EAST CLACKAMAS

It seems as though the P. & O. C. railroad is having its share of trouble in the last few days in passenger service.

Some of our Clackamas friends ride part way and walk the rest of the way to get anywhere on time.

Mrs. L. Kelnhofer and son were visitors at the Rypczynski ranch in the Peats mountain country last Sunday.

Miss Lucile Swank was a Cedar Springs week-end visitor last week.

The nice weather of the past few days is very pleasing to the bean eaters in this neck of the woods, as the beans will dry out so they can be threshed, and if the little Jap beans do not appear on the coast market too strong we may be able to get enough money accumulated to buy a sandwich this winter, eh?

The old steam horse had to come into play on the P. & O. C. railroad last Sunday for the purpose of transporting passengers to and fro.

Henry Koch is moving his chatties to his ranch near Clackamas.

Clarence Dallas of the Damascus country, will occupy the Williams property during the coming year.

Mrs. A. C. Kelnhofer and son, Francis, and Lucile Bennett, were visitors at Cedar Springs last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. L. Rasmussen and daughter, Meta, attended a birthday party in Portland last Saturday. They report a great time there. We will not say anything of the home coming, as you can ask them how they enjoyed that.

B. R. Smith had so dogone many beans that he had to get an engine to furnish the motive power. We did not learn whether he used a coffee mill, a threshing machine or a clover cutter to flail them out, and as we did not get near enough to learn figures we will endeavor to quote them later.

As we journeyed along our main street last Sunday morning we spied a five-passenger Michigan standing on one of the by-roads. We presume some one of our esteemed young men from the west side was in the Logan country entertaining a dear friend and was in a hurry to get home so the gasoline chariot was left behind.

A. C. Kelnhofer is just ripping and tearing these days. He is doing all kinds of interior decorating. Just home work, that is all.

Miss Julia Johnson of Portland, spent last Sunday visiting at Cedar Springs ranch.

Miss Gladys Rypczynski, of Peats mountain, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. L. Kelnhofer.

Last week Mrs. Cummings moved her household goods to Portland and will be a resident of that city in the future.

W. F. Mundehe is erecting a swell "spud" cellar with a concrete basement thereto. J. W. Bennett is chief architect and Charles Lischke is chief roustabout. It has been said there will be a shindig in it in the near future.

L. M. Haworth is lifting spuds out of the ground for Jack Welch.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Guynip and son and daughter, were Saturday evening visitors with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kelnhofer.

Mrs. Kelnhofer and daughter, Anna, of Willamette, were Sunday visitors at the Kelnhofer ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pluffer of Portland were visitors at the Zig Zag ranch last Monday.

It is pretty hard to tell who the regular bugler is, or where he is located, but there is a fellow to the east of us that can toot a horn some. Maybe the guy is practicing up some for the next world war.

STONE

Mr. Burger and family have started for Nebraska. Mrs. Burger and children left Saturday. Mr. Burger chartered a car to take his team and household fixtures and he went with the car.

"Grandpa" Boman died on October 10 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. Holcomb. He was buried Thursday at Pleasant View cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Krolinger moved back to Dakota the past week. The former purchased the farm here belonging to J. W. Watts, a year ago.

Clarence Dallas has rented the farm owned by Mr. Knolmyer for the coming year.

Albert and Guy Hattan are the proud possessors of a new Ford.

Miss Hazel Driscoll, teacher at Damascus, was the guest of Miss Wymore Sunday evening.

With the rock crusher running full speed, blasting being done daily and the hammering of the builders, the Carver bridge across the Clackamas at Stone is at present a noisy place.

Elton Hattan left on the fifth for Corvallis to resume his studies at the O. A. C. This is his junior year.

Mrs. C. C. Robbins and Mrs. Lillie Orr of Portland, attended the funeral of Mr. Boman Thursday.

Miss Bachman, secretary, and Mr. and Mrs. Burger, master and lecturer, have all lately moved away, leaving quite a vacancy in the grange here.

Carl Mumpower has answered the call of the colors and left for American Lake on October 5. Quite a number of friends gathered to say goodbye. Judge Anderson gave a short talk and presented him with a wrist watch from the boys and a "housewife" filled with the "needed things" from the women. Carl is the first soldier boy from this neighborhood. All were sorry to see him go, but, knowing it must be necessary, could only wish him a safe return.

Sunday, at 11 o'clock, the regular church services were conducted by Mr. Trullinger of Lents. They were very instructive and enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. R. M. Brash and Mrs. Murton truck and is very busy hauling wood from Stone to Portland. Mr. Gergen and family have moved to Sellwood.

There being such heavy travel on the Carver line Mr. Carver has discarded the buss and put on the steam cars again.

At the special school meeting held October 6, John Hattan was elected director to serve the coming year.

Mr. Peak having resigned.

A very enjoyable evening was spent when a large number of friends gathered at the home of Judge and Mrs. H. S. Anderson to extend congratulations to them on their fortieth wedding anniversary.

Many beautiful as well as useful articles were presented. The rooms were decorated with green leaves, white berries and autumn leaves. The effect was lovely. Mrs. Anderson received a beautiful bouquet of pink and white carnations. Mrs. Lillian Hendricks assisted her mother in entertaining. Lunch was served.

TWILIGHT

J. F. Spiger's new bungalow is nearing completion.

Deliveries of wood in Oregon City from this section is largely in excess of previous years.

Mrs. Curtis Dadds left Monday for an extended visit with relatives in Ohio.

Silos in this community were but partly filled this season, by reason of the light corn crop.

Harry Confer has purchased the home in Lawton heights vacated by the late George Lazelle.

Quite a number of our people are employed in the new Pacific highway construction in the vicinity of New Era.

Tom Kelland is putting into cultivation a few more acres of stump land. Tom will soon be the possessor of the largest farm ranch in this neighborhood.

But little wheat has as yet been sown, owing to continued lack of moisture.

Miss Florence Bently is the only high school student from this school district this year.

F. Weisenbeck has renewed his lease on the Lazelle farm for a period of five years. The community is thus assured of the retention of this highly prized family.

Mrs. J. F. Spiger, a patient sufferer from dropsy for six months, is convalescing, which will be gratifying news to her host of acquaintances and friends in and around Oregon City.

Mr. and Mrs. Joehneke are back on their ranch after passing three years in Oregon City.

Miss Miller seems quite satisfactory as instructor, to the school patrons of this district.

Curtis Dodd's new home is nearing completion and, when occupied, must be acknowledged the finest home in our circle.

Dave Peck will farm the Muralt place in the Beaver Creek district this coming year.

A light frost would be beneficial in ripening potatoes, but few of which are ready to dig, while beautiful weather prevails for their harvest.

The Kurnzies visited in Brownsville over Sunday.

The Community club will give their regular monthly dance at the hall next Saturday night. These are pleasant affairs from a neighborhood social standpoint, and are joined in by nearly every family in our midst.

BEAVER CREEK

Mrs. Anne Tremaine and children, Gladys, Selena and Robert, are moving this week to their new home near Barlow. Mrs. Tremaine has lived in Beaver Creek many years and will be greatly missed by her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gross and children, Frances and Cleve, called on Mr. and Mrs. Luke Duffy and family Sunday. The Gross family recently arrived from San Francisco, and is making its home on the O. Hughes farm, which they have rented for several years.

Otto Moehke and crew of bailers bailed straw for Mrs. M. Grisenthwaite Monday.

W. J. Herman bailed his hay on Monday.

Albert Durst, of Clarkes, was at the Sherman Basford ranch on business Monday.

CRESCENT

The residents in this vicinity are quiet, industrious people. A little publicity will not hurt us.

We have had Sunday school at the schoolhouse during this summer, which has been well attended. Also more or less regular preaching by the circuit rider. A sermon will be delivered by an Oregon City minister next Sunday afternoon.

Our school is progressing with Miss Stannard as teacher, this being her second year in the Crescent district.

Our ladies met last February and organized a "Help One Another" club, which is proving very helpful and pleasant. The ladies meet at the homes of the members on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. All members devote their time to anyone needing a "helping hand."

If there is no one needing help each member carries her own work and it is very pleasant to exchange ideas, patterns and designs. At the meetings members discuss the many things that interest the homekeepers and it is hoped the club will become more interesting and helpful as time goes on.

The roads in our district have received some attention and they promise to be more passable this winter. A branch road leading to Theodore Krafft's place has been brought to a fine grade by the work of Mr. Krafft and his sons. It will add much to the comfort and to the value of their farm. Another branch road, known as the Livesay road, has been graveled and thereby guaranteed safe passage during the rainy season to the newly acquired automobiles in the vicinity.

Mr. Gerkman, the renter on the Eichner place, has bought the Tom Livesay place and erected a new barn. It is supposed that Mr. Gerkman will move to his own place about the middle of winter, as his three year lease expires about that time. Mr. Eichner has a new drilled well which will be a great convenience to the next renter.

Mrs. Pannack has had her old house moved out and a new cottage is being built in its place. It is a much needed home and a fine improvement.

I. D. Taylor is painting his new porch, which adds to the beauty and comfort of his home.

The Bryants, our successful chicken men, notwithstanding high priced feed, are preparing for a big run of business next spring.

Everyone in this community seems to respond to the call of our country and in spite of the drouth and short crops no one has empty fruit or vegetable containers. All seem to have an abundance of provisions stored, and are making plans for next year, hopeful that next season will be more favorable.

LOGAN

Sharpen your pencils and get down to business, fellow news-gatherers, for "we uns" are going to make our corner of the Courier groan with a load of acceptable news and if "you uns" do the same we will make the editor throw up his hands and yell "nuffit!"

The Carver bridge is going across the Clackamas all right, for we saw the big cans being filled with concrete with our own eyes. Mr. Carver seems to be going to make sure of the creamery business, for the bridge seems to be pointed right toward the building.

Many farmers are buying clover seed from A. Lillie, near Stone. He had a good crop of five bushels to the acre after making a heavy crop of hay.

George A. Kohl will farm Ole Thompson's place next year.

Several farmers are hoping for a frost to ripen the late potatoes so they can dig them and prepare the ground for fall wheat.

Carl Kirchem has been plowing with his tractor for Harry Babler, who intends to sow a large acreage to wheat.

The four Kirchem brothers, from Upper Logan, have gone to southern Oregon for a hunting trip.

E. C. Gerber, accompanied by L. O.

Gerber, came near having a fatal auto-street car collision at Gray's Crossing on the 12th owing to the failure of the electric signal to give warning. Mr. Gerber had presence of mind enough to turn sharply and that saved their lives, the rear of the car being shattered.

We hear the company will make the damage good.

We hear that Thomas Eaden has bought the Balsmuir place.

Several progressive and public spirited citizens have been working, under the leadership of Bert Corless, on the lower Logan school gymnasium and community hall, which seems to promise to be a valuable asset to the district.

PROPOSED NEW BUILDING OF PRICE BROTHERS WHICH WILL BE COMPLETED BY APRIL FIRST

The new building that Price Brothers are to erect on the recently leased property on the corner of Seventh and Main streets, is shown in the photograph above. The lease was signed a few days ago by the church trustees which provides that Price Brothers have leased the site for a term of fifteen years, the consideration involving approximately the sum of fifteen thousand dollars. The contract has been let for the building to John Alamer who has agreed to have it ready for occupation by the firm not later than the first of April. The structure will face a front of 130 feet on Seventh street and 66 feet on Main street and two stories in height, the lower floor to be retained by the firm, the upper by the Methodist Episcopal church. The front of the building will hold huge bay windows while the outside walls will be finished in flexo tile, the interior will be a white ivory finish. Above the lower floor will be a mezzanine floor which will be given over to the women's dress department, fitting room and tailor shop, connected to the first floor by a wide stairway. On the mezzanine will also be a rest room for the patrons of the firm. The inverted lights will be used throughout the building and all the roads will be enclosed in glass show cases. The firm has at this early date placed their orders for their opening stock so that upon the completion of the building they will be prepared with a suitable line to at once open for business.

Mr. Alamer, the contractor, is rushing orders for his material with the full expectation of having the structure completed by the date set, April 1st, and will if possible employ nothing but home labor. It is the intention of Price Brothers to have their opening about the date of the Diamond Jubilee of the Methodist Episcopal church which will be held sometime near
