell battle, returned with accounts that didn't bring much of a smile to Stagg's face. The Chicagoans admitted the Badgers possess strength that cannot be accurately gauged. That seems to be the opinion on all sides—it is impossible to tell just how good the Badgers are. Stagg knows enough to fear them, however, and the Maroons will hold nothing in reserve to beat Withingtons' men.

DEFEAT MAY KILL SPIRIT.

The Northwestern defeat is bound to have some effect upon the future play of the Midway boys. Just what that effect will be, however, is problematical. It may turn out that such an unexpected reverse upset the men so completely that they will not rally again this season. Then again it may inspire them to redeem themselves in the hearts of the thousands who saw them as "Big Nine" championship possibilities. The dope is against their staging a "come back," and with three hard games ahead they will have a big job trying to arouse the waning enthusiasm.

Stagg is going to depend on shift plays for his drive against the Badgers. This style of attack demands a heady, shifty, drilled layout of talent, and the Maroons are lacking in these qualities. At least, apparently. Much can be done in a few days by Stagg, however, and if he lives up to his past he will overcome the present deficiencies. If not, then Wisconsin is not going to have a very hard job trying to win.

"Get Chicago" Is Campus Cry at Madison.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 23.—With Eber Simpson, veteran Badger quarter back, who plays half this season, on the side lines as a result of his injury in the Haskell game, Coach Withington sent the University of Wisconsin football squad through a signal drill and line scrimmage in the stock pavilion. Two days' rain has put Champ Randall in bad shape for any work thereon, and it is likely that the team will work indoors part of the week.

Simpson's place was taken by Ray Edler, who has played a whirlwind game whenever he succeeded in getting into the battles. It is a big question as to whether or not Simpson will be able to play Saturday, but the coaches are hoping for the best and are saving him from practice. After three years of poor showing on the gridiron, Badger fans are this year determined that the team shall win, and the campus cry represented in hundreds of tags and buttons that are being worn is, "get Chicago." If Simpson's injury does not disrupt the back field, varsity football followers believe the team can do it.

Keewatin to Play Loyola Team Here

Keewatin Academy will make its first local appearance in several years Saturday when it tackles Loyola Academy on the Loyola gridiron. Neither team has been defeated this season, while Loyola boasts of a record of 358 points in five games to their opponents' none.

TURNERS PLAY SAINTS

The Central Turners' indoor baseball team will play the champion St. Patrick's K. of C. indoor team Sunday afternoon at the Turners' gymnasium, 2046 West North avenue. The batteries will be Dillon and Gilfeather for St. Patrick's and Schultheis and Schuemann for the Turners.

REFORM.

"Yes," said the club owner, taking another pull at his Havana seegar and flicking the ashes carelessly on the Bokhara rug, "I have realized that the time has come to eliminate commercialism from baseball.

"Baseball, for years," he went on, "has been accepted as our national sport. No game ever promulgated by any other nation could ever hold a candle to it. It is the Alpha and the Omega, the ne plus ultra and the e pluribus unum of national pastimes.

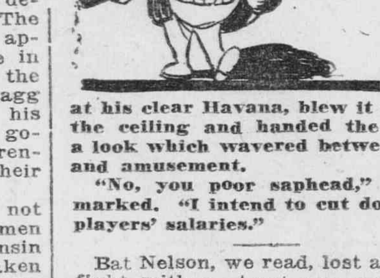
"But in later years there has come into our midst the germ of commercialism. That germ we must stamp out. We must cast it forth, deodorize it, sterilize it and otherwise render it hors du combat and non compus mentis.

"Sportsmanship in baseball has given place to financialism. Once a simple athletic game, it has become a complicated financial institution

"We must and we shall bring baseball back to its ancient standard of sportsmanship."

"Aha!" exclaimed the sporting scribe, thinking he had seen a great light. "You intend to cut down the price of admission?"

The magnate took another whiff



at his clear Havana, blew it toward the ceiling and handed the scribe a look which wavered between pity and amusement.

"No, you poor saphead," he remarked. "I intend to cut down the players' salaries."

Bat Nelson, we read, lost a verbal fight with a street car conductor. Bat didn't always fight that way.

We have always maintained that it is useless to start an argument with a conductor. He can always tell you where you get off.

Although difficult at times, it is not impossible to break a habit. We have no doubt that Stagg can bring himself to forget Purdue and fear Northwestern.

HOW COULD THEY HELP IT?

DEAR GEORGE—How could you expect anything else when Northwestern has a combination like Driscoll and Murphy? A. O. H.

"American Boxers Do Well In Australia." But not when they are boxing Les Darcy.

Mr. Allison of Carleton has been declared a professional, but he has made his mark in the athletic world.

He made a lot of Maroons look like amateurs.

There is no truth in the rumor that the Brooklyn club will be sold. Mr. Ebbetts absolutely refuses to sell his club unless somebody wants to buy it.

Recent events in football demonstrate that you can't squeeze blood out of a lemon. And yet, again, they demonstrate that you can.

Connie Mack is the freshman coach of baseball. When they become sophomores they begin to smell gold dust. When they become seniors Connie has to sell 'em down the river to save the mortgage on the old homestead.

Connie isn't worried about the initial cost. What bothers him is lack of upkeep.

WORSE THAN BASEBALL.

You cannot bank on football dope
Since Murphy walloped Stagg.
Some seek a rafter and a rope
Since Murphy walloped Stagg.
It used to be a yearly lark,
But now the scribes are in the dark—
They know not where to disembark
Since Murphy walloped Stagg.

Californians Work for Road Bond Issue

Los Angeles Commerce Chamber Forms Committee of 100 to Campaign for Proposition.

By Charles P. Root.

A good roads committee of 100 has been organized by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to campaign actively for the $15,000,000 proposed California state issue of bonds for highways to be voted on at the general election November 7.

In 1912 the state voted $18,000,000 for trunk roads north and south, with which 1,122 miles of paved highway has been constructed. An additional $12,000,000 is required to complete the system to include the 2,900 miles originally planned. The $3,000,000 additional, if the bonds are voted, will be utilized in the construction of new trunk lines, one of which will open up miles of hitherto inaccessible mountain scenery in the Mount Whitney district adjacent to Los Angeles, now famed for its hunting and fishing.

Interest on the proposed issue will be paid by the counties in proportion to the work done therein. It is believed this provision will aid materially in carrying the bonds. Los Angeles County will pay more than any in the state, but its high system will be benefited in proportion.

After this when a motorist sees a new Drexel car all dolled up running up and down Sheridan road he will be reassured that the Sheridan Road Improvement Association is up and doing. The association has been given a new car for use of its officials by the Drexel Motor Car Corporation of Chicago and the formal turning over of the car to the road officials took place yesterday morning.

A group of officials drove to the Drexel factory at Seventy-sixth and Wallace streets, where President Farmer of the Drexel Company formally presented the car to the association. Then officials, newspaper men and other guests drove to the Chicago Athletic Asosciation, where luncheon was served, topped off with cigars and speeches about the work of the association and what the motorists may expect in the coming year in the way of bettering the condition of that important highway.

Doty After Match With Spike Kelly

Spike Kelly, Doc Krone's welterweight, was to-day challenged to combat K. O. Al Doty of Canton, O. Doty meets Sam Robideau twelve rounds on October 24 at Canton, O., and Kelly has been promised the winner by the Canton promoters. Doty has a record of more than fifty wins and in a letter from Doty he is certain he can give Kelly a lacing.

Racine and Kenosha promoters are also trying to secure Jack Britton for Kelly. Clubs in both cities have wired Krone's welter, but up to date the Britton people have not replied.

Kelly is rounding into great shape at his Wrightwood avenue gym for his several fights the latter part of the month.

W. H. Spencer Is Champion Rifle Shot

Wins National Individual Match at Jacksonville From 929 Competitors.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 23.—American riflemen are to-night hailing a new champion rifle shot of the United States, as W. H. Spencer, a civilian of the Mound City Rifle Club, St. Louis, Mo., to-day won the proud title on the Florida range here. Spencer out shot and out nerved 929 competitors—a record number of entries—in the national individual match, scoring 274 out of a possible 300 points. Besides his title Spencer receives a gold medal and $80 in cash.

Second place went to First Sergeant F. L. Manon, First Delaware Infantry, with 271 points. He secured a gold medal and $75, while another gold medal and $70 goes to Sergeant Raymond Lecuyer, United States Marine Corps, who pulled up in third place with 270 points.

This match, the first on the program of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, is in point of interest the most important of the national matches, and is also the most valuable in prizes, as the first hundred competitors whose aggregate scores are the highest all get in the money.

Still another national match record was smashed when the 929 marksmen fired the entire course 200 rapid fire, 600 and 1,000 yards, twenty shots at each range, in one day. The competitors went to the firing point at 7 a. m. and the final relays were firing on the 1,000 targets almost up to the moment when the light entirely failed. While an October sun shown from a cloudless sky, the day was crisp and the riflemen faced a cold wind throughout the firing, making windage calculations, at times extremely difficult. With fifty-six teams, civilian and service, ready to commence firing, the national team match will get under way to-morrow morning. This contest will be concluded Wednesday. To-morrow also, the national individual pistol match will be fired.

Football League Gives Out Schedule

The Chicago Independent Football League held its regular meeting at the Windsor-Clifton Hotel. The schedule will be announced later. The Lexington-Cornell game will be played off after the league closes. The Blue Bell and Wallace played a close game, the latter team winning, 6-0. The Alpines-Lexington game ended when La Pres intercepted a forward pass and slipped up 6 points to Lexington's 0.

ASTEY AND LYNCH DRAW

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Willie Astey of New York and Joe Lynch, bantams, fought ten rounds to a draw here to-night.

M'DEVITT IS LOST TO PURPLE

Northwestern's Line Coach, Captain in Minnesota Militia, Is Ordered to Rejoin Regiment.

By Leo Fischer.

Uncle Sam, et al., including the well known army, has become as unpopular in Evanston as is possible among patriotic students. Captain Elmer McDevitt of the Minnesota militia has been ordered to rejoin his regiment at once, and inasmuch as McDevitt is line coach for the Northwestern football team, his loss has somewhat tempered the joy over the Purple's Chicago victory last Saturday. McDevitt left Sunday night for the Texas encampment and his services are regarded as lost for the remainder of the season.

McDevitt's regiment was one of the first to be sent to the border, and as it was not sent north in time for him to take up his duties as coach he obtained a two weeks' furlough. The furlough expired last Thursday and instead of reporting at once McDevitt asked for a further leave of absence.

He received no answer up to Saturday night and was just beginning to hope that his request had been granted when he received orders to join his regiment at once. The telegram came during the Northwestern celebration and the coach lost no time in obeying.

McDEVITT VALUABLE MAN.

McDevitt's loss will be keenly felt, as most of the credit of whipping the Purple's supposedly weak line into shape belongs to him. Time after time during Saturday's game the forward wall presented an impregnable front to the Maroons and often broke in and stopped plays for losses. Little hope is felt that McDevitt will be able to return in time for any of the remaining games.

Prospects for an easy victory over Drake were somewhat lessened yesterday when it was learned that the Iowans would outweigh the Purple nearly twenty pounds to the man. Drake cleaned up Washington University of St. Louis last Saturday, 20 to 0, and Coach Rogers of Northwestern, who was present at the contest, brings back some depressing stories of Drake's line smashing power. Purple fans, however, expect the team to have little trouble in winning Saturday's game, if the team shows half as well as it did in the Chicago contest.

STARS GET A REST.

In yesterday's drill the men who did the chief work last Saturday were permitted to rest and watch the other members of the varsity team and the freshmen go through their practice. Underhill and Ellingwood, who went into the backfield in the last half of the Chicago game, were in the back field with the second eleven against the freshmen, and with Williams, who was at quarter, were used in plays similar to those tried in Saturday's game. The freshman line seemed to be more impenetrable than that of the Maroons.

Mayer, who weighs 175 pounds and who was center on the Evanston Academy team two years ago, appeared for the first time as a member of the varsity team yesterday afternoon. He was placed at left tackle, and he may be used there in the game with Drake College next Saturday.

Drake Team in Good Shape for Purple Game.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 23.—Drake University resumed its practice to-day following its victory over Washington University Saturday. The players reported without serious injuries and should be in fine condition for the week-end game with Northwestern. The coaches say they used all their trick plays to defeat Washington, but will make slight effort to build up more for the Purple contest. They are now pointing the eleven for the annual game with Grinnell, a week from Saturday. To-day's practice consisted only of signal and formation work and was curtailed by a heavy rainstorm.

Dillon-Gibbons Go Is Officially On

Harry Sherman, boxing promoter of Minneapolis and moving picture magnate, returned to the city yesterday from New York with definite news that the proposed match between Mike Gibbons and Jack Dillon is clinched and that all forfeits will be posted not later than Saturday of this week.

"We had a bitter argument with Dillon, but rounded him up all right," Mr. Sherman said. "The trouble was entirely over the weight question, the difference being the two pounds between 161 and 163. Dillon wouldn't admit that he couldn't make 161 pounds, but said he didn't intend to for Mike Gibbons. Well, he won his argument all right, and here are the signed articles.

"The bout will be staged in Minneapolis probably on November 17, and Dillon has agreed to call off his eastern bouts and come on here and do his training. They will be here some time this week."

Dillon Hopes to Knock Out Battler

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 23.—Jack Dillon and Battling Levinsky are here ready for their twelve-round contest here to-morrow night. Dillon is entertaining hopes of scoring a knockout. They are to battle to a decision. The winner will be in line for some fat purses. The match is for the light heavyweight title.

DILLON WINS AGAIN

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis defeated Larry Williams of Philadelphia in a six-round bout here to-night. Dillon will meet Mike Gibbons of St. Paul November 10 in that city.

White Whales Des Anders in Pittsburgh Go

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 23.—Charlie White of Chicago gave a fine exhibition of boxing here to-night when he easily defeated Pittsburgh's best boy, Dick Des Anders, in a six-round bout before the Duquesne A. C. White had five of the six rounds. The second spell was even. The local boy put everything he had into this one frame, while White seemed content to let Des Anders hammer at him for the time being.

None of the Pittsburgher's blows hurt Charlie, however, until the fourth round, when through a little carelessness on the part of the Chicago championship aspirant he allowed Des Anders to land a right flush on the jaw. This blow spelled disaster for Dick, as White got his dander up and sailed in with right and left to face and neck, Des Anders being glad to hug for safety. But White wasn't to be denied and rushed his opponent, smashing blow after blow on Des Anders' head and face. Dick soon had a pair of cauliflower ears, but lived up to his reputation of being a rugged lad and was not knocked down.

In the first part of the fight White used nothing but a left. His jolts rocked the local battler, who soon showed signs of punishment.

The Chicago boxer danced around his man in a masterly way. He made many admirers by the clever manner in which he blocked and ducked and then shot in that deadly left.

In the fifth round White handed out some terrible punishment. Des Anders didn't land a clean blow after the fourth round. White's defense foiled Dick and he simply couldn't keep away from that straight left of the Chicago man. The bell after the fifth was a happy sound for the local boy.

It seemed as though White was merciful in the last frame until the last half minute, when he started in and soon had Des Anders groggy. It was too late, however, for the Pittsburgher was on his feet when the final bell rang.

Seven Teams to Go in Dreamland Race

Seven teams will toe the mark for the start in the five-mile team race at the Dreamland Rink to-night. Incidentally this race promises to be one of the hottest events of the skating season. In addition to this five-mile event for the professionals there will be a five-mile individual race for the amateurs. A field of fifteen or more will start in the amateur race. The team race will bring out all of the Chicago cracks as well as those from other sections of the country. Cioni and Launey are teamed and are willing to make a personal wager that they will defeat Eglington and Blackburn, another favorite team. Woodward and Colston will represent the South; Martin and Krueger, Riverview; Kimm and Gillichson, White City; Laurey and Watts, Chicago, and Krahn and Glassbrenner, Detroit-Chicago. To-night's card has attracted more than the usual attention from the race fans, and Dreamland no doubt will be crowded to the doors when the starter sends the skaters away on their journey.

Three More Enter 100-Mile Grind

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Three additional entries for the Harkness gold trophy race were received to-day, bringing the total number of nominations for the 100-mile speed classic at the Sheepshead Bay Speedway Saturday afternoon up to twenty-four. George Buzane is one of the new entrants. He will pilot a Duesenberg. The other two are Weightman, a Philadelphian, who drives a Weightman Special, and Benedict of Katonah, N. Y., a newcomer who is named to drive a Benedict Special. Among those who practiced to-day were Resta, Rickenbacher, Henderson, Devlin, Devoré, Devigne, Le Cain, Chandler, Klein, Vail and Adams.

Kilbane Is After Bout With Welsh

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 23.—Jimmy Dunn, manager of Johnny Kilbane, world's featherweight champion, will leave in a da yor two for New York, where he will try to close with Harry Pollok, manager of Lightweight Champion Freddy Welch, for a bout between Kilbane and Welsh. Dunn thinks Pollok will listen to some sort of reasonable terms for a ten-round bout in New York City. The featherweight champion's manager will consider no matches until the Welsh bout goes through or falls flat.

Carleton Captain Held Professional

NORTHFIELD, Minn., Oct. 23.—"Stub" Allison, captain of Carleton's football team, has been declared ineligible. He was accused of having played in a professional game last Sunday.

BILLIARD NOTES

Walker Cochran averaged 12 in his 300-point match at 18-2 against Wilson Henderson at Mussey's last night and won, 300 to 200. Cochran had high runs of 87 and 35. Henderson, who looks to be one of the best of the local balkliners, had high run of 31 and averaged 8. Cochran will play Al Taylor at Milwaukee to-night.

JIM SCOTT MAY GO IN SOX TRADE

Report Is That Commy's Star Curve Baller Will Be Swapped for Either Maisell or Chapman.

By Larry Woltz.

You fans out on the South Side need not be shocked if you wake up some morning and read where one of the veteran pitchers of the White Sox outfit has been traded for an infielder. There is a strong tip going the rounds that a deal is now being cooked up. Although it is denied by Sox officials, there must be a little fire where there is so much smoke. James Tokio Scott, as we have it, is the demon hurler who will be placed on the market. Incidentally, that old bird ought to bring something good in exchange, for he is one of the acknowledged stars of Ban Johnson's sterling organization.

Jim Scott did not have a good season in 1916. But that has nothing to do with what he may do in 1917. It is a lead pipe cinch that he is far from through. There's plenty of good curving left in that big right arm of his and every manager around the American League circuit is well aware of it.

TIP IS OUT ON SCOTT.

This being the season for trades, it is but natural that Chicago's ball clubs should come in for their share of attention. From one close to the White Sox, the tip is out that "Scottie" will be put on the market.

The White Sox, in order to go through next Summer, will need another infielder, one of experience and ability. There are two such men in the league believed to be obtainable, provided the White Sox are willing to give up something worth while. The infielders in question are Fritz Maisell of the Yankees and Ray Chapman of the Indians. It sounds queer that two such classy fellows are obtainable, but it is the truth.

In New York Maisell is a failure as an outfielder. His position is third base and it is there he wants to play. However, Manager Donovan has Frank Baker hanging around and as long as that individual is fit he is going to cavort at the far bag. Maisell came very close to coming to the White Sox last Summer and would have done so had he not broken a leg.

CHAPMAN WANTS CHANGE.

It is known that Chapman wants to get away from Cleveland. His last year was a poor one and the Cleveland fans, despite what he has done for the club in the past, are inclined to "ride" him. When the home fans start "riding" a player it's time for a change of scenery. Lee Fohl could part with Chapman and it is a moral certainty he could use a pitcher of the Jim Scott class. If Scottie must go, as the rumor has it, Comiskey may be fortunate enough to land either Maisell or Chapman.

* * *

Speaking of Fohl, word comes from Cleveland that he will be retained as manager of the Indians. Fohl went along and made a lot of money for the Indian owners last season, keeping his team well up the first half of the season. He doubtless would have been a contender to the finish had not Guy Morton, his best pitcher, gone lame along with Ed Klepfer, who started off like he was in for a big season. Klepfer developed a severe attack of tonsilitis and where he should have worked in twenty-five or thirty full games toiled in only six or seven. With two good pitchers out of it and Chapman going badly, you can't figure that Fohl was a failure as a manager.

Fohl made one mistake. Toward the latter part of the season he traded Infielder Leonard and Outfielder Smith to Washington for Pitcher Boehling and Outfielder Danny Moehler. That was his one "boner" of the season.

* * *

Hughey Jennings already has started rebuilding his pitching staff for next season. Believing he has picked up some lively youngsters via the purchase and draft routes, he recently cut one of his veterans off his list. Jean Dubus, the hurling Frenchman, was the first to go. He has been released to the Chattanooga Southern League Club.

NEWS From the FOOTBALL CAMPS

IOWA.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 23.—Working lightly on a flooded field this afternoon, Iowa football players, still sore from the Purdue game, did no scrimmaging. Coaches Jones and Kent will teach the freshmen Gopher plays that Kent observed in Minnesota's games with the Dakotans. Kent declares that the Minnesota shift is a terrific play to combat. The Hawkeye lineup, despite the bruising game with Purdue, is nearly intact. Bowlesby has a wrenched ankle, but Captain Laun, Jenkins and McKee, all put out of the game Saturday, are ready for work now. Uncle Sam telegraphed Leighton, substitute end, to-night to return immediately to Company A, engineers, Brownsville, Texas.

MINNESOTA.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 23.—A handful of students watched the Gophers to-day in a laboratory section of practice. The freshmen team was drilled in Iowa formations as observed by a scout at the Hawkeye-Purdue game Saturday and they will be pitted against the varsity to-morrow. Scouts from Chicago, Illinois and Wisconsin reported that these teams aren't to be underestimated and the Badgers are expected to give the Gophers the hardest rub.

PURDUE.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 23.—Coach O'Donnell, in talk to the Boilermakers to-night, criticized them severely for their lack of fight displayed against Iowa and told them he would not tolerate such poor spirit any longer and that any man who would not fight would be sent to the bench to make room for one who would. O'Donnell told them that, man for man, they were a better team than Iowa, but did not show it Saturday, and that the Hawkeyes won, not because of their superiority, but because of their greater fighting qualities. He then proceeded to send them through the longest signal drill of the season.

INDIANA.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 23.—Indiana's final week of practice before the Tufts game at Indianapolis next Saturday started this evening with the varsity making the best showing against the freshmen they have made this season. The nine new plays Coach Stiehm has given out for the coming encounter worked for great gains on the yearlings. The varsity line charged faster and the men carrying the ball were given interference that counted for big gains. Indiana tackling is also showing marked improvement.

MICHIGAN.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 23.—Yost gave his first string men an easy day following their hard battle with M. A. C. on Saturday. Boyd, Weske and Wieman were given a lot of attention, as they will bare the brunt of the Orange attack. Practice will be secret all this week. Yost sent his reserves against the freshmen in a forty-minute scrimmage in an effort to locate some capable substitutes, but the workout was disappointing, none of the varsity men showing any ability either on defense or offense.

NOTRE DAME.

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Oct. 23.—After a layoff of four days the varsity was put through a stiff scrimmage in addition to being sent against the freshmen in a hard game. A few of the regulars were absent from the lineup, and Franz, Yaeger and King were given a show on the line. They improved their chances by starring in a few of the plays. Of the new men, Murphy, quarter back, who got away with a few neat passes, and Gipp, full back, who punctured the line for large gains, were the players who stood out above any others.

PRINCETON.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 23.—Burleigh Cruikshank, former Washington and Jefferson star, and now coach of the Princeton freshman eleven, brought his squad to University Field this afternoon and lined them up against the 'varsity. For an hour the two teams scrimmaged and the freshmen came within an ace of scoring through a series of end runs and forward passes. The Cubs proved easy for the varsity on the defense. Phil Kauffmann, captain of the 1918 freshman team, and sub-tackle last year, was on the field to-day after a month's absence.

HARVARD.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 23.—Skull work took up more than one hour of Harvard's practice this afternoon with Reggie Brown, strategist, presiding over an interesting blackboard outline of what he culled during two hours stay at the Cornell-Bucknell game Saturday. Brown impressed the squad with the toughness of the Cornell team that Dr. Sharpe is bringing to Boston this week. He hinted that the Crimson in comparison was like a stable of selling platers.

YALE.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 23.—Yale's eleven was to-day organized for the Washington-Jefferson game on Saturday. Callahan and Vorys, the leading candidates for center, were found to be crippled and will not be available next week. Rex Hutchinson, the former fullback, was assigned to center and Howell Van Nostrand was given the quarterback position. Because of a slight attack of sore throat, Halfback Bingham did not play, Harold Carey of the scrubs being promoted to his position for the afternoon. The varsity failed to gain consistently, although the third eleven instead of the second opposed them. In closing the scrimmage Coaches Tad Jones and Arthur Brides went into the lineup, at quarterback and right guard, respectively. Jones, with Captain Black's interference, broke free for a touchdown. Van Nostrand made the only other touchdown.

CORNELL.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 23.—The Cornell football squad did not get out of doors to-day. The coaches put in the afternoon at football school, in which details of the plays to be used against Harvard were worked out and sharp criticisms were made of the weaknesses of the plays against Bucknell. Miller, left guard, and Benedict, left halfback, who were out of the lineup all last week with injuries, are ready to resume active work to-morrow.

Fraternity Defends Red Sox Players

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The reports from American League headquarters to the effect that the members of the Boston Red Sox, world's champions, and other players enrolled in the league may be fined for participating in so-called barnstorming games after the close of the regular season has brought forth a vigorous protest from the baseball players' fraternity.

President David L. Fultz stated here to-day that the fraternity cannot recognize the right of organized baseball to fine its members for such an alleged offense, and further pointed out that players were acting well within their legal rights in taking part in such games.

FINUCANES WIN THREE PIN GAMES

Windy City League Team Sets Fast Pace, Bowling an Average of 980 Against Olsens.

Finucanes set a fast pace in the Windy City league last night when they bowled an average of 980 against the Olsens and picked up three easy victories. Jim Danek, who is around the top in the individual race, cleaned up another big series as the leading Irishman, showing 619 for his shoot. Jim Wolf and Huettner also showed well.

The Howe Academy club, which is tied for the lead with the Birks, cleaned up the odd at the expense of the national champion Commodore Barrys after being nipped in the opener when Banck wore out his brakes on a 145 game. Al Sallander batted over 200 in the series.

The Mendels, who are well in the hunt, ran up three wins at the expense of the Monarchs, but the first game was a hairline finish with one pin difference for Ed Hovorka's players.

Fred Koplein loosened up with a 645 mark in the Concordia league, which set the pace for the other teams in the big Lutheran circuit. Charley Meyers with 632 led the Blouins to a double victory over the Brinkmans in the Bruck league, the O'Connells winning two from the Murphy Brothers in the same league.

Other features of the night were Herman Strey's 614 in the Prima, Egan's 612 in the Lawler, Ed Hosly's 601 in the Bryn Mawr, Gus Johnson's 244 game and Meyers' 615 in the Fire Insurance league.

Deerfield Heavies Wallop Lagrange

With Right Halfback Buridge leading the attack in the second half, Deerfield High heavyweights annexed a 14 to 0 victory over Lagrange at Highland Park yesterday. The game was a Suburban League contest which originally was scheduled for last Saturday. Buridge was the hero, scoring both touchdowns and kicking both goals. Lagrange played a scrappy game and held the home players throughout the first half, which ended 0 to 0. Bilby played well for the losers.

$2,450,000 RECREATION BONDS WIN IN COUNCIL

Finance Committee Majority Is Beaten 43 to 21, in Bitter Fight; Stays on the Ballot.

Michaelson Hints I. C. Road Influenced Foes of the Issue; Merriam Defends Mrs. Purvin.

The $2,450,000 bond issue for recreation purposes will be on the ballot November 7. The attempt to have the ordinance creating it repealed failed yesterday afternoon at a bitter session of the City Council. The vote which killed the repeal measure was 43 to 21.

Alderman Michaelson, one of the administration's exponents, led the fight against the action of a majority of the finance committee, who recommended the repeal. He mentioned that the persons who appeared before the committee as antagonists of the bond issue were ill informed of city affairs. He hinted that their antagonism might have emanated from the South Park board and the Illinois Central Railroad.

Mrs. Moses L. Purvin, chairman of the bathing beach committee of the Woman's City Club, was the woman who appeared before the finance committee to urge that the bond issue be not submitted until the Spring election.

GIVES DEFI TO OPPONENTS.

"You West Side aldermen," shouted Alderman Michaelson, "dare not vote against this bond issue, because your people won't stand for it."

It was then that Alderman Merriam arose to the defense of Mrs. Purvin. He began a slashing criticism of Alderman Michaelson for the latter's insiuation that Mrs. Purvin was in league with the Illinois Central Railroad.

"Why doesn't he mention a name outright,' said Alderman Merriam, "so that he can be sued for libel. I trust that it is no high treason for citizens to appear before the finance committee and express their opinions openly. They should not be assailed and slurred on the floor of the Council as they have been to-day."

The most turbulent period of the meeting came during the course of the roll call. Alderman Utpatel, then immune from reply from Aldermen who proceded him on the call, arose with the declaration that the action of the finance committee, in trying to repeal the bond issue ordinance, was a case of "shifty, cheap politics."

CHEAP POLITICS, IS CHARGE.

"Cheap, rathole politics, that's all," he said. "There is political prejudice in the finance committee and I don't propose to fall for its bunk."

A two-thirds vote was necessary to obtain a suspension of the rules to bring the matter before the Council. This failed by a vote of 21 yeas to 43 nays, as follows:

Yeas—Werner, Schwartz, Hickey, Richert, Doyle, McCormick, Nance, Merriam, Kimball, Sitts, Murray, Geiger, Walker, Wallace, Capitain, Lipps, Pretzel, Watson, Kearns, Fisher and Buck—21.

Nays—Kenna, Coughlin, De Priest, Tyden, Cross, Vanderbilt, Block, Klaus, McNichols, Cullerton, Krumdick, Kerner, Anderson, Horne, Smith, Utpatel, Rodriguez, Zwiefka, Szymkowski, Walkowiak, Healy, Powers, Franz, Ellison, Bauler, Gnadt, Link, Kennedy, Littler, Adamowski, Hrubec, Byrne, W. J. Lynch, O'Toole, Pegram, Rea, Michaelson, Blaha, Toman, Janke, Thomas J. Lynch, Norris and Martin—43.

CONFUSION IS FEARED.

The reasons given by the majority of the finance committee for recommending the repeal action were the presence of the park consolidation act on the ballot at the same time, the confusion of a general election, the opposition of civic organizations and the fact that should the park consolidation act pass not so large a bond issue would be needed, as the city's taxing powers would be increased.

West Side Aldermen, however, voted almost in a body against suspending the rules so that the matter could be brought before the Council.

The proposal to give members of the fire department twenty-four hours off out of each forty-eight hours, except in cases of emergency, came before the Council in an ordinance recommended by the committee on schools, fire and police.

ACTION IS DEFERRED.

A motion was made that it be referred to the finance committee and this was followed by a motion that the finance committee recommendation be laid upon the table. The roll call on this stood 34 yeas to 18 nays.

Alderman Cullerton moved immediate adjournment and because of this action on the ordinance will not be taken until the next meeting.

The Council also—

Sent to the finance committee an order of Alderman Buck directing the White Paving Company to repave streets in the Thirty-third Ward where it has used inferior material.

Deferred for one week an ordinance creating a committee on appointments which would investigate all appointees of the Mayor.

Ordered the health committee to investigate charges that cold storage warehouses are holding up food to run up prices.

Churches Urged to Give Dances for Young Folk

Billiards, Bowling and Cards Also Recommended by the Rev. Arthur J. Francis in Work.

Dancing, cards, billiards and bowling were recommended for all churches last night by the Rev. Arthur J. Francis in a discussion of the boy and girl problem at a dinner of the Business Circle of Chicago.

"We must know the real conditions that bring about bad results among our people," he said, "and to this end our organization will dig diligently and deeply.

"We must keep the boy and girl at home and in the church. The churches must enter more largely and liberally into the play problems of its youth. The church should have and maintain billiard, bowling and card rooms and have dancing connected with its regular work to keep the boy and girl. This can be done and no scruples shocked."

The Rev. Mr. Francis recently resigned from the pastorate of the Pilgrim Congregational Church to become secretary of the newly organized Chicago Community Trust, an organization of wealthy men for philanthropic, charitable and research problems.

Tries to Steal $250 Fur; Gets a Parole

"Mrs. Helen Morgan," who admits that is not her name, was placed on parole for a year yesterday by Judge Beckwith in the South Clark Street Court. She was arrested for attempting to steal a $250 fur collar. She said she went to the store with a man, who promised to buy the fur and then left. The girl was wearing the fur and "looking for the man" when arrested. She said her husband is a traveling salesman and her father a minister.

10 Men Face Trial in 'Bankrupt Ring' Today

Ten men will face trial to-day before Federal Judge Wright on charges that they organized a bankruptcy ring that systematically fleeced creditors out of thousands of dollars. Chief among the indicted defendants, all of whom are said to have operated in "Bankruptcy Row"—between Canal and Halsted streets on Twelfth street—are Abe Krecum, Sam Rosenthal, Louis Mandel and Benjamin Shaffner.

Doctors Prescribe, She Puts Names on Checks

She's not sick—she's sick. So say the police of many Indiana cities when they speak of "Florence Allen." They say the girl has collected more than $5,000 lately by imposing on physicians and forging their signatures. The method is said to have been simple: Pretend to be sick, get a prescription from the doctor, then transfer the signature from the prescription to a check.

LOOP CROWD IN PANIC AS POLICE FIRE

Man Accused of Burglary Escapes From Detective; Runs Through Thronged Department Store.

Men and Women Dodge in Front of Auto and Cars; Fugitive Is Finally Recaptured in Jam.

A man accused of burglary, pursued by two detectives firing revolvers, ran back and forth in State street, through the Masonic Temple and the crowded main floor of a department store last evening, frightening women into hysterics.

A story was circulated in the loop that several men had been killed in a riot. The patrol wagon from the Harrison Street Station and a dozen detectives from the detective bureau tore through the thoroughfares and added to the excitement.

Men and women, panic-stricken, ran blindly in front of autos and street cars. State and Randolph streets for several blocks were filled with scared citizens.

The fugitive, Edward Marquette, finally became wedged in a jam of terror-stricken humanity in the doorway of a department store, and was taken in charge by Detective Sergeant William P. Gorman. The police say he has served several penitentiary terms. Marquette had been arrested coming from the Windsor-Clifton Hotel, with two bundles of women's clothing. At State and Randolph streets, he struck Gorman and ran. Gorman pursued, firing in the air, and was joined by Traffic Policeman James Costello. Across crowded State street swept the chase, through the Masonic Temple, and back across State and into Randolph street, the detective continuing to fire in the air.

Into the department store Marquette plunged and plowed a furrow through the whole block of shoppers and clerks to the Washington street doors, where he was recaptured.

75 Women Submit to Typhoid Blood Test

Seventy-five members of the Englewood Woman's Club submitted to a blood test yesterday to assist the health department in its efforts to locate the source of the epidemic of typhoid fever now prevailing among the pupils of the Englewood High School.

The operation consisted of taking a few drops of blood by pricking the lobe of the ear and was performed at the Englewood Masonic Temple, 6730 Wentworth avenue.

The women were all connected with the lunchroom at the school, where the health authorities suspect a "typhoid carrier."

Mrs. Joseph K. Brittain, vice chairman of the lunchroom committee, said the clubwomen were all very brave, but the test really did not hurt at all.

Analyses will be made to-day, but it will be several days before the results will be made public.

Helene's Lawyer Plans More Suits Against 'Zummie'

New Breach of Promise Action or Conspiracy Charge Forecast in Detroit.

More trouble for "Zummie"—his full name is Arnold Zumstein—was mapped out yesterday by Helene Wohlford's lawyer, John J. McMahon. A second breach of promise suit is one of the possibilities suggested by the lawyer. A conspiracy charge is another. And maybe both will be used.

Helene is a dancer in Chicago and "Zummie" is a wealthy Detroiter whom she loves dearly, she says, although he does't love her. When "Zummie" threatened to prove that he was the pursued and not the pursuer of Helene, she sent her lawyer straight to Detroit and told him to "get busy."

"Maybe we'll charge conspiracy," Mr. McMahon said last night in Detroit, "conspiracy in Zumstein's marriage with Ruth McLean—conspiracy to get her money. Or maybe we'll file a new breach of promise suit. What my client mostly wants, however, is to marry Mr. Zumstein."

"Zummie" said he wasn't worrying and that he "wouldn't pronounce Ruth's name in the same conversation with Helene's."

It is said that Helene's popularity as a cabaret dancer has increased considerably since her troubles got into print.

Coey Saves $10,000; Tomato Can as Lure

"There's one born every minute."

Charles A. Coey is back at his motor company's office, 2010 South Wabash avenue, bitterly admitting Barnum was right. Thus is explained why Mr. Coey is not going to get rich mixing water and oatmeal to produce gasoline.

Such a mixture was announced perfected by Harrison G. Shoupe of Sandusky, O., last Spring. It took six months of angling for him to get the astute Mr. Coey to bite. The motor man summoned the "inventor" to Chicago last week. Contracts were signed whereby Coey and Henry Bosch, wall paper manufacturer, were to purchase Shoupe's patent for $10,000 and allow him $500 a month for the rest of his life. It looked pretty soft for Mr. Shoupe. But——

Coey and Bosch went to Sandusky Friday to examine Shoupe's plant. They found a barn from the floor of which two rusty iron pipes arose. Those, said the inventor, connected with a 60,000 gallon tank of his water and oatmeal gasoline. While Shoupe wasn't looking, Coey pulled up one of the pipes. The 60,000-gallon tank proved to be a tomato can.

The deal was called off.

'Bat' Nelson in Court; Rows Over a Nickel

It was about a nickel.

"I've licked a man for less than that," declared Oscar Matthew ("Battling" Nelson in Judge Gemmill's court yesterday. He had been arrested for refusing to pay a fare after the conductor had told him his transfer was no good. "He was nasty about it, and he tried to push me off the car," said 'Bat.". "He's lucky I didn't lick him." The case was dismissed.

ATTY. JIRKA JAILED BY U. S. AGENT

Lawyer for Girls Who Demanded $15,000 From Iowa Merchant Is Accused in Another Case.

Posed as Federal Officer in Attempt to Defraud California Broker Clabaugh Charges.

Harold W. Jirka's practice of law in Chicago and elsewhere was interrupted last night by his arrest on a warrant sworn out by Hinton G. Clabaugh, chief of the Chicago office of the Department of Justice. It was while practicing things other than law, Mr. Clabaugh says, that the attorney impersonated a government officer with the intent to defraud Fred A. Stock of San Diego, Cal., of $1,080. Jirka has an office in the Otis Building.

Just how closely are allied the cases of Jirka and the government's cases against the "blackmail syndicate" Mr. Clabaugh declines to say. Stock is a broker who deals in horses for European governments, and it was for attorney's fees and nothing else that Jirka claims he collected the $1,080. The government, however, contends that the money was obtained through a go-between, Jacob Weinberger, who passed it on to Jirka and to Robert H. Garrick.

Garrick is now contemplating a charge of wife desertion in the county jail at Los Angeles. He is included in the charge against the Chicago man and is remembered by the government as the same man who accompanied Jirka on a trip to the western coast last Summer which ended in a general reunion at Ocean Beach of Jirka, Garrick and two Chicago girls, Doris Byrne and Peggy Reed. And the girls are none other than Jirka's "clients" in an alleged $15,000 "shakedown" from Francis Junkerman, wealthy Cedar Rapids merchant, who recently charged the Chicago attorney with blackmail. Jirka believes his new tilt with the government has been occasioned by Junkerman's "revengeful spirit."

"Alas, poor Garrick!" said Jirka last night. He spoke between the bars of a county jail cell. "I don't see why they dragged him into this. I don't understand it at all. Stock owes me money for fees and cash I lent him. I have his notes for $12,000. Only two weeks ago he wrote me a promise to pay them.

"Garrick is a client, too. One night he went out with a young woman in London and when he woke up they were married! That's why he's in jail, too. Now you know all about it. I never heard of this Weinberger. This is all Junkerman's fault."

Jirka was arrested at his home, 3203 West Twenty-second street. He was unable to give bond for $5,000.

French, Blackmailer, Goes to U. S. Prison.

Homer T. French was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. He pleaded guilty yesterday in New York to two indictments accusing him of complicity in the operations of the $1,000,000 national blackmail syndicate.

Then "Jimmie" Christian, another of the blackmailers arrested with French and others in Chicago, offered to stand a year's imprisonment to save his sweetheart, Buda Godman, from federal prosecution.

Buda was the beautiful "lure" alleged to have been used to mulct Edward R. West, wealthy Chicago importer, of $15,000 on threats to invoke the Mann act. And John C. Knox, special assistant Attorney General, replied that she must face trial.

Attorney Knox offered to let Christian plead guilty and promised him an eighteen months' sentence if he would. But Christian refused.

As a climax for French's sentence, the federal prosecutors at New York announced they would expose another gigantic blackmail plot. To-day they are going to arraign James A. Brown, another alleged member of the blackmail band, on a charge that he conspired with the others to fleece a society woman of Buffalo out of $12,000. They are alleged to have trapped her in a compromising situation at a hotel at Atlantic City.

Lee Answers Attacks on Adamson Law

W. G Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, in a circular received in Chicago yesterday makes this answer to the charge of Charles Evans Hughes that the Adamson law does not provide for an eight-hour day:

"No one acquainted with the subject ever contended it would prohibit work after eight hours. We all know roadmen cannot be relieved until a run is completed. If the railroads will apply the eight-hour law as intended train and yard employes can be given shorter hours."

33 Counts in 'Raffles' Case Heard To-Day

Adam Prochowski, chloroform burglar, will be arraigned to-day in the Shakespeare Avenue Court on thirty-three charges of robbery. Detective Sergeant Charles Wentzel arrested him two weeks ago in a pawnshop with $2,000 worth of jewelry in his clothing. His home was found a treasure house of loot. About $25,000 worth of jewelry is unidentified at the West North Avenue Station.

Mrs. Heil Defies Gossips

Husband's Loyal Defender Sees a Plot to Wreck Home

WILL BATTLE FOR TRUTH

Mrs. John Henry Heil, wife of school principal named in "poison pen" case, who says she will remain at home "to fight false accusations."

"Loeb Banished an Innocent Man From the State," Asserts Wife in First Interview.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

"Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Heil will fight their battle against false accusations and the opinions of a public wrongfully informed right here in the community in which they have lived for the last fifteen years," Mrs. Heil said yesterday, in the first interview she has granted since the story of her husband and Mrs. Marie Moore found its way into print.

"My husband did NOT write those letters defaming Mrs. Moore. I did not write them. The detective tried to get me to say I did, but I didn't say it.

"I used my influence to get a confession from my husband at the suggestion of a detective. I begged Mr. Heil to tell me whether he wrote any letters to Mrs. Moore or to others regarding Mrs. Moore. He denied any knowledge of the letters. I am convinced that there has been an attempt on the part of some one to destroy the reputation of my husband and to wreck our home.

TALK WITH MRS. MOORE.

"I confronted Mrs. Moore wih letters and a postal card which had been written to my husband when he was in Detroit last February. She admitted having written them. I begged her to have no further communication with Mr. Heil, and she promised she would not attempt to see him again. I told her that I wished her nothing but good, and she said: 'I am sorry for what I have done, and if you asked me to cut my hand off and give it to you, I'd feel that I ought to do it.'

"The postal card she sent him at Detroit had written on one side: 'My dear one, you are with me all the time.' On the back of it (and Mrs. Heil showed the card) is printed in fancy letters this verse:

Now I lay me down to sleep,
Your image in my thoughts I'll keep;
Then, separated though we be,
In happy dreams you'll visit me.

"Oh, it's been a terrible thing," Mrs. Heil continued. "The children adore their father, and they are on the verge of nervous collapse. Mr. Loeb didn't send Mr. Heil out of the city; he sent him out of the state. He is all alone, in a community where he knows no one and no one knows him.

"He hated so to leave us. He felt as if he had been banished. Kenneth, my seven-year-old son, said to me to-day: 'I wish I had gone with father'; and I felt that I should have sent one of the children to keep him company.

FIRST FAMILY TROUBLE.

"Perhaps Mr. Heil isn't entirely blameless. I am not trying to make him out an angel. But I can say truthfully that I have never had any trouble with him over any other woman.

"I'm worried about John. I have my home and children and loyal neighbors and friends in Morgan Park. I've had hundreds of letters from school children, alumnae from his high school and close friends. I wish he knew we have so many loyal friends. I haven't heard from him to-day, and all he will get will be the reports against him that the papers have printed. I'm terribly afraid the injustice of it all will be too much for him."

"I told Mr. Heil that I wanted to know the truth. I told him that it was all that I would accept. I didn't want the least little bit of falsifying if he wanted me to forgive him for his little indiscretions. He told me everything. I am convinced of it. Whenever he would remember some little detail, or some event concerning them that he had not told me, he came and gave me the full story. I am sure I know all now. He says his mind feels so relieved since he told me. The deceit was worrying him a great deal. He said to me before he went away early this morning: 'Oh, what a blind fool I was.'

"You know a man better versed in the ways of the world would have handled this situation differently. Mr. Heil is not an aggressive man, especially with women. He is positively timid. It would be only a woman who pressed him who could get his attentions away from his family. I realize so fully the whole situation. We don't want to go away; we want to stay at home. Morgan Park is home."

HEIL FIGHTS 'POISON PEN' CHARGE; TO HAVE TRIAL

Accused Principal to Get Hearing by Board of Education; Loeb Warns Against More Exposures

Damaging Exposures to Result, Predicts School Head; Heil's Lawyers Charge Blackmail.

The truth regarding the authorship of the "poison pen" letters attacking the character of Mrs. Marie Moore, "wonder woman" and school teacher, is promised at an investigation before the Board of Education.

Postoffice inspectors will be present. John H. Heil, the accused former principal of Morgan Park High School, says he will sue for reinstatement. Jacob M. Loeb, president of the school board, has agreed to give him a trial.

President Loeb admitted yesterday that Heil had not specifically identified any of the scurrilous letters or confessed that any of them were his handiwork. The school board head avoided trouble with federal authorities by announcing that he had discharged Heil for the love letters that had been written, not for the "poison pen" notes.

"A HEIL THE AUTHOR."

General James E. Stuart, divisional chief of the postoffice investigators, virtually disclosed his opinion, gained after months of inquiry, by asserting that "a Heil wrote the letters." He would not say that Mr. Heil wrote them.

A new sensation was tossed into the tangle by John F. Voight and Chester A. Macomic, attorneys for Heil. They said: "Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Heil is the author of those scurrilous notes and we are going to prove it." They intimated that blackmail may have been the thought of the author—that the real object was money and that Heil had been chosen as the victim.

But that the writer of the letters was a woman, shielded by Heil's resignation, which fastened the odium of guilt upon him, was strongly indicated last night by Mrs. George Ebinger, a close friend of Mrs. Moore, who lives at 1710 East Sixty-eighth street.

Mrs. Ebinger told of receiving not only the poison pen letters but, following them, several telephone calls from a mysterious woman who gloated over the discomfiture of Mrs. Moore from the scurrilous notes.

VOICE WAS STRANGER'S.

"I know the voices of my friends. This was a strange voice," said Mrs. Ebinger. "I have not the slightest idea who the woman is. Neither Mr. Ebinger nor I have ever met the Heils. Each of us received letters. This strange woman's voice always warned me against Mrs. Moore, and that was all."

It is upon this theory, that another person wrote the 600 letters sent broadcast to blacken the name of Mrs. Moore, that the attorneys for Heil hope to prove him innocent of the charge and win his reinstatement before the Board of Education.

"Heil never had a chance to defend himself," said Chester Macomic, one of Heil's lawyers. "It appears that Mr. Loeb constituted himself prosecutor, judge, jury and executioner. We do not consider Mr. Loeb's attitude in ordering Mr. Heil from the state the proper act of a public officer charged with the welfare of the children of citizens of Chicago. We shall demand a fair and impartial trial."

Mr. Loeb did not agree to the trial until late yesterday. He had announced that the incident was closed. But he changed his attitude, and last night issued this statement:

The published facts in reference to this school employe's conduct are so mild when contrasted with the vileness of the complete facts that if it be deemed necessary to expose in all its horror the conduct of this man for public perusal, simply to give him a trial, I will not interpose an objection. But in the interests of plain decency, to say nothing of pity for the culprit, I must leave it for his own determination.

If he requests a trial he may have it, but to continue publicity must work such an injury to the schools that those who knowingly promote it stand ever afterward condemned as enemies of the system.

Mr. Loeb told Postoffice Inspector Stuart he would give all the letters in his possession to the government.

STUART SEEKS PROOF.

"Mr. Loeb told me Heil did not confess that he had written any specific letters," said General Stuart. "He said that Heil had simply nodded assent as he wrote his resignation. I am not through with this case and I am not satisfied that Heil wrote them. I will say, however, that a Heil wrote them. That opinion is based on a careful investigation that has been going on for months under my direction.

"The night inquiry in the Board of Education rooms was the work of novices and it nearly spoiled our investigation."

The principals in the mystery—Mr. Heil and Mrs. Moore—remained in seclusion throughout yesterday. Oliver C. Moore, husband of the "wonder woman," said: "Heil is guilty. He sought to strip my wife of her good name. This is retribution."

Arche Fountain Open to Public

A landmark for future generations was dedicated yesterday when the fountain erected by the Arche Club at the Lincoln and Dixie highways was thrown open. Not only will travelers on the transcontinental trail find refreshment, but a spillway has been provided for birds and animals.

Members of the Arche Club accompanied Mrs. Joseph McClure Steele, president, and Mrs. Frank Durfee, chairman of the conservation department, in active charge of the work, to Chicago Heights yesterday morning. They were met by the Chicago Heights Auto Club and escorted to the Masonic Temple, where luncheon was served. At its conclusion the party adjourned to the fountain site.

Mrs. Steele presided, and in the absence of Governor Dunne, who was to have made the dedicatory address, Mrs. Durfee read his letter of regret, and dedicated the fountain as Mrs. Steele turned on the water. Members of the Chicago Heights City Council, who donated the site, and the high school and county boards were present.

The base of the fountain is of red Wisconsin granite, eight feet in diameter and three feet high. It forms the spillway.

Above this is a bronze standard six feet high, with four bubblers below a bronze bas relief of Lincoln and a plate engraved with the Gettysburg address. Surmounting this is the Arche crest.

The two sides of the square facing the intersection of the highways will be flanked with concrete benches and urns for flowering plants.

M-O-T-H-E-R Spells Billie Burke Now

Girl Born to Billie Burke

Addition to Ziegfeld Family Arrives at Their Apartment in New York Hotel.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—A tiny edition of Billie Burke, the former actress, was ushered into the world in the Hotel Ansonia to-day. Late to-night reports were that mother and daughter were progressing favorably.

Miss Burke is the wife of Florenz Ziegfeld Jr., the noted theatrical manager. The little stranger took up its abode in this city exactly at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon. At that moment Mr. Ziegfeld was busy superintending the rehearsals of his new all-star show, "The Century Girl," at the Century Theater.

Billie Burke and Mr. Ziegfeld were married in Hoboken in April, 1914. So carefully were the arrangements made that no one outside the parents of the principals knew of it for several days. Miss Burke appeared in "Jerry," the play in which she was starring at the time, the same evening of her marriage.

Hotel Notes.

THE developments in the war have necessitated a reorganization of the Dutch army system, according to Peter Schulmann, a dealer in antiques, who is at the Hotel La Salle. Previous to the conflict the Dutch army numbered nearly 300,000 men. But shortly after the outbreak of the war and after the standing forces had been mobilized, a new law was passed requiring that all men of unimpaired faculties between the ages of nineteen and thirty report immediately for military service. This increased the army until now there are almost 600,000 men enrolled and trained, ready to withstand invasion. Mr. Schulmann says that the authorities are contemplating raising this number by mustering in all men up to thirty-five years of age.

POLITICAL discussions over the teacups are quite the proper thing these pre-election days for the clubwomen seeking information concerning the parties they will or will not support next month. Yesterday's luncheon of the Women's City Club was devoted to fifteen-minute speeches from four national party representatives.

Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, whose plea for an amendment granting full suffrage to women was not supported at the recent convention of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association, and who is forming a new organization to further that end, was the first speaker.

Referring to the suffrage attitude of the Democratic party Mrs. McCulloch said:

"We who stand for peace aren't in favor of forcing suffrage on any one, but if Mr. Hughes had done as much for it as Mr. Wilson did by voting for it himself he might get a lot of votes that he won't get now.

* * *

"WE women aren't so worried about what our husbands will think of our voting as we were when we first got the vote, for we know now that when we get back of the curtain in the election booth with our conscience and our lead pencils our husbands won't know a thing about how we vote.

MRS. JOSEPH T. BOWEN, president of the Woman's City Club, in introducing Seymour Stedman of the Socialist party said: "Mr. Stedman has twice been a candidate for Mayor of Chicago and I for one wish he were a candidate now."

At the next meeting of the club in the clubrooms Monday the recently revised film, "Uncle Sam's Babies," will be shown.

REMINISCENCES of the recent biennial convention of Women's clubs were presented yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Chicago Culture Club by Mrs. Andrew D. Coon, Mrs. Claude B. Davis, Miss Irma Clarke and Mrs. Arthur Root.

Cort Will Send "Princess Pat" to the Coast

JOHN CORT departed for New York yesterday after having spent a day in Chicago looking at his production of "The Princess Pat" at the Garrick.

"I am going to send this company all the way to the Pacific coast," said Mr. Cort, "just as soon as it finishes its run at the Garrick on November 18.

"The great surprise of the New York season is the success of Oliver Morosco's production of the Frederic and Fanny Locke Hatton's piece, 'Upstairs and Down.' I saw this show in Los Angeles and liked it so well I booked it for my theater in New York and put 'Flora Bella,' my own show, into the Casino. My judgment was justified, because 'Upstairs and Down' is now sold out for the next ten weeks, and 'Flora Bella' is also a success.

"Just one thing more I'd like to get out of my system. Many persons in Chicago object because we do not send the entire New York casts here, and the New Yorkers are protesting because we never give them any new faces on Broadway. We are powerless. Many performers have apartments and automobiles and other entanglements in New York and will not leave there, even when we offer them an increase in salary to do so.

"But, taken all in all, Chicago gets the best of it, because you folks here see more good actors and actresses than do the New Yorkers. I don't mean good by reputation, but those who have the actual talent. I have in mind one young person acting in Chicago now who would be a riot on Broadway, but she can't get the chance, because New York is full of New York actors."

* * *

"KATINKA," a musical show, will follow "The Princess Pat" into the Garrick on November 19 and is expected to remain there until the appearance of Al Jolson at Christmas.

THE advance sale for "Justice" at Powers' Theater indicates that the Galsworthy drama is going to play to capacity for the remaining three weeks it will be seen here.

RUSS OFFER NEW MUSIC HERE

Serbian Raphsody and Work of Slavic Composer Presented by Symphony Orchestra; Dancing of "Loda" Wins Praise.

BY JAMES WHITTAKER.

A PHILANTHROPY caused to be assembled in Orchestra Hall last night a program, some artists and an audience severally and individually motley. Good was found in spots. The event calls for pied criticism. The background of insincere exotism furnisehd by the Russian Symphony Orchestra was slightly speckled with the sincere art of three soloists—Lada, the dancer; John Powell, the pianist, and Emma Roberts, the contralto.

Lada's dancing of Liszt's Second Hungarian Rhapsody was a breath of fresh art in a program gone stagnant in musical meretriciousness. Once, in the simplicity of an old negro croon, "Deep River," arranged by Burleigh, Miss Roberts emerged from the atmosphere of the occasion.

John Powell ventilated with some compositions from his own pen. His suite, "At the Fair," for piano solo, an impression of Coney Island, contains a "hoochee coochee dance" in which he comes as near as a gentleman with a sense of humor may to playing "The Streets of Cairo" in Orchestra Hall.

The third number of the suite, called "Banjo Picker," nearly attained Ashton Stevens' hope for the introduction of the barber shop chord on Mount Olympus.

To Mr. Powell belongs the credit of being an American in Orchestra Hall.

PRESENTS SERBIAN RHAPSODY.

THE Russian novelties, played by the orchestra, a Serbian rhapsody by Rimsky-Kornakoff, the 'Three Palms," a symphonic picture by Spendiarow and an excerpt from Moussorgsky's "Boris Goudonow" were to have been joy for the musicians, but were not. It was expected that the Serbian rhapsody would be a musical justification of pan-Slavism. Hearing of its Serbian harmonies inclines this critic to pan Slavism in any but its purely Russian aspect.

The "Three Palms" is lengthy and dreary. Spendiarow's cleverness in the use of the modern Russian orchestral idiom does not disguise the poverty of his inspirational resources. Having no basso to assist in the Death Scene from "Boris," Mr. Altschuler, the conductor, gave the vocal part to the brasses and we were treated to the ludicrous spectacle of the agonies of a dying hero impersonated by that comedian of the orchestra, the trombonist.

NEWS OF THE PLAYS AND PLAYERS — GOSSIP OF THE THEATRES

BY "BOB" M'KNIGHT.

SOME folk say there are one million people engaged in motion picture work. This number may or may not be correct. The National Association of the industry is going to find out by census. Whatever the number, the association believes the various interests must be securely linked for efficient effort.

At the last meeting of the directorate in New York, and advisory plan by which each district will be represented in the metropolis was adopted. Thus even the most remote sections of the country may secure equally as prompt action in vital matters as towns on the Jersey shore.

These advisory boards will be complete organizations in themselves with the same rules and classifications of membership as the parent body. They will pass upon all questions affecting their organizations and send their recommendations to the directorate of the national board.

BRANCH IS QUICKLY FORMED

SPEED has marked the action of the new federation, born at the exhibitors' convention at the Hotel Sherman in July. No sooner had the "advisory plan" been passed, than Judge A. P. Tugwell of Los Angeles wired home the news and steps were at once taken to form the California auxiliary.

The formation of the Illinois aggregation will follow. William A. Brady, president of the national association, has offered the Illinois chairmanship to John R. Freuler, president of Mutual, with George Spoor of Essanay, Colonel W. N. Selig, Frederick J. Ireland of Emerald, Donald J. Bell and Alfred Hamburger as fellow members of the commission. As yet the personnel of the local organization has not been definitely declared.

* * *

IT IS generally known that the national association includes all movie interests. There are more than fifty membership classifications, including railroads and insurance companies. David Wark Griffith, Thomas Ince and Mack Sennett are among the prominent Pacific coast members.

Recently through the San Francisco Film Exchange Board of Trade, affiliated with the national board, censorship was abolished in that city. Now police power alone controls the showing of film. By it, with co-operation of the Film Board of Trade, objectionable pictures are suppressed and their exhibitors prosecuted.

X-RAY GUN DESTROYED

THE deadly X-ray gun, which kills at a distance of twenty-five miles, is a success. It is the invention of an American. The government at Washington turned it down. European belligerents have sought to obtain it. They have failed dismally. Latest reports aver the gun and the secret of its construction have been destroyed. The inventor's sweetheart requested it.

I saw the gun work yesterday. Its action is flawless—in the movies. It's in a photoplay, you see—"The Intrigue," now showing at the Castle. Lenore Ulrich is the Countess Sonia, secret servicing for her emperor.

It is an entertaining film of the Pallas-Paramount brand for which one should walk farther than around the block. "Intrigue" reminds one somewhat of "Between the Lines," which did a paying business at the Cort a year ago.

MARY PICKFORD'S "Less Than the Dust" tenancy of the La Salle, which begins November 4, will be short—only sixteen days. November, 20, at the close of Mary's run, Clara Kimball Young's second Selznick feature, "The Foolish Virgin," from Thomas Dixon's novel, will light the screen. We need more loop theaters of big features, n'est-ce pas?

MUNICIPAL MOVIE SHOWN

IN VIEW of general public attention to the city's housecleaning, the showing of "A Tale of One City," the official Chicago Plan movie, in the marigold room of the Bismarck Garden, is especially timely. The exhibition will continue this week.

Great Crowds About 'Change Are Thrilled as Steel Common Goes to 121 3-4 and Shatters All Previous Records

MARKET AND BUSINESS NEWS EDITED BY BOERSIANER

NEW ADVANCE FORESEEN BY SPECULATORS

Rails Encouraged by Commerce Commission's Order to Reopen Western Rate Case.

BY BOERSIANER.

THERE was more commotion off 'Change than on. A sturdy market, recording conservative advances, had an immense audience that was unwontedly excited. Why a not unusual cause should have produced an unusual effect is one of the mysteries of crowd psychology.

Although accessions to public participation have increased week by week, outsiders as a body should now be accustomed to what is done on the bourse. Yet it remains that customers' rooms were crowded yesterday as never before with demonstrative speculators. The excitement was palpable.

$ $ $

Possibly the number and character of the quotation "records" were suggestive excitants, though the list had not far to go to make price history.

In this regard Steel common was stellar. During noontide it rose to 121¾, eclipsing the former loftiest figures by 1⅛. As the new mark was registered the throngs in brokers' offices were thrilled. Veterans in their anecdotage recalled that the late J. P. Morgan had predicted Steel common would some day cross the preferred—which it did yesterday—but which is less interesting and important than that the late J. P. Morgan did not predict—did not dream—that the Steel Corporation would ever earn a net of approximately $100,000,000 in a single quarter.

Other "records" (which included Republic Iron & Steel) need not be specified. They were, however, an earnest of the growing appreciation among the multitude that at the end of the ends (after politics and other extraneous influences have been considered) the thing that should count is the counting-room result.

This central point had to be decided: Are share securities to go forward or are they to be quoted on a basis yielding from 10 to 12 per cent to holders? The inner penetralia of finance decided they must advance much more for the excellent reason that stocks cannot be held down to a 10 or 12 per cent yield in a money market that is overwhelmingly plethoric, where time loans are to be had for long periods at the lowest rate known to American finance. The decision of insiders is now indorsed by outsiders.

$ $ $

With the exception of some of the coppers and Steel, common and preferred, industry stocks have had an advantage over the rail group in that they had not to meet foreign liquidation, and how quite exhaustively the stated industrials have been disposed of by foreigners is indicated by the present holdings abroad of Steel certificates.

Compared with the 1,700,000 shares common and preferred Steel owned in Europe—chiefly in England—before the war, the holdings overseas are now under 500,000 shares.

Some rail stocks continue to come to market from Great Britain and France—not voluntarily, but perforce—which is a sufficient explanation of the relative laggardness of Atchison, St. Paul, Illinois Central, the Hill issues, and, above all, of Pennsylvania. That all save Pennsylvania and St. Paul creep forward notwithstanding is evidence of their inherent strength and a promise of what they will do once Europe has no more to sell.

$ $ $

The rails were otherwise encouraged by Southern Pacific's showing for September and by what came out of the interstate commerce conference room.

The commission has ordered the transcontinental rate case reopened for further hearing. This is not merely a reopening of the recent decision increasing rates to the Pacific Coast because of war's removal of canal competition. The commission has seen its mistake in favoring the limited population in intermountain territory at the expense of the big population in California and other coast territory.

But the order goes further—it reopens the entire subject of transcontinental rates. It puts again before the commission for decision the entire matter of transcontinental charges and the question as to whether the zone rate system order of June, 1911, should be rescinded or revised.

Savings Deposits Are Setting High Record

Savings deposits are accumulating faster than at any previous period in the history of local banks, both in number of accounts and in the size of average new accounts.

"The failure of private banks and a big increase in the income of the average man has given our savings department an unusual growth," said K. Boisot, president of the First Trust & Savings Bank. "When a report of new accounts opened during the day was placed on my desk this afternoon I could not believe the figures and the most pleasing feature of the new business is that the accounts are much larger than the old average of new accounts.

"The prosperity of the West came more slowly than that of the East and there was less of the spectacular about it. The tendency of Chicagoans seems to be to live a little better and to save considerably more, remembering that there are hard times as well as good. This tendency has added materially to the bond business of the savings banks."

Chicago & Northwestern has ordered 1,500 box cars from the American Car & Foundry Company and 1,000 gondolas from the Pullman Company. Chesapeake & Ohio is ordering 500 gondolas from the Pressed Steel Car Company, 500 from the Rolston Steel Car Company and 1,000 from Standard Steel Company. Haskell & Barker have taken an order for 200 refrigerator cars for Wilson & Co. Union Tank Line's order for 2,250 tank cars was divided as follows: 1,000 to American Car & Foundry Company, 500 to Pressed Steel Car Company, 500 to Standard Steel Company; the balance to be built at Union Tank's own shops.

* * *

The growth of the automobile business in Chile has been remarkable in that it has not been aided apparently by an improvement of the roads. Although touring is looked upon more as a motor test than a pleasure, and a trip between Santiago and Valparaiso is still considered worthy of newspaper comment, the increase in importations has been great. This is shown by comparing the totals for 1908, 1909 and 1910, which were $14,054, $11,760 and $26,971 respectively, with the totals for 1913 and 1915, which were $494,355 and $302,813.

* * *

The value of American exports is mounting skyward. Last month exports totaled $512,847,957, or $3,000,000 more than in August, when the half-billion mark in a single month was reached. Exports for the twelve months ending with September amounted to $4,971,945,833, compared with $3,178,764,184 in the preceding twelve months, and an annual average of $2,453,000,000 for the five years preceding 1915-1916.

* * *

The aggregate of new building since January 1 is very much larger than a year ago. Disbursements arranged for at 164 cities reach $768,074,206, as against $608,000,000 in 1915 and $636,500,000 in 1914. Greater New York's figures are $187,875,000, $134,500,000 and $118,250,000 respectively in the three years, and for the other cities collectively the totals are $580,250,000, contrasting with $473,750,000 and $518,333,000. Twenty-four cities in New England show only a slight gain, but forty-one municipalities in the middle section (New York City excluded) exhibit an increase of $15,000,000, of which $4,500,000 is at Philadelphia. The Middle West (twenty-eight cities) records an augmentation of nearly $52,000,000, of which $22,000,000 is at Chicago, $12,500,000 at Detroit and $6,000,000 at Akron, and a gain of $8,750,000 at fourteen Pacific coast points is quite generally shared in. The "other Western" division, comprising twenty-three municipalities in the country west of the Mississippi River, except Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma and the states bordering on the Pacific, show an increase of $22,500,000, to which Duluth, Minneapolis and St. Louis were the principal contributors, and in the South (thirty-three cities) an increase of $8,500,000 is exhibited.

Stock Exchange Has New Publicity Plan

The listing committee of the stock exchange has made available to corporations whose stocks are listed on the board a medium of publicity of great value to investors. The committee engages to supply the corporations with as many copies of the listing papers as they desire at cost. A company whose stock was added to the trading roster last week ordered 2,000 copies of their papers for distribution to shareholders.

The listing documents contain considerably more information about the applying companies than can be included in the average annual statement. The committee insists upon details of information about assets, totals of business, earnings, subsidiary companies and trade connections which would not get to the shareholders in so complete a form in any other way. The balance sheets required are usually more recent than any the corporations have issued and in case of new companies the report of assets and liabilities contained in the listing papers is frequently the first one made public after the business has gotten under way.

7,278,529 Bales of Cotton Used in U. S.

A preliminary report by the census bureau placed the total consumption of cotton in American mills at 7,278,529 bales. Of that quantity 6,397,613 bales were lint and 880,916 bales linters. Use of linters showed an enormous increase over the previous year, due to their manufacture into explosives. The increase was 469,071 bales, or 113.9 per cent. Cotton used also increased 800,251 bales, or 14.3 per cent. The number of cotton spindles active during the year was 32,805,883, an increase of 2.6 per cent over 1915.

Massachusetts retained its place as first cotton manufacturing state, using 1,462,888 bales, compared with 1,282,937 bales in 1915. North Carolina was second, using 1,067,288 bales, compared with 910,154 bales.

Ask State Bakers to Join Embargo Demand

Action of the Chicago Association of Master Bakers seeking the support of Illinois congressmen in their efforts to obtain an embargo on wheat has been postponed until the regular Saturday meeting in order to have the co-operation of the state society. B. H. Dahlheimer, president of the local organization, left last night for East St. Louis to attend an executive session of the state association at East St. Louis which opens this morning.

MONTANA GRASS CATTLE BRING $10 AT CHICAGO STOCKYARDS

BY JAMES E. POOLE.

Montana grass cattle sold at $10 per cwt, high point of the season, yesterday. They were from the herd of McNamara & Marlowe. Armour money did it. Branded corn-fed steers sold at $11. With over 100,000 head distributed among the nine western markets beef was scarce, but trash showed up in abundance everywhere. Fat cattle sold strong to 25c higher, but trash lost ground. Cattle owners are running away from a feed bill and acute scarcity of fat bullocks is certain. Chicago had nearly 29,000, but the percentage of beef was the smallest of the year and anything carrying tallow got action.

* * *

Kansas City had only 25,000 cattle yesterday, against 45,000 a year ago. Heavy renewals of cattle paper, for the purpose of carrying stock over another Winter, were reported by southwestern bankers. Cattle in Oklahoma pastures are being loaded for a return journey to southern Texas, where fed is plentiful. In the Northwest cattle gathering has been arrested owing to low prices at the market and feed abundance.

* * *

Seventy-cent corn is driving thousands of thin steers to market out of Chicago territory. Feeders here yesterday said new corn is hard to buy and even where it is available they are afraid to convert it into beef. Liquidation will continue all through November and December.

* * *

Armour has been a fre beuyer of cattle recently, especially in the western division. The big house paid $9@10 for Montana grassers yesterday. Drought in Argentina has created necessity for getting material here to fill European contracts.

* * *

Hogs were 5@10c lower on a run of 55,000, but everybody in the trade called it a good market. A large string of $10@10.30 sales was made. Supply at outside markets was seasonable. The top was $10.45, but 5c lower than Saturday. Late trade was the best. Pigs held steady. The bulk sold at $9.95@10.30. Receipts were the heaviest in six months.

At the inception of the Winter packing season hogs are realizing unprecedented prices, and the market has a healthy undertone even at its lofty pinnacle. A year ago $7.95 took the best, against $10.50 at present; two years ago $7.55 was the limit. Back in 1910 during a semi-famine period selected hogs sold at $8.90 at this juncture.

FIRST U. S. VALUATION OF RAILROADS MADE

Gives Basis to Fix Rates of Texas & Midland and A., B. & A.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The first concrete results of the physical valuation of railroads upon which the interstate commerce commission has been working for three years were announced to-day when the commission issued a tentative valuation of the Texas & Midland Railroad and of the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic Railroad. The valuations were served on the Attorney General of the United States, the governors and railroad commissions of the states through which the roads operate and upon the roads themselves. Thirty days is given to file any protest.

The intent of the valuation is to establish a basis for the fixing of railroad rates in true proportion to the value of the property used for railroad purposes.

The figures show that it would cost $3,382,004 to duplicate the Texas Midland, but that there has been a $2,527,417 depreciation in the property since it was built. It would cost $582,071 to reproduce the Midland's equipment, but there has been $362,940 depreciation.

The figures of the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic operating in Alabama and Georgia are as follows: Total value of property, both owned and leased, $24,154,958, with depreciation to $19,408,810.

Huge Losses Force Buffalo R. R. to Quit

President C. A. Finnegan of the Wellsville & Buffalo Corporation has issued a statement announcing that the railroad would suspend operations on November 1.

"This action," the statement reads, "is taken on account of the continued large cash financial loss in the passenger and traffic service ever since the company was organized and began operations."

The Wellsville & Buffalo was formerly known as the Buffalo & Susquehanna Railway. It was built by the Goodyear interests for lumber traffic from northern Pennsylvania.

Business Is Too Good; Collectors 'Starving'

The most striking testimonial to propitious business conditions is the current complaint of collection agencies that they are "starving" for business. Collection has been systematized as throughly as salesmanship and some of the agencies in Chicago hire large staffs of collectors, correspondents and lawyers. The head of one of the largest of these agencies is planning a drastic reorganization of his business and the reduction of his staff because each week brings a shrinkage in the bulk of business.

NEW FRENCH LOAN NEAR COMPLETION

Credit of $100,000,000 Will Bring Nation's Borrowing Here to $660,000,000.

The pracaitcal completion of the arrangements for a French industrial credit amounting to not exceeding $100,000,000 to be the obligation of twenty-five or fifty of the best known industrial houses in France will be announced in the near future. It is to be secured by the deposit of French government notes. The proceeds of the credit are to be used for the payment of merchandise bought in this country for export to France.

This new credit places the total French borrowings in this country since the outbreak of the European war at $660,000,000, this figure including the recent $50,000,000 loan of the City of Paris. Of the various direct government loans and commercial credits, $90,000,000 already has been paid, making the total of unmatured loans $570,000,000. Besides the obligations mentioned the loans include France's share of the Anglo-French loan amounting to $250,000,000, the $100,000,000 secured loans placed through the American Foreign Securities Corporation and the commercial credits arranged through Brown Bros. & Co. and William P. Bonbright & Co.

HOLDEN DEFENDS RAILROADS' DEMANDS

Forty-Nine State Commissions Cause Confusion, Says Head of Burlington System.

"Railroad interests, contrary to an impression prevailing here and there, are not seeking the destruction of state railroad commissions and a complete lodgement of all their power in the federal commission," Hale Holden, president of the Burlington road and chairman of the railroad presidents' committee in the recent trainmen's controversy, said yesterday.

"What the railroad managers desire, in the interest of public convenience and greater efficiency and economy of operation, is the placing under the exclusive control of the interstate commerce commission or other federal body all questions pertaining to railroad affairs that in themselves, directly or indirectly, are more than state-wide in their functions.

"First in importance is the rate-making power. Forty-nine state commissions making rates and rules for the government of the interstate common carriers are rapidly leading to confusion and much unnecessary expense to the carriers.

"Forty-nine states requiring many different standards of operation would half bankrupt an average railroad and mean nothing to the public except the bad results that come from a lack of uniformity. State railroad commissions have their legitimate field, but all matters that have an interstate effect should, in our opinion, be the subject of interstate control."

Lower passenger fares between St. Louis and Keokuk, Ia., and Illinois points, prescribed some time ago by the interstate commerce commission, will not become effective without further proceedings. U. S. Industrial Alcohol Surplus of $12,000,000 100 Per Cent on Common Stock, Indicated by End of Year

THE CHICAGO EXAMINER'S FINANCIAL, COMMERCIAL

EARNINGS OF $6,000,000 FOR 1916 PROBABLE

Thirty Per Cent Cash, Fifty Per Cent Stock Dividends Are Likely.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—With a profit and loss surplus which at the end of 1916 will amount to about 100 per cent on the $12,000,000 common stock United States Industrial Alcohol is expected before long to announce some readjustment of capitalization.

The board has had the matter under consideration, and one plan is for a large stock dividend, certain interests suggesting 50 per cent, to be followed by cash dividends at a substantial rate.

The period of large investment by the company in physical plant is now pretty well behind it. Within the last three years between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000 has been expended on capital account, including construction of additional distilleries, the building of tank ships for carrying its molasses from Cuba to this country, and the acquisition of practically the entire stock of the Cuba Distilling Company, which furnishes molasses from which is manufactured denatured alcohol.

The cash position of the company has strengthened steadily, and earnings this year are estimated at $6,000,000, which is equal to 46 per cent on the common stock after allowing for preferred dividends. This earning power would be equal to 30 per cent on the present amount of common stock plus a 50 per cent stock dividend interests associated with the company predict that 1917 will be a bigger year than 1916 for the alcohol company.

Fancy Wheat Sells by the Sample at $2 a Bushel in Chicago and Minneapolis Markets; Needed for Blending

NEWS AND COMMENT FOR INVESTORS IN ALL MARKETS

HIGHER GRADES OF GRAIN FIND READY MARKET

New Top Prices for Futures Made; Liquidation Is on an Extensive Scale.

BY JOSEPH F. PRITCHARD.

Fancy wheat sold by sample at $2 per bu in both the Chicago and Minneapolis markets. These purchases were made by millers who probably will use this high grade wheat for blending purposes. This fancy price was realized in Chicago on Saturday last after the close of 'Change, and the price was made at Minneapolis yesterday. Car lots at St. Louis were 3c higher and at Kansas City 4@5c higher yesterday. At Chicago the cash article failed to follow the upturn in futures. It is believed by the more conservative men in the trade that as the price of wheat advances there is likely to be a general reduction in the speculative trade. The world's breadstuffs situation continues to grow more alarming, and in some sections it borders on a disaster, showing that there must be some point at which the advance will cease and where some reactions and declines will take place. Many of the big houses in the trade were advising holders with profits to secure them without delay—probably for the purpose of allowing values to ease off instead of advancing still further.

* * *

New high prices were made for wheat futures yesterday, and closing rates were ¾@4⅝c better. Liquidation was on a big scale early in the day, and there was considerable selling late, but during midsession the buying was quite active, when the best prices of the day were reached. It must be remembered that following an advance of 18c in a week, a sharp decline in values would not surprise those in the trade who watch conditions closely. The news received from Argentina yesterday was more bullish than at any time on the present reports of the long drawn out dry weather. The Rosario market was up 6½@10c, and the market at Buenos Aires was 12½@15½c higher.

According to reports issued by the International Institute at Rome the European Russian crop of wheat is 20 per cent less than last year, and the same authority places the wheat harvest of the world at 7 per cent below the average and 26 per cent below last year. Native offers of wheat at Liverpool were light, and foreign offers were still inadequate. Spot wheat at Liverpool was as much as 4d higher, and cargoes were strong. World's shipments of breadstuffs last week were small at 10,412,000 bu, the visible supply increased 904,000 bu, and Chicago stocks increased 804,000 bu. On ocean passage there was a decrase of 1,424,000 bu. Chicago stocks decreased 108,000 bu; western receipts, 2,407,000 bu, compared with 4,420,000 bu for the corresponding day last year.

* * *

There was a strong market for corn with net advances of 1⅝@2¼c for the day. As in wheat, new high prices were made, with most of the advance holding. The May future sold as high as 92c. Cash sales, 35,000 bu at Chicago and 750,000 bu at the seaboard for export. There were cancellations of 84,200 bu Saturday to move out. One manufacturing concern in Chicago bought 80,000 bu corn on bids sent out. Unfavorable weather is promised throughout the belt, and the likelihood is that the movement of this grain will continue small until such time as the weather favors husking, shelling and hauling. World's shipments the past week were 3,322,000 bu, compared with 3,842,000 bu for a like period last year. On ocean passage there was an increase of 1,905,000 bu and the visible supply decreased 586,000 bu. Chicago stocks decreased 525,000 bu. Western receipts, 564,000 bu, compared with 624,000 bu a year ago. The Liverpool spot market was 2d higher and on passage was 9d to 1s higher. Buenos Aires corn was up 3⅛@3¼c. There was considerable news of a bullish character received from the Argentine Republic, and there was a great deal of wheat bought on it.

* * *

Oats were 2@3⅛c higher, mainly in sympathy with the advances in the other grains. More new trade is coming into oats, but naturally there was profit taking from time to time on sharp price upturns. Export takings here were 2,000,000 bu, and the seaboard reported 1,255,000 bu. Western receipts were 1,325,000 bu. There were increases of 664,000 bu in Chicago stocks and 1,300,000 bu in the visible supply; world's shipments, 4,367,000 bu; year ago, 1,119,000.

* * *

The action of the grain market was communicated to provisions, where the trade was large and the demand general. Sentiment controlled the buying and the number of outside orders was the largest in several weeks. The cash trade in meats and lard on export account was liberal, and the fact that the manufactured products are in control of one concern of the big packers helped the general situation from the standpoint of a bull.

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The opening on the cotton seed oil market to-day was strong at 14 to 20 points advance. The list was at new high levels. Outside buying continued. Crude oil was reported over 80c gal. The market continued firm after the opening. Strength in lard discourages claims of an unsatisfactory demand for cotton seed oil. Close: December 12.17@12.19c; January, $12.22@12.23c; March, 12.25@12.29c; May, 12.36@12.37c; spot, 12.10c.

MRS. E. P. PURCELL BUYS WILSON HOME

William B. Hale Sells Astor Street Property for Approximately $40,000.

BY HARRY W. CULBERTSON.

Mrs. Elizabeth P. Purcell has purchased from William B. Hale the beautiful residence at 1412 Astor street, and while the consideration is not given out, it is believed the price was around $40,000. This was formerly the home of John P. Wilson Jr. It adjoins on the south the residence of Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen. The lot fronts 25 feet and has a depth of 110. The house is of stone and brick construction and contains ten rooms. It is understood that Mr. Hale will go to the North Shore, where he will buy or build. The sale was negotiated by J. L. Floyd.

Owners of vacant lands are greatly pleased with the announcement of the purchase of 160 acres between Ridgeland and Harlem avenues and the Baltimore & Ohio and Twenty-second street by Ward T. Huston from the Baltimore & Ohio Chicago Terminal Railroad, as it is an indication of a marked revival in the demand for acres. The price paid is not disclosed, but it is said the asking price was $320,000, or $2,000 an acre. It is said that it is the intention to subdivide the property. The property was conveyed by the Chicago Title & Trust Company to Cleveland R. Storey, a contractor, who gave to the Northern Trust Company a trust deed to secure $162,000 for five years with interest at 5 per cent. Storey then conveyed the property to Huston.

Mrs. Anna B. Wickes has given to the Chicago Title & Trust Company a trust deed to the property in Michigan avenue, northwest corner Eighteenth street, 52x168, to secure $161,130, payable in monthly installments, and to the property in Kinzie street, 60 feet east of North State street, south front, 40x100, to obtain $47,500, payable in monthly installments, no rate of interest being given. This is a family matter.

Joseph F. Connery, registrar of titles, will discuss "The Administration of the Torrens Department" at the weekly luncheon of the Cook County Real Estate Board to-day at the Hotel Sherman at 12:15 o'clock. J. F. Hecht will preside.

PUBLIC SERVICE

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1916.

Why Traction Interests Want to Defeat Governor Dunne

THERE is no intimation by Governor Dunne or, so far as we are aware, by any other reputable critic, that Colonel Lowden, the Republican candidate for Governor, is a party to any conspiracy by Chicago's transportation magnates to gain legislative control at Springfield and make perpetual their present monopoly in Chicago's streets.

We may readily absolve the Republican candidate for Governor, a man of proved integrity, from any partnership in, or even knowledge of, any plans that these interests may have of killing the troublesome germ of public ownership in Chicago by a legislative measure that will amplify and extend their franchise in Chicago for a long term of years.

The point is that these and other public service corporations are contributing largely toward financing the campaign to defeat Governor Dunne and to elect Colonel Lowden in his place. There has been no adequate denial of this fact.

We can conceive of a thoroughly honest Governor approving a legislative act that kills Chicago's long cherished desire for public ownership because he believes public ownership wrong in principle, and private control of public utilities the best.

It is well to remember that the difference between the two candidates for Governor is not a difference of integrity, of character, of public spirit. It is a difference of environment, of temperament, of belief in the ethical nature of official acts that favor the interests of private corporations or the interests of the people against corporation aggrandizement.

Here, then, we have a plausible reason why the traction interests think they can win, with Lowden in the executive chair, the perpetuation and extension of their monopoly in Chicago's streets. They know they cannot win with Dunne in the executive chair.

Let us quote a little half-forgotten history relating to former attempts to kill the germ of public ownership in Chicago.

Under Yerkes the City Council was fairly pliable, but not pliable enough to suit that enterprising traction magnate. He decided that Chicago's traction affairs should be taken out of the hands of the City Council and vested in a state commission at Springfield. The result was the so-called Humphrey bill.

Chicago's home-rule sentiment killed the Humphrey bill. Two years later Mr. Yerkes was ready with another legislative bill giving the Chicago City Council power to issue fifty-year traction franchises and removing the twenty-year limitation.

This was the so-called Allen bill, and it became a law. The Chicago City Council prepared to give Mr. Yerkes his fifty-year franchise and would have done so had not Chicago's public sentiment overawed the aldermen. At the next Legislature the Allen law was repealed.

We cite these facts now because they have a direct bearing on the present situation. They are, in short, valuable indications of the traction monopoly's settled policy, and they do not stand alone by any means. The whole history of these corporations' dealings with the Chicago public is a continuous record of legislative attempts to block public ownership.

It is a matter of record that the present aim of the owners of Chicago's transportation interests is to consolidate their various holdings, to merge their properties, to extend their monopoly, to resist all attempts to make them give up their present franchises when they nominally expire in 1927, meanwhile to secure a new blanket franchise in the pending "merger" negotiations that will carry their private monopoly to the middle of the century at least.

We say this is of record. It is not gossip. It is reflected in the higher market values of traction stocks and bonds on the mere prospect of getting a new Governor and a new Legislature.

There are only three ways in which these plans could be consummated:

1. By getting authority from a newly organized public utilities commission to issue the requisite stocks and bonds.

2. By getting an act through the Legislature wiping out Chicago's twenty-year franchise limitation and securing a long-term franchise.

3. By getting such a measure signed by some other Governor than Dunne, the public ownership Governor.

These are vital reasons why Chicago should vote for the re-election of Dunne, the public ownership Governor.

Dunne's record proves that while he is in ofice the public utilities commission will not be reorganized against the interests of the public, and even if the Legislature should prove amenable to the designs of these corporations, Governor Dunne's veto power is a bulwark of safety that Chicago may need badly.

Stars and Stripes

One cigar a day is to be the limit in Austria. And this isn't New Year's Day.

Secretary of War Baker says Washington's soldiers at Valley Forge were ragamuffins. That's what King George the Third called them, too.

If anybody has kept the United States out of war why a peace commission at Atlantic City?

Roumania got into the war, but so far she isn't in it.

The Episcopal church has removed from its ritual the prayers for the President. And just when he needs them the most.

Price of mince meat has gone up. Grocer says: "Due to the war." Now, if war shouldn't reduce the price of mince meat what would?

Questions Answered

THE MEXICAN WAR.

READER.—If the histories are to be believed, the Mexicans during their war with this country in 1846-7 did not win a single battle, notwithstanding the fact that in nearly every encounter the Americans were outnumbered from 2 to 5 to 1.

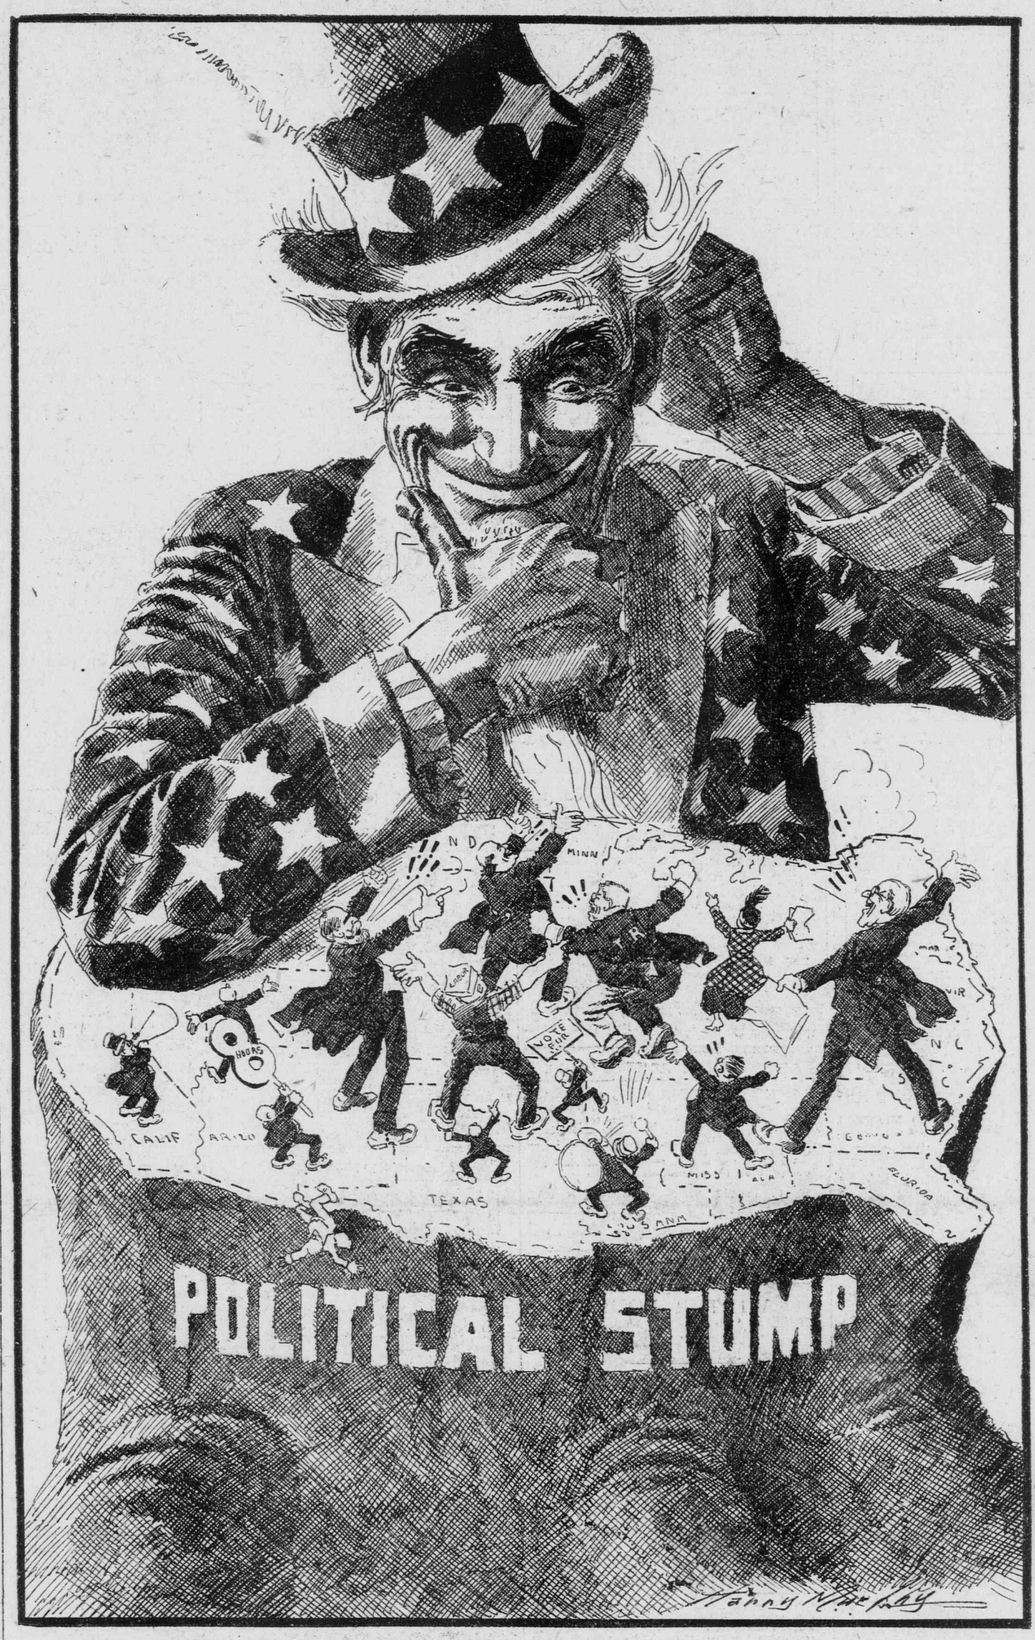
AGED AND OLDENED.

J. G.—"He has oldened" for "he has aged" is not good. In the first place, it is harder to say, and, in the second place, it is so near obsolete as to be practically unintelligible. In a way it is English, but not present-day English.

FOREIGN SUBJECTS IN U. S.

A. T.—A foreign government has the right in case of war to call upon its citizens or subjects residing in this country, but not upon those who have become citizens of the country. Foreign subjects are not compelled (by the United States government) to obey the call to return.

WARMING UP!



More Truth Than Poetry ☆ By James J. Montague

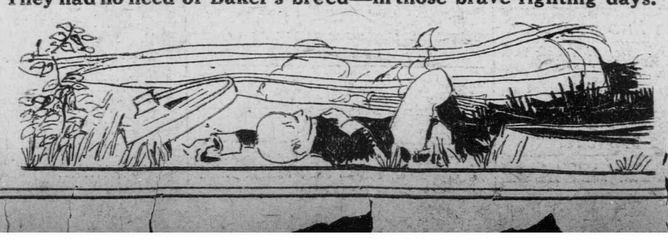
The Minute Men

(Secretary of War Baker announces solemnly that Washington's Revolutionary soldiers were just as bad characters as the Mexicans.)

AS in our long-gone schoolboy days, it still gives us a thrill
To read about the Minute Men who fought at Bunker Hill.
The lads that starved all Winter long in snow-swept Valley Forge.
And marched forth in the Spring to lick the soldiers of King George,
We hold were worthy of their place in story and in song,
But Secretary Baker thinks that we have got them wrong!

THEY would not be impressive in Fifth avenue parades,
They would not shine at dances or as presidential aids.
Their uniforms weren't always clean; their marching was a sight;
They had just one accomplishment—they sure knew how to fight.
We've always thought them splendid types of good, clean Yankee grit;
But Secretary Baker does not care for them a bit.

HALF fed, half clad, half trained, half armed, against a ruthless foe
(Without the lofty counsel of a man from Cleveland, O.),
They answered every call to arms, and gladly fought or fell,
And we, for whom they gave their lives, still fancy they did well.
They did not wither under blame; they did not ask for praise.
They had no need of Baker's breed—in those brave fighting days.



Who Can Blame Them?

Mr. Osborne taught the inmates of Sing Sing that they had just as many rights as he had, so when he quit, it was natural that a lot of them should try to do the same thing.

New Monetary Standard.

If the cost of paper keeps going up twenty-dollar bills will soon be treasured for their intrinsic value.

Something to Fight About.

Incidentally, in these commercial days, it will be easy to see why a country should go to war over a scrap of paper.

Which Is None Whatever.

The Democratic campaign orators will make about as much use of Mr. Baker's observations about the soldiers of the Revolution as they have of Mr. Wilson's famous "too proud to fight" utterance.

Up It Will Go.

The Bayonne strike has been settled. Watch your gasoline.

By Way of Insurance.

Now that our merchant marine is approaching Great Britain's in size we had better build a few more battleships with which to ask Great Britain's permission to use a part of her oceans.

Look at the Trouble They Make When They Get Out.

A few more speeches by members of the Cabinet and Mr. Wilson will wish that he'd let them attend to some of their official duties.

What the Wilson Administration Has Done for American Prosperity

Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo Details the Economic Legislation Which Takes the Burden of Taxation From the Men of Small Means and Distributes It Equitably Among All Classes, the Wealthy Being Compelled to Pay Their Just Share.

By John Temple Graves

A STRIKING and ever-increasing political figure is William Gibbs McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury.

Tennessee born and Georgia bred, he has had a phenomenal ascent without a break up the pathway of success. Five years after his invasion of the metropolis he was set for fame and fortune in the building of the great trans-Hudson and West Side tubes which bear his name. He made good to the limit.

He went almost without training of finance into the largest financial station of the republic, and is likely to go down to history as one of the great secretaries of the United States treasury.

Without previous repute as a public speaker, he is now recognized as the most powerful and convincing voice of the Wilson administration, ranking next to the President himself.

He is the oracle of the Federal Reserve System, of the Merchant Marine, of the Rural Credits, and is now in the campaign as the direct and powerful representative of the administration, meeting all comers from Hughes and Roosevelt to Elihu Root.

It is a matter of more than ordinary interest to have William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, speak directly and personally to the readers of the Examiner, as he does to-day in these columns.

I OPENED the conversation as follows:

"Assuming that prosperity and honorable peace are the political shibboleths which now promise a triumphant re-election to President Wilson, will you summarize for me, from your standpoint, the administration measures which justify the Democratic claim for prosperity and peace?"

To which the Secretary of the Treasury replied:

"Aside from the maintenance of honorable peace and the establishment of what I believe to be an absolute and stable prosperity in the country by reason of the great financial law which has been passed, the Federal Reserve Act, and the Rural Credits Law, the President and his party have done many other things which are fundamental to our future prosperity and welfare as a people.

"All of the laws for the benefit of agriculture, the act which provides the Department of Post Roads throughout the country, through federal contribution; the act which provides for co-operation between the states and the federal government in placing in each county of each state of the Union an expert farm agent to give practical information to the farmers about improved methods of agriculture and so forth; the act which protects the farmers by standardizing grain and cotton and other commodities; the rural sanitation law, under which the Public Health Department (which is in the Treasury Department) is improving rural sanitation and reducing contagious and infectious diseases and improving the general hygiene in the country, have certainly laid the foundation for tremendous improvement in the condition of this country.

"IN THE treasury, dealing purely with economic matters, I regard it epochally important that a new method of national taxation has been established, that we have gotten away from the theory that taxes can be raised alone through high protective tariffs which put the whole burden upon consumption, and in addition to that enriched a few favored manufacturers at the expense of the people. We have firmly established through constitutional amendment the right to tax incomes, and we have laid upon the wealth of this country a large part (not an unfair part, by any means) of the burden of supporting the government.

"THERE IS CERTAINLY NO FORM OF WEALTH THAT IS MORE EQUITABLY AND JUSTLY A SUBJECT OF TAXATION THAN THE HUGE INCOMES IN THIS COUNTRY, THE GREATEST INCOMES OF ANY COUNTRY IN THE CIVILIZED WORLD.

"The program for preparedness involves expense aggregating more than $550,000,000.

"Now was the money to be raised? Under the Republican system, the whole of this burden would have been laid upon the masses of the people. Undoubtedly they would have resorted to taxes upon coffee and tea and to other necessaries of life, and the burden would have been borne, of course, by the masses and the rich would have escaped their just share. The President and his party have provided that approximately $350,000,000 OF THE NECESSARY REVENUES OF THE GOVERNMENT SHALL BE RAISED BY TAXES UPON INDIVIDUAL AND CORPORATE INCOMES, UPON INHERITANCES AND UPON MUNITIONS. It will not be possible in the future for any great estate like that, for instance, of the late Hetty Green (which aggregated about $100,000,000) to escape a reasonable contribution to the government in the matter of just taxation."

SAID Mr. McAdoo impressively:

"The federal trade commission act and the various laws relating to the just treatment of business may be summed up in this statement: That big business now has no greater opportunity in this country than little business. We have insisted and we have provided the laws whereby the little business man shall have just as free an opportunity as the big business man to get credit and to do business in this country. The heretofore impregnable power of the relatively small group to control and dispense the credits of this country, and, therefore, to shape the course of business in this country, has been destroyed! The little business man and the moderate-sized business man now find that they can get credit, where their security is good, with as much freedom and as much certainty as the big business man; that they cannot be stifled by selfish interests and driven out of business through the caprice or the competition of the more powerful.

"I regard the federal reserve act as the most splendid instrument of emancipation, so far as business and credit are concerned, that ever has been enacted by any free people."

AT THIS point I asked:

"Then you believe more and more that the federal reserve system of banks makes panics practically impossible in this country?"

Secretary McAdoo: "Yes, I think it makes panics practically impossible, assuming always intelligent management. Of one thing I am certain—that we never can have again under our present financial system the terrible financial disasters and panics we have repeatedly suffered under the old system.

"The federal reserve system," said the Secretary of the Treasury, "provides an elastic and responsive system of credit which enlarges with the growth of business and the development of the country automatically and naturally. So long as the business of the country is sure and a sufficient supply of elastic and responsive credit, there is not any limit to what business may now grow within wholesome and healthful boundaries.

"OUR foreign trade," Mr. McAdoo continued, "is, of course, and must always be an important consideration. The European war has made manifest that the future of our foreign trade and the adequate development of our navy rest upon the merchant marine and adequate-sized appropriations. If private ownership and operation cannot be secured, then it is of paramount importance that the government itself shall render this vital service to the nation. Our shipping bill, recently enacted, provides for a shipping board and an expenditure of $50,000,000 for merchant ships. This, to my mind, is one of the epochal pieces of legislation of this truly great time in which we are living. I think it is the real beginning of a splendid merchant marine which will carry our trade throughout the world and enhance the prestige of America."

"THE eight-hour law I regard as one of the greatest humanitarian achievements of the age. I am surprised that the Republicans put themselves in opposition to this great protective achievement. They certainly got the hot end of the poker, and I am glad they cannot turn it loose.

"One great thing already accomplished by this law is this: The exposure of those hypocritical people who have pretended heretofore to be for genuine social justice and who have now arrayed themselves in opposition to one of the most conspicuous of all of the social justice measures which have been enacted into law within a generation. This law was passed because it is right. All the talk about compulsion is political flubdub and intended for campaign purposes. I am delighted that the Republicans have tried to make an issue of this splendid and humanitarian measure.

"When I hear the argument made that such laws as these mean that the public will have to pay more I cannot help reflecting that every important reform of this character or any other character has to be paid for by the public. There is no escape from that. For instance, we believe that children should not be permitted to work in textile or other factories. We pass a law preventing it, although the cost of the product of these factories is going to be increased.

"But the American public is always willing to pay for the salvation and protection of child life, and for the salvation and protection, too, of human life, skilled and labor, no matter what the cost, and it puts considerations of humanity and of human life always and at all times above sordid material interests.

"UNDOUBTEDLY our present prosperity is based upon our great credit system because business cannot grow and develop without credit, as I said before. Moreover, the intelligent and constructive legislation of the President and the Democratic party has laid the foundation for a stable prosperity in this country which, in my honest and earnest judgment, is not likely to be impaired for many years to come. The end of the war will not end it. We are a dominant world power, financially, economically and physically. We have only now to use our great power and to live up in fullest measure to the noblest ideals of America to make our great nation the most potential factor for the benefit of civilization that the world has ever seen.

"We have an inspiring opportunity for world leadership which we can use for the benefit of humanity.

"But it cannot be realized except through the leadership of a great, powerful and just America."
